A COMMON SENSE FARM TRACTOR

You can plow five acres a day sitting in your Ford car or roadster. With proper gear reduction the Ford will pull a double-furrow gang, turning over 24 inches, and making a furrow six inches deep. This work can be done week in and week out in stiff clay without putting any unusual strain on the engine or chassis. During the Western Fair make it a point to see the Staude Mak-a-Tractor pulling a double-bottom gang plow on the farm of A. E. Dale, on the London and Lake Eric Radial, one and a half miles out of London. Go down any time and satisfy yourself on the subject of common-sense farm traction. Over 30,common-sense farm traction. Over 30,-000 farmers have purchased and are using the Staude Mak-a-Tractor, and still have their Fords available at any time for ordinary touring purposes; $295 gives you a dependable farm trachear some word of her son, an oil driller, who was in Russia at the time war broke out.

Mrs. Woisey has not had the scratch of a pen from her son since war broke out. He had been working in the oil fields for years, and is possibly quite safe, but she has been worried.

Mr. McGarvey, who is now at the residence of Mr. Scandrett, $35 Richmond street, said to The Advertiser that he knew one Mr. Woisey quite well. If this was the son referred to in the letter he was quite safe.

"I believe it is Thomas Wolsey to whom reference is made," said Mr. McGarvey. "He is all right, although I haven't seen him for four or five years. He is at Kiakent in the province of Dagestan on the Caspian Sea. He is married and the property which he was with has not been operated for ten years, but he has stayed with it, and is no doubt there now. If he hasn't written home it is quite probable that he hasn't done so for years and doesn't think there is any cause to worry. He lives a sort of hermit's life now, staying with the oid property all by himself."

That to have an unsealed bottle of whisky in one's possession on the said bottle is only in the hands of the accused for a few seconds while taking a drink, is a breach of the Ontario temperance act, according to the interpretation placed by Magistrate A.
