THE AMERICA CUP RACE.
Will Sir Thomas Lipton's wonderful Shamrock IV succeed in at last lifting the cup, or will he again go down to defeat before the Resolute. See the actual race vividly portrayed in P. A. Dykeman's big show window Thursday, July 15th.

COAL HANDLERS AND TRIMMERS.
Regular monthly meeting will be held at 14 Canterbury street Wednesday, July 14, at 7.30 p. m. By order of the president.

THE STREET RAILWAY.
The new street railway agreement here provides for an increase of ten cents an hour in wages, making the new base rate of fifty and fifty-five cents an hour instead of forty and forty-five. Ten cents an hour will be paid for all snow fighting work; ten cents while they are teaching a new man and ten cents an hour for Sunday work and time and a half for all overtime which includes all legal holidays.

A further agreement was made, signed by the same parties, whereby it is agreed by both the company and the employees that the one or two cars of the one-man type now under construction or ready for the rails, shall be given a demonstration run, and in the event that they prove satisfactory to the mayor, the city commissioners and to the general public, the employees will further negotiate with the company as to the safety and reasonableness of operation, and the wages and conditions of operation, of these new cars. In the event of no satisfactory settlement being made by the two parties on this matter, they both agree to submit the whole matter to a conciliation board, or to arbitration, under the Lemieux act.

Rev. Dr. A. D. Morton and Mrs. Morton of Sackville yesterday celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

HEARTS OF WORLD AT THE LYRIC

Delightful Love Story Effectively Contrasted with Realistic War Scenes.

An audience that filled the Lyric Theatre was alternately thrilled with patriotic impulses and moved to laughter and almost to tears by the screen presentation of "Hearts of the World" at the opening production last evening. The picture was heralded as D. Griffith's supreme masterpiece, and it well justified the title. Mr. Griffith's great spectacular screen productions have been seen here—such as "The Birth of a Nation," and "Intolerance," but none of them have played on the emotions as did the "Hearts of the World."
The story is a clever combination of old fashioned love and romance woven into the most terrific scenes of the great war of all times. There are charming pastoral interludes and delightful love scenes, which are sharply contrasted with scenes of blood and tragedy, illustrating in terrible fashion the graphic descriptive writing that has moved the hearts of everybody for the past four years.
Accompanying these are a series of scenes showing the grouping of the French and British forces for the beginning of the great conflict, the gathering of the Dominions, and the gradual concentration of the forces of civilization to down the brutalities of Berlin, the whole story bearing a distant relation to the delightful story "A Hilltop on the Marne," while worked out with much more dramatic effect.
It would be idle to attempt to describe the enormous wealth of incident and battle significance shown in the screen drama. Suffice it to say that the drama held the audience from start to finish, while even the many hardened movie devotees present, found themselves tense with excited interest, or breaking into involuntary applause, continually throughout the whole play. As an American production it was notable that the audience cheered it to the echo. It is a wonderful screen production, valuable as a work of art, more than valuable as an expression of the will of the able as an expression of the will of the
