Gains of From 1 to 4 Points in the Cobalts, But There is Little Increase in Activity.

World Office, Friday Evening, July 15. Mining securities on the local exchanges showed further improvement to-day, values in several instances advancing from one to three points. There was not much increase in activity despite the appreciation in values and the movement was only attributable to the fact that offerings were more limited than has been the case of late, and, consequently, it was somewhat In the lower-priced issues considerable strength was shown by such stocks as Chambers-Ferland, which advanced to 21, Timiskaming, which gained two and a half points at 63 1-2, and Peterson Lake, which was up over a point, at 20.

and Peterson Lake, which was up over a point, at 20.

Beaver, City of Cobalt and Rochester were up from half to onee point, wille Cobalt Lake was also higher, the rather inactive.

The higher-priced issues joined in the movement to a moderate extent, Kerr Lake touching 80 and La Rose gaining four points at $4.04. Crown Reserve held around yesterday's level.

It is altogether probable that some It is altogether probable that some of the buying to-day was due to short covering. It has been felt for some time that a short interest existed in certain of the Cobalt securities and to-day's market clearly showed that any campaign against the shorts easily meant higher levels.

Conlarge Substantial Mining Being Done. Playfair, Martens & Co., say, in their market letter: The Cobalt market con-tinues dull and unsatisfactory, with the whole list showing slight declines. Trading is limited, and the public generally disinterested, while the camp itself is doing more substantial mining than ever in its history. The total for the first six months of the year is 14. specified a specified and specified are specified as a little over 400 tons decrease from the corresponding period of 1909. The decrease in tonnage, however, is amply made up by the increase in values shipped during the first six months, and it is believed that they will show an increase of nearly a a million and a half ounces for this period.

Many holders of Cobalt stocks are inclined to believe that the decline Silver Queen in their particular security is due to Trimiskaming some condition within the property of the company itself; while this may or may not be true in some cases, we may not be true in some cases, we believe the decline is not due to any specific cause within the particular company, but rather to the general condition shared by the whole camp. Holders of Cobalt stocks should get some comfort from the fact that the camp intrinsically is worth more than it ever was, and there is no falling off in the production of earnings of the standard companies.

THE COBALT STOCKS

Cobalt Stocks will sell much higher about the end of the summer months The present stuation can be compared to two years ago, when everybody thought there was no bottom to the market. Stocks may sell a shade lower, but we can assure our clients that during the past week there have been more buyers than sellers. There may be a slight reaction, or the appearance of stagnation. If so, seize the opportunity to buy. You can make no mistake in buying some of the low-priced stocks now.
