May Go Home. SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 11—The government announces that it will not interfere in the coal strike begun this week. Factories all over the country have been forced to close, and more will do so if the situation is not relieved. The price of coal within the last 12 hours has gone from $12 to $16 per to the period of the opening of the house yesterday, and will be one of the debutantes presented at the viceregal drawing-room saturday evening. Miss Lennox will remain at the capital for some weeks. Whiss Edith Cross is leaving to-day for Ottawa, where she will attend the drawing-room.

J-KERSHAND SAVED Mr. Wm. Burdett, of 198 Simcoe

St., East, Hamilton, Ont., is employed at the works of the Canadian Westinghouse Co. He says :- "A heavy mould was being rolled over when it caught my hand. The result was a terrible crush, and by next morning my hand was black, and so stiffened, swollen and painful I could not use it. We applied liniment, and bandaged it, thinking it would soon be all right again-but it wasn't! For some time it showed no sign of getting better but on the contrary looked like turning to a very ugly injury.

"My wife persuaded me that Zam-Buk would do me more good than anything else, and I began to try it. Zam-Buk seemed to penetrate to the very core of the injured muscles and ligaments, taking healing and ease with it. It soothed the pain, reduced the swelling, and removed the discoloration. In a week's time it had so acted on the injury that the hand was nearly normal again and I could go to work once more. It is now quite

HIS WIFE CURED OF DISFIGURING ECZEMA!

The above case is only one instance of the benefit which the Burdett family has reaped from Zam-Buk. Mr. Burdett's wife owes her cure of eczema to the same healing balm. She says: "The disease broke out on my face in the form of red pimples and blotches which itched terribly, and when rubbed, burned and smarted very much. The pustules then spread and formed sores. These were at times very painful, they itched until I could hardly bear, and when touched turned sore. I tried review the property of the proper sore. I tried various things, one after another, as they were recommended to me, but seemed unable to get any relief. Ordinary ointments and salves were quite unequal to my case.

Then I tried Zam-Buk although at the time I hardly thought it could cure me. I thought it was just an ordinary balm. To my delight I was soon convinced otherwise. A few applications gave me considerable ease, and the burning, smarting pains grew less acute. As I persevered with the treatment the patches grew less in extent and the sores ceased to be to painful. In a week's time the eczema was well under control and healing splendidly, and to-day I am free from it entirely. Zam Buk has effected a permanent cure, I feel sure, and I am very grateful for it."

ZAM-BUK FOR CHILDREN'S HURTS.

Mrs. Burdett has a word to say on the value of Zam-Buk as a balm for the delicate and tender skin of children. Every mother should note this. She says:
⁴ Zam-Buk is especially useful where there are children. It seems to heal their cuts and wounds and scratches in wonderful form. Almost as soon as applied, it ends the pain and smarting and gives the little ones ease. I would not like to be without it in the house."

WHAT ZAM-BUK IS AND WHAT IT CURES.

Zam Buk is a balm composed entirely of healing herbal essences. It is free from the rancid animal fats and poisonous mineral substances found in ordinary salves and ointments. Unlike these it nover goes rancid, never stains, but is always sweet, pure and fresh. It cures cuts, burns and scalds; heals ulcers, abscesses, poisoned wounds, chapped hands, frost bite, cold sores, etc. Rubbed on to the chest in cases of cold it ends the feeling of tightness and aching. It is also a cure for piles. All stores and druggists sell at 50c a box or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price,
