A feature of the Grand Lodge sessions tomorrow will be the presentation of medals to members who have fifty years of membership in the Order. Since January 1 six members have qualified for these medals, but it is not known how many will be actually presented to receive them. CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS ADOPTED

Ladies' Morning Musical Club Has Interesting Meeting; Future Plans

The Ladies' Morning Musical Club at its meeting yesterday afternoon in the Church of England Institute adopted a constitution and by-laws. A special committee, with Mrs. F. A. Godsoe as convener, and Mrs. A. E. Massie and Mrs. M. H. B. Good, as members presented a draft form for the constitution and by-laws, and the various clauses were taken under consideration, a few amendments being made.

The club has decided to welcome as guests at its meetings members of the musical clubs of other cities who are staying in Saint John, not limiting their attendance to one meeting only. Special emphasis was laid on the regulation that membership tickets were not transferable. Mrs. F. J. Hodgson, president, was in the chair. Mrs. M. H. B. Good submitted the financial statement, the meeting decided to omit sending of flowers in future and to extend sympathies and courtesies only by letter.

The annual meeting is to be held on the first Wednesday in May, and it was decided that five committees would be appointed to consist of a program committee to censor programs and to decide who are to be performing; members, a room committee, a vocal committee, an instrumental committee and a concert committee which will arrange for visiting artists.

Don't Let the Price Tag Do All the Talking

It is a great injustice to goods of genuine quality, when a customer succumbs to the argument of lower price without knowing the whole truth. But it is a greater injustice to the customer also.

When the whole truth is told, Sani-Bilt Furniture really costs less than any other upholstered living room furniture on the Canadian market. Comparing dollar for dollar value is cheaper than any other.

Sani-Bilt Furniture has a larger output than any other upholstered furniture manufactured in this country, therefore, its manufacturing costs are less, and its selling price is less to the trade, and the retail dealer can sell it for less than he can sell other goods of similar construction.

Furthermore, Sani-Bilt Furniture is sold at a range of prices to suit all ordinary financial circumstances and every requirement of good taste.

"Cheapness" is No Guide

There may be Chesterfield Suites with strikingly designed and colored cover fabrics, offered at prices apparently cheaper than for Sani-Bilt Suites covered in quieter, and perhaps more refined taste. But these "cheaper" suites are not guaranteed. Is it fair to compare cheap, old "renovated," rubbishy stuffings to new fresh sterilized, sanitary fillings such as used and guaranteed by Sani-Bilt?

Is it fair to compare rough, second-grade lumber to clear, solid, well-finished No. 1 hardwood, such as used in the Sani-Bilt frames? Or rough-and-ready slip-stud carpentry to rigid, screwed, glued and corner-blocked joinery—the sound construction—guaranteed by Sani-Bilt?

Is it fair to yourself as it is fair to Sani-Bilt when an insignificant difference in price overlooks the extra number and quality of the Sani-Bilt, oil-tempered, steel coil springs, and the extra security by which the stout cross-tied cords hold them upright in their proper place? Doubtless you have shuddered at the "humps and hollows of poverty" such as disgrace cheap Chesterfields after a few years' wear, when the springs begin to lean and sag. The extra springs give Sani-Bilt Furniture much longer life. It stands up.

Look for the Guarantee

Above all it is fair to yourself to buy a cheaper Chesterfield Suite sold under a guarantee limited to one year—perhaps under no guarantee at all to a Sani-Bilt, guaranteed without reserve, mothproof for life long! A cheap flashy brocade or a bold, striking tapestry design may soon cover a frightful nest of moths. Surface spraying with a poisonous solution is worse than no protection at all, because it gives a false security.

Read the Sani-Bilt guarantee. Sani-Bilt guaranteed furniture is more truly economical, whatever the price. It is absolutely and permanently mothproof. It is moth-proof inside, as well as out. It is solidly constructed and honestly upholstered with heavier quality of canvas webbing under the springs than any cheaper Chesterfield suites on the market. It offers the widest variety of artistic covering fabrics in Canada.

Look under the Snyder-Guaranteed Cushions for the Sani-Bilt label. The label and the guarantee are more important than the price tags, but Sani-Bilt is always the cheapest in the end, whatever the price tags.
