New York, June 23.—The Journal publishes this morning the following special cable despatch from London: The Daily News says: "It is months since the Government made any substantial communication to Parjament on the subject of Venezuela. What is the cause of this extraordinary delay in settling this three-cornered problems." It can only be the subject.

To-night's Promenade Cencert.

The musical program for this evening in the old Upper Canada College grounds promises to be a very attractive one. Besides the famous battle piece, instrumental solos and the latest musical novelties, will be given the ballet music from "William Tell" by Rossini and a grand national fantasia representing episodes in a soldier's life. The grounds are in splendid condition, and should prove a great attraction in the cool of the evening.

Theory without practice is ditched in losses. Visions create ideals, but are misleading when applied to materialism and prices. This store gets down to hard pan, matter-of-fact, daily money-saving business with every shopper. One reason for its great success.

SPECIAL SALE IN STAMPED GOODS.

Perhaps every lady does not realize the particular attention this store gives to fancy work and the especial attention paid to stamping. Here all the latest and newest designs-and every order attended to with so much promptness-and you never knew prices to be so low. You get a suggestion of what fancy art work means with us by a glance at one of the Yonge street windows—a window that is attracting the attention of every lover of art. First-class work is given you in embroidery-done by expert artists. China painting is also a specialty in the department. Now for the practical-some prices, that are special, to effect a June clearing in most desirable goods: Stamped Cake D'Oylies... 15c each
