CHAMPIONSHIPS MATCH BOOKED FOR ST. JOHN

Louis Nelson, Welterweight Champion of the World, Will Meet Bridson Greene in Opera House Monday Night.

For the first time in the history of this city a world's championship wrestling match will be staged in St. John next Monday evening in the Opera House between Louis Nelson, of New York, welterweight champion of the world, and Bridson Greene, champion of New England.

Greene and Nelson met in New York in March, 1919, and after one hour and twenty-two minutes Greene threw Nelson with a head scissor. They then wrestled for three hours and fifty-seven minutes without a fall and the match was declared a draw. Since that time no promoter has been able to get these two mat artists together. After three weeks of negotiations the match was booked by a local promoter and the big bout is on.

This championship match should be the most exciting ever witnessed in Canada as the men are evenly matched and two of the most scientific in the world. If you want to see this great attraction book your tickets now, for every fan in the city will want to be in attendance.

BUYING CANADIAN FLOUR

Considerable business has been done in government standard spring wheat flour for export account to the United States on the basis of $18 per barrel in June bags, and in addition to this there is a good inquiry from continental European buyers for supplies which will more than likely result in sales of some amount being made in the near future.

There is also a steady demand for this grade of flour from other sources, quite a few orders being received from lower province buyers and on the whole the trade in this respect is fairly active.

Of the 82,745,464 worth went to the United States, 83,763,955 to Great Britain, and 229,522 to other countries. Some extent of the value to which these exports have risen can be obtained from the fact that the value of the flour and skins in 1917 was $5,837,883. During the month of March, 1919, the value of these exports was $2,080,704 as compared with $1,429,168 in the corresponding month in 1918. It has been estimated that eighty per cent of the silver foxes of the world come from Canada.

MINISTER WINS CARNEGIE AWARD

Son of Rev. Dr. Clay, Well Remembered Here—News of Prominent Baptists.

(Maritime Baptist.)

Ltj. A. A. McLeod is being blessed in his work on the St. Mary's field, Kent county. Some ten or more have confessed faith in Christ, and it is the pastor's expectation that these will be received for baptism later.

Rev. W. Harry Freda is rejoicing in his work with the Clarendon street church, Boston. The passing years and the shifting of population have brought serious problems to this old and honored church. But these problems are being attacked in a spirit of courageous optimism, and the outlook is full of hope.

Rev. E. S. Mason, superintendent of home missions, passed through St. John last Friday. He was en route to his home in Wolfville, after having spent several weeks touring among the churches in New Brunswick. On the last part of his journey, up the St. John river, he was accompanied by the assistant superintendent, Rev. J. B. Gagnon, whose intimate knowledge of the field and the work in general helped make the tour a success.

A letter from Rev. Benjamin H. Nobles brings the welcome news that his health has considerably improved since he took up his residence in Texas. He has accepted a call to become acting pastor of the Beacon Hill Baptist church, San Antonio, but is still a little fearful that the constant grind of pastoral work may prove too much for his strength. His address, which we add for the information of his many friends, is 534 West Aguirre avenue, San Antonio, Texas.

We have just learned that Rev. R. B. Kinley is now making his home at Windsor, N. S., where he is spending winter with his son, Rev. F. Stewart Kinley. In addition to his own long life of service, rendered joyfully and faithfully into the Master, he has given two noble sons to the work of the gospel.

Rev. F. S. Kinley of Windsor, and Rev. E. A. Kinley of Newcastle. The elder son has but recently settled in the Chester church, and has just received notice from the Andrew Carnegie Hero Commission at Pittsburgh, Pa., that he has been awarded a bronze medal and $100 in cash for saving the lives of a mother and two children in a runaway.

The rescue took place in New York state on Dec. 1, 1916. The rescue called for grit and strength on the part of Mr. Kinley. Rushing to the centre of the street and throwing his overcoat off he took a chance on the horse-drawn carriage.
