

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

STILL OUT OF A JOB

G.T.R. Strikers at Hamilton Who Haven't Been Re-Engaged.

HAMILTON, Aug. 22.—All is not yet peace between the Grand Trunk Railway and the local men who went on strike. Four prominent members of the local union have not been reinstated, although their positions have been vacated by strike breakers since the settlement. The present outlook is that it will be many more than three months before they receive any kind of a position with the Grand Trunk Railway.

About a dozen strike breakers have been retained. These have been given good positions, both in the yards and on the trains, and are smart railroad men. The leader of the local strike breakers is assistant yardmaster, while with one exception all the minor offices around the yard are filled by men who refused to go on strike or those that were brought in to quell it. Very few of the strikers that were re-engaged were put back in their old positions. All were engaged in new men and had to take whatever position they were assigned.

There is a rumor among local railway men that Thomas Todd, who was chairman of the strike of the local union, will be given a position in the union. Mr. Todd is at present out of the city on the union's business.

Daniel Phelan, a local member of the grievance committee, is presently waiting with the other men still out for the call to return to duty. The other men still out are Messrs. Gibson and Frost.

New Boat Service.

The board of control this morning considered a letter from T. M. Kirkwood, vice-president of the Hamilton Rolling Mills Company, Toronto, asking the city to guarantee six per cent. interest on $50,000 worth of bonds to start a new freight and passenger boat service between Hamilton and Montreal. Mr. Kirkwood had hopes that Toronto, Kingston, Cobourg, Belleville and other lake shore cities would jointly guarantee the bonds. The controllers took no action on the offer.

THE SPANISH CRISIS

Premier Canalejas Explains It for the American People.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—In a cable message to The Times, Premier Canalejas of Spain says:

"It is altogether a mistake to suppose that I am the sort of progressive who wants to force new methods upon a population not prepared for them. Such action would be shortsighted and dangerous. It is not the policy of the Spanish Government. Liberal opinion in a great growth of the last election in this country and at the last election we had a great majority. The government is confident in the continued support of the country in its policy."

"What is called the religious question in Spain is not a struggle against fanaticism and religion. It is merely and temporarily the strain in the working out of a problem of recovering the civil law of the state certain faculties which have been allowed to lapse."

"I have every hope for a future of perfect religious liberty and the right of conscience, and I hope to maintain cordial and respectful relations with the church."

"With reference to the social aspects of the situation, Spain is a country which, so to speak, has passed rapidly from the age of illumination by the oil lamp to the age of illumination by electricity. The introduction of modern ideas has caused some disturbances, just as electric currents might cause some explosions. My task is that of providing and propagating an appropriate channel for the new social currents and directing them in a form useful to society."

"That is my attitude, and that will be the direction of the campaign for social legislation, which I trust to undertake when parliament reopens in October next."

SUES TO GET MONEY BACK

Ex-Members for Halifax County Have Fallen Out.

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—Two ex-members for Halifax County will figure in a case in the supreme court in the near future, as the result of a disagreement.

Michael Carney, ex-member of parliament, has brought action against Senator Wm. Roche, for the recovery of $4400. According to the writ of summons, "the plaintiff claims for money paid by the plaintiff for the use of defendant at his request, and being the amount due by defendant to plaintiff upon an account signed and agreed upon between the plaintiff and the defendant." There is also a claim for costs.

The writ was served by W. H. Fulton, acting for Mr. Carney. Roche and Carney were the Liberal candidates, who were defeated by Borden and Crosby last Dominion election.

WORRIED MAN SUICIDES

Harry Grist of North Bay Despondent Over Sick Child.

NORTH BAY, AUG. 22.—(Special.)—The body of Harvey S. Grist, 50 years old, was washed ashore in Lake Nipissing this morning, near the government wharf. Grist leaves a young wife and infant child.

Yesterday the child was very ill, and after returning to the doctor's office, after a visit to the doctor's office, Grist left the house about midnight, without saying anything to his wife, and it is supposed walked deliberately to the wharf and committed suicide, and was temporarily insane. He had been exceedingly worried about the sick child. Grist came originally from Bracebridge and had resided in North Bay, Ont., only two weeks.

Frank Calvello, Italian sectionman, on the C.P.R. was struck by a train near Moore Lake Station, and instantly killed.

ART AT THE FAIR

Canadian Pictures Will Be Kept to the Fore.

In connection with the art display at the Canadian National Exhibition, which opens next week, the fact must not be overlooked that while many noble specimens of British and French painting will be displayed, Canadian art will not be ignored. The art gallery will contain a number of the very finest specimens of the work of leading Canadian artists. That Canadian art is not to be sneezed at is demonstrated by the fact that in Liverpool at the present time an exhibition of Canadian pictures is in progress which has been seen in the other leading cities of England. The exhibition of Canadian pictures in England is largely made up of paintings which have been seen in past years at the Canadian National Exhibition. This year's showing will be fully up to the high standard of former years.

COOK GIVES HIMSELF UP ON A SHOOTING CHARGE

Couldn't Get His Month's Wages Until the Case Was Cleared Up—Claims Self-Defence.

Rather than give up six months' pay which had been withheld until the expense of caring for his victim could be deducted, William George Glen, a cook at the C.N.O. Railway Construction camp at Stevens bridge, near Bowmanville, gave himself up to the Toronto police, upon what he expected would be a charge of shooting with intent to kill David Appleman, the camp foreman.

The shooting occurred just a week ago yesterday, and Glen says that a peddler came to the camp and Appleton wanted to buy a revolver. He lacked 25 cents of the price and wanted to borrow it from Glen. Glen refused either to lend it or to take it out of the Appleman money, and says at his head and fired. The revolver struck the peddler in the head and tore the ribbons. He then pulled his own revolver and shot Appleman in the right arm. He left the camp and hid in a barn. The police found him yesterday with a girl and he gave himself up.

The Bowmanville police had been told by those at the camp that the shooting was an accident and no warrant had been issued, but Glen was charged with the charge of shooting with intent to kill David Appleman, a member of the Coldstream guards. His hat bears marks which corroborate his version of the affair.

OPENING OF "GRAND" IS A GREAT SUCCESS

In Panama, a Novel Musical Comedy, Attracts Large Audience at the Popular Playhouse.

Looking as pretty as a picture, the Grand opened the season last evening with a light, airy, musical comedy, "In Panama." The entertainment is clean, breezy and bright, attractive also in its blend of tuneful music—some of it above the average in merit—with enough humor in the dialog and comedy in the situations, and sufficient interest also in the love scenes, besides much novelty in the incidents, as presented by the Klein Brothers, that will insure the hearty appreciation of audiences.

As last evening's performance was the first public appearance of the company this season, there naturally were a number of spots that needed a little more warming, but when these were brightened up the production will compare favorably with that presented here by the Rogers Brothers at high prices. The scenic equipment and costume display are bright; the choruses, composed of pretty girls, dancing and singing, and the principals are all capable people.

From the work of the comedians, the Klein Brothers, special mention should be made of the clever performance given by Sybil Brennan, Miss Marleneau and Miss Pandleton, the two latter making a decided hit in a topical song with the comedians. The versatility of the chorus is shown in a song number, where individuals sing a number of different parts, personating all nationalities. It is cleverly presented, and is one of the features of the performance. Among the catchy song numbers are: "Way Down in the Colon Town," "Neath the Old Palm Trees," "Where the White Light Shines," "I Could Learn to Love You When You Smile" and the "Toreador." These numbers were enthusiastically enjoyed and last night's performance was extended beyond the usual time limit.

"In Panama" is an appropriate offering for the opening of the season, and should prove a strong attraction at the Grand all week, and especially at the matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

At the Royal Alexandra

Miss Haswell's Farewell Week.

For the closing week of their very successful summer season, the Percy Haswell Players presented last night at the Royal Alexandra, that funny farce by Sydney Grundy, "Arabian Nights." If ever an audience was dissolved in laughter, that which crowded the theatre to the doors could hardly have been the result. The farce is in texture, it is cleverly disguised by the skill of the accomplished playwright. For the episodes that invade the plot, the entertainment is not so extravagant as the motive as to disturb the genuine delight excited by the amusing unfolding of the dilemma into which an innocent child is led after his tour of inspection in a London Park.

Miss Haswell, as Rose (Colombier), the beautiful, dark-haired girl, suited her artistic nerve and lighted up her face with a smile. Miss Angela Allen made an admirable Mrs. Gilleran. Miss Rachel Brown played Hemmingway with taste and skill. Miss Hilson as the ward, and Miss Lillian Keller as Barbara were both excellent. Mr. Gordon was seen to excellent advantage in the role of Hemmingway's brother, Captain John. Mr. Fawcett as Ralph Ormerod; Thomas V. Blumery as Joshua and Bryant Washburn as Dodson.

The farce was beautifully staged and recited were so insistent that Miss Haswell had again to make personal acknowledgement. It is understood that Miss Haswell will return to the Royal Alexandra next season, and it is safe to say she will be warmly welcomed. "Arabian Nights" will be offered during the week with the usual matinee performance in the regular season will open with W. A. Brady's new play "Mother," by Jules Eckert Goodman, and for the public convenience a branch box office will again be available at the office of the Bell Piano Company.

At Shea's

Fun and Music.

Mirth is the salient feature of the big show at Shea's New Theatre this week, which pleased two capacity audiences yesterday. "A Night at the Monkeys" is a great thing for the kiddies. A whole vaudeville performance is given by similar performers, and there have been a lot of humans who fall short of these animal entertainers in the finish of their work and the merit of their offerings.

Harry Fox and the Miller Sisters have one of the brightest little bits that have been offered. "Artistic Odalisques" is what they call it, and it is both old and artistic.

Gene Greene & Co. are billed as "singing some songs," and they are some songs. "Co." is a talented pianist.

Hugh Lloyd is certainly an artist on the wire. His stunts are sensational and amusing.

Amy Ricard and Lester Loneragan present a dainty little sketch, "An Ideal of Erin." Lester wrote it, and it is as bright as these little things of his always have been.

Cook and Lorenz as "Two Millionaires" have a bright and snappy line of patter.

Then there is Bothwell Browne, with "The Millionaire's Daughter."

A Great Burlesque Show.

What is probably the best burlesque show that has ever been presented in Toronto is that which opened at
