Marguerite listened—half dazed as she was—to the fast-retreating, firm footsteps of the four men. All nature was so still that she, lying with her ear close to the ground, could distinctly trace the sound of their tread, as they ultimately turned into the road, and presently the faint echo of the old cart-wheels, the halting gait of the lean nag, told her that her enemy was a quarter of a league away. How long she lay there she knew not. She had lost count of time; drowsily she looked up at the moonlit sky, and listened to the monotonous roll of the waves.

The invigorating scent of the sea was nearer to her wearied body, the immensity of the lonely cliffs was silent and dreamlike. Her brain only remained conscious of its ceaseless, its intolerable torture of uncertainty. She did not know!— She did not know if Percy was even now, at this moment, in the hands of the soldiers of the Republic, enduring—as she had done herself—the gibes and jeers of his malicious enemy. She did not know, on the other hand, whether Armand's lifeless body did not lie there, in the hut, whilst Percy had escaped, only to hear that his wife's hands had guided the husband bloodhounds to the murder of Armand and his friends.

The physical pain of weariness was so great, that she hoped contentedly her tired body would rest here for ever, after all the turmoil, the passion, and the intrigues of the last few days—here, beneath that clear sky, within sound of the sea, and with this balmy autumn breeze whispering to her a last lullaby. All was so solitary, so silent, like unto dream, that even the faintest echo of the distant cart had long died away, afar.

Suddenly... a sound... the strange, undisturbed, that these lonely cliffs of France had ever heard, drove the silent solemnity of the shore. So strange a sound was it, that the gentle breeze ceased to murmur, the tiny pebbles to roll down the steep incline. So strange, that Marguerite, wearied, overwrought as she was, thought that the beneficial unconsciousness of the approach of death was playing her half-sleeping senses a weird and elusive trick.

It was the sound of a good, solid, absolutely British "Damm"! The sea gulls in their nests awoke and looked around in astonishment; a distant and solitary owl set up a midnight hoot; the tall cliffs frowned down majestically at the strange, unheard-of sacrifice. Marguerite did not trust her ears. Half-raising herself on her hands, she strained...

"Percy! Percy! ... my husband! she gasped, faint with the fulness of her joy. "Thank God! Thank God!" "My dear," he rejoined, good-humoredly, "we will both do that anon, as you think you can loosen these damned ropes, and release me from my inelegant attitude."

It was very obvious that he was exhausted from sheer physical pain, and when at last the gods gave way, he fell in a heap against the rock. (To be continued.)

Wilson's Invalids' Port. A glass three times a day—and so retains the springing step—the clear brain—the happy heart—which result from pure, rich, red blood. This bracing tonic gives her perfect health and energy to carry her successfully through the months of wearing study.

IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS AT CLOSING OF WORLD'S W. C. T. U.

Boston, Oct. 20.—Amid great enthusiasm the triennial convention of the World's Christian Temperance Union and the greatest convention that organization has had in its history, since it was formed in this city fifteen years ago, came to an end late today. The following officers elected today, will serve during the next three years:

President, the Countess of Carlisle, Castle Howard, York, England. Vice-presidents at large, Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, Portland (Me.); Honorary secretaries, Miss Agnes E. Slack, Ripley, England; Miss Anna A. Gordon, Edinburgh. Treasurer, Mrs. Mary E. Sanderson, Danville, Quebec.

The matter of the next meeting place was left to the executive committee, consisting of the officers, invitations having been received to the Sydney (N. S. W.), London and Glasgow.

Members of the union from all parts of the world have attended the convention, which officially opened on Thursday, Tremont Temple, where the sessions have been held, has been elaborately draped with flags of all nations and the symbolic white ribbon, and portraits of departed leaders in the union have occupied places on the wall above the platform. On every one of the three days of the convention the great auditorium has been crowded, hundreds of visitors occupying the balconies.

The executive committee then presented the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, that we reaffirm our adherence to the principle of total abstinence as the corner stone of our organization, and we are greatly encouraged by the increasing volume of scientific and physiological evidence in support of this position, which is in harmony with the spirit of Christ's teaching."

"Resolved, that we believe in an equal standard of purity for men and women, and that standard always the highest."

"Resolved, that we are opposed to all state regulation of vice and shall endeavor to secure in all countries legal protection for the innocent and defenseless and impartial punishment for all offenders."

"Whereas, the action of the second league conference may do much to diminish poverty, distress and injustice between nations, therefore, Resolved, that we earnestly petition the King of Great Britain, the president of the United States and the official heads of each other government in the world to use their influence to support the resolution, were the late international conference to the end that there be established a general arbitration treaty, a peacemaking assembly, immunitary on private property, sea in time of war, the reference of international disagreements to an impartial tribunal of investigation, before declaration of war, and a proportionate limitation of armaments."

"Resolved, that the members of the World's Christian Temperance Union be urged to study the significance of these specific measures and to arouse discussion on them on the part of clergy, teachers, editors, business men and all other persons of influence."

"Whereas, the liquor traffic in all nations is the great foe to righteousness in the individual, the home, the church and the state, we hereby declare our opposition to all forms of license, whether high or low, state control or public management, and we reaffirm our belief in the principle that the prohibition is the ultimate solution of the liquor problem, and that we will not cease our efforts until in all lands law and custom shall unite to overthrow the liquor traffic."

"Whereas, the ballot is the mightiest weapon in a representative government for the defense of the home, and, therefore, we are opposed to any law which restricts the franchise for women on the same terms as men."

In addition, the executive committee presented the customary resolutions of the convention, which were adopted as follows:

"Resolved, that the members of the World's Christian Temperance Union be urged to study the significance of these specific measures and to arouse discussion on them on the part of clergy, teachers, editors, business men and all other persons of influence."

"Resolved, that the members of the World's Christian Temperance Union be urged to study the significance of these specific measures and to arouse discussion on them on the part of clergy, teachers, editors, business men and all other persons of influence."

This is Sir William Van Horne's Advice at the Laurentide Company's Meeting.

(Montreal Herald, Wednesday.)

At the annual meeting of the Laurentide Paper Company, held yesterday afternoon, Sir William Van Horne expressed the opinion that the American manufacturers of paper were coming to Canada and displacing our forests. The Laurentide Company, which is a Canadian enterprise, is now producing paper in Canada, so as to preserve their own supply of raw materials.

The reports of the company, which were presented at the meeting, showed that the Laurentide Company had a net profit of $1,000,000 for the year ending on the 31st of December. The company's assets were valued at $10,000,000, and its liabilities at $5,000,000.

MANY TRIBUTES OF RESPECT AND LOVE FOR MISS J. E. MCKELVEY

A large concourse of sorrowing friends attended the funeral of Miss J. E. McKelvey, only daughter of John McKelvey, of the customs department, yesterday afternoon.

The funeral was held at the residence of the deceased, 100 St. John Street, at 2 o'clock. The Rev. A. G. Graham, of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral. The burial took place in the Mount Pleasant cemetery at 3 o'clock.

The early ending of a bright young life will be felt keenly by Miss McKelvey's friends. She was a devoted daughter and a valued member of the Laurentide Paper Company.

WEDDINGS Held-Cole. Miss Dorothy Cole, daughter of Captain R. C. Cole, of this city, was married in Boston on the 21st inst. to Dr. Werner Von Reidl, a practicing physician in Brooklyn (N. Y.).

MAY NOT HAVE MOTOR CARS ON I.C.R. Monoton, N. B., Oct. 21.—G. R. Joughlin, mechanical superintendent of the I. C. R., arrived home Saturday from a two months' trip to Paris, where he went with a view to purchasing motor cars for use in the I. C. R. suburban service between St. John and Hampton and other sections of the road.

SAD DROWNING IN NOVA SCOTIA Halifax, N. S., Oct. 21.—Three brothers, sons of Freeman Young, of Dover, were drowned on their way in a sailboat from Ingonport to over.

MARGARET ANGLIN'S ADMIRER IN ASYLUM New York, Oct. 21.—Alfred Freund, a young man from St. Louis, who is alleged to have been following Margaret Anglin around the country for two years, and spending his money for bouquets and orchestra seats at her performances, has been adjudged insane by Dr. Gregory in charge of Bellevue's Psychopathic ward, where Freund has been confined for the past week.

OBITUARY The news of the death of Emil Hansen, which took place at his residence, 9 Magazine street, yesterday, after a short illness, will be heard with regret by his many friends. Mr. Hansen was the youngest son of the late Hans Christian Hansen, of Copenhagen, Denmark, and was forty-five years of age. He married Teresa Williams, of Paradise Row, and a sister of Mrs. Wm. Nansbury, of California, who is the mother of the well known actress, May Nansbury. Had Mr. Hansen lived until today he would have been twenty-one years married. He is survived by his wife and nine children, the oldest of whom is a daughter in her twentieth year. Mr. Hansen, by profession, was a painter, but he was able to turn his hands to many kinds of employment. For some time previous to his being taken sick he had been working for the Rockporters' Fathers on St. Peter's church. Mr. Hansen was a man who made many friends and much sympathy will be felt for his family on their bereavement.

HON. P. G. RYAN DIED YESTERDAY AT FREDERICTON

Fredericton, Oct. 21.—Hon. P. G. Ryan, ex-chief commissioner of public works, died at his late residence, here at 8 o'clock this evening. He was a sufferer from Bright's disease and had been in delicate health since last May and has appeared very little in public since that time.

Mr. Ryan was in his sixty-ninth year and had served in his work formerly as Minister of Public Works, and as Minister of the Interior. He was married forty-six years ago. One sister, Miss Mary Ryan, resides at Bathurst. The body will be interred at the Hermitage here, but the date of the funeral has not yet been fixed.

The water in the river has been falling rapidly for the past few days and it is doubtful if all the logs now below Grand Falls will be got into the booms before navigation closes. Contractor Moore is now near the mouth of the Annapolis with about 5,000,000 feet but is not making very rapid progress. It is likely that a large quantity of the lumber on hand will be stored for the winter. Large quantities will also be stored at Douglas boom.

HE IS CORRECT Dr. Hamilton Proves That Piles Are Caused by Constipation And Strong Cathartics.

Knowing the frequency with which people suffer from this ailment, Dr. Hamilton made an exhaustive study into the cause of piles.

It is found that the lower part of the bowels is like a network of blood-vessels, and if subjected to persistent pressure, a section will bulge out and form what is commonly known as piles.

The only effective mode of curing this trouble is the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which can be taken before retiring. Next day will bring wonderful relief.

"I suffered up to about the limit of human endurance with piles," writes Miss Loedel, of Cornwall, Ont. "I was employed in a factory here, but for a while had to give up work till I got better of this trouble. I read in the Montreal Herald about Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and after using them for two weeks was cured. I can recommend these pills very highly; there are none better. They at once relieve and prevent a constipated condition of the bowels, and from experience can be depended upon as a perfect safeguard against piles. Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, I am sure, would be a benefit to every girl or woman."

Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and your system will be regenerated, revitalized, and made proof against disease.

Good for men, excellent for women, and most effective for children. All ages and both sexes find Dr. Hamilton's Pills marvelous medicine. Although active, they do not gripe or cause inconvenience, still they cleanse and purify the system, thereby maintaining a high standard of health. Sold by all druggists, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, or by mail, from N. C. Posen and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A. and Kingston, Ont.

SCOTCH SETTLERS FOR NOVA SCOTIA DIGBY, N. S., Oct. 18.—Options are being taken on a large number of abandoned farms on the North Mountain in Kings county, by persons in close touch with the provincial government, to whom it is believed they will be sold, in connection with a scheme for bringing out Scotch settlers to the province. For some two years now, the boards of trade have been urging government action in regard to the securing of permanent settlers, and the government declared itself ready to give consideration to any scheme which promised a successful issue. The trouble hitherto has been that old countrymen coming to Nova Scotia were unmercifully fleeced, as their land mania led them to purchase most unpromising farms, at exorbitant prices. The present plan would obviate this difficulty.

Mrs. William Hurley, of Halifax, who has been visiting friends here, has returned home. He was not a local lawyer, and seemed willing to lavish his affections on any number of girls. He spoiled a great deal of paper writing ditties to girls whom for the moment he thought he worshipped. Freund has been sent to a private sanitarium.

While in Bellevue Hospital, Freund talked of his love for Miss Anglin and other women to anyone who would listen to him. He was not a local lawyer, and seemed willing to lavish his affections on any number of girls. He spoiled a great deal of paper writing ditties to girls whom for the moment he thought he worshipped. Freund has been sent to a private sanitarium.

Mrs. Robertson, wife of Dr. Robt. Robertson, returned home Saturday from a visit to friends in Boston.
