SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.
The Ring.

BIG BETS ON THE BANTAMS.

So far as the Puritan Athletic Club is concerned the Dixon-McCarthy fight is off. That fact was established by the telegram received by Tom O'Rrurke yesterday,

"Have done all I can. Fight is off," wired Dick Roche, and the lovers of fistic sport must abide by the decision.

The Puritan club is dead, there can be no question of that. Two days before the battle was due to occur at the Puritan club, the Hudson County Athletic Club of Jersey City offered to bang up the $4000 purse if the battle could not be pulled off in Long Island. The Puritan club managers positively refused to treat with the other organization, and 3500 anxious fight followers were in consequence disappointed, and the Puritan club invited its own death.

Whether the boys will meet is now problematical. Yesterday Capt. Cooke wired the California club asking if it would offer a $4000 purse and advance expenses. No answer has yet been received.

Dixon jumped with joy when a dispatch was received from Jere Dunn yesterday offering to guarantee a purse of $4000 if the men would consent to fight before a club he would name. Tom O'Rourke immediately wired his acceptance, and in this quarter there seemed some probability of a meeting.

But it takes two men to make a fight, and McCarthy is an unknown quantity. He says he is anxious for battle. If he is, his backers are not. This is shown by the action of Dick Roche, who on Saturday drew down his $2000 which he had posted with Al Smith as McCarthy's stake.

If the little Jerseyman accepts Jere Dunn's offer the boys will probably meet at the Hudson County Atlantic Club within 10 days, but there will be no outside stake. Failing to agree on the Hudson club it is possible that they may go to 'Frisco, but it is extremely doubtful that they will fight at all unless they agree to Dunn's proposition.

Jimmy Wakeley, one of the managers of the Puritan Club, has offered as an individual, another way out of the difficulty.

First, he offered to be responsible on McCarthy's behalf for the $2000 bet that had been made between Joe Early and Tom O'Rourke.

Wakeley said he would bet that amount if Dixon would agree to box in private with the same gloves that were to have been used in Long Island City, or he would bet $4500 or $5000, as the Boston people preferred, that McCarthy could defeat Dixon with skin gloves, the fight to take place with but 10 a side at the ring side. He was willing to go almost anywhere, even to Boston, to have the dispute settled, and said so in a dispatch to O'Rourke.

McCarthy accepted Wakeley's offer, but O'Rourke is not so willing that Dixon should fight under those conditions. Skin gloves were all right, said he, but there was no money in sight.

"I Want it distinctly understood," said O'Rourke last night, "that I have no fear of the result of a skin glove fight, but unless a stake of $10,000 a side was wagered there wouldn't be enough money for the boys, and I don't believe there'd be a chance to win so much money in a ring fight. To settle this matter finally, there must be a purse. For a $4000 purse, with or without a purse, Dixon will fight anywhere, in public or private, with any gloves, at any time."

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

The Annual Meeting Last Evening—Encouraging Reports Read—Election of Officers, etc.

The annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city was held last night.

The report of the Educational and Literary Committee showed that good work had been done in the several educational classes and the Chautauqua circle in connection with the Association. Rev. Sam Small's lectures were reported very successful, and it was recommended that more lectures of this kind be arranged for in the future.

G. Mitchell, chairman of the committee for the visitation of the sick, reported that only two members had been reported sick and had been visited. 2,600 tracts had been distributed and there were 30 professed conversions in the association.

Frank White read an encouraging report for the physical culture committees of which he was chairman. The improvements in the gymnasium and the introduction of the running track were referred to. Two very successful exhibitions have been held in the gymnasium. The gymnasium attendence during the year was large, as the following figures show: The total membership of the business men's classes was 99. The average attendence was six. The young men's class had a membership of 92, and averaged 19. The boys' total membership is 50 and they averaged 22, while the girls' class had a total membership of twenty-four and averaged five.

The general secretary, Mr. A. W. McLeod's report was an interesting review of the year's work, and showed that many improvements had been made both as regards the building and the working of the several departments of the association. The formation of the Ladies Auxilliary was referred to, and although the prospects for the coming year being even more successful than the past seemed most encouraging.

NO FISH YET

The Herring and the Cod Later in Striking into the Bay than Ever Before, Brush Weir Fishing Destroying, the Fisheries.

No herring have yet been caught in the bay except a few in Dark harbor that were saved for bait. The codfish generally follow the herring in coming in so that as a consequence of there being no herring in the bay the codfish are also very scarce.

Years ago herring were plentiful in the bay at this season. They generally struck in early in January and often made their appearance before December had closed. In recent years the opening of the herring fishing season has been growing later in the season every year. Last year no herring were brought to St. John till the 5th of February and this year the 11th of February is here before a fresh herring is to be seen.

The situation is an alarming one to the fishermen, and a very general opinion prevails that unless some regulations are soon made, and are strictly enforced, for the protection of these fish the Bay of Fundy herring fisheries will soon be valueless. The extermination of the herring means also a large falling off in the catch of cod in the bay.

Various causes are assigned for the growing scarcity of herring in the bay but the principal reason appears to be the wholesale destruction of the young fish by the brush weirs which line the New Brunswick coast from Musquash harbor to St. Andrews bay. There are hundreds of these weirs and in them immense quantities of the young fish that strike close into the shore are captured. The largest of these little herring are sent to the sardine factories at Eastport and elsewhere and great quantities which are too small to be of use in any other way are either put into a press and have oil crushed out of them or are hauled on the land for manure. In past years the millions upon millions of the young herring with which the Bay of Fundy swarmed have been destroyed in this wholesale manner, and a prominent fish dealer Mr. James Patterson, told a GAZETTE reporter to day that unless the brush weir fishing was stopped the herring fisheries of the bay would be ruined altogether.

Lytell at the Institute.

The Institute was crowded to the doors last night to witness the production of "Hands Across the Sea" by the Lytell company, and for the first time in this city. The curtain did not go up on the first scene till about 8:45 o'clock, and the audience waited with abundant patience for three quarters of an hour. Some new members of average qualities have been added to the company since they last appeared here. The cast of this play comprises nineteen characters and consequently in some instances individual members doubled their parts. The large audience gave pronounced greetings to Mr. Lytell, Mr. Edwards, Miss Edwards and Miss Celesti as they severally appeared and other well known members of the company also were not without their share of recognition. The play as a whole is interesting in the working out of its details, but it is one in which the effects and the success depends materially upon the scenic and mechanical creations, all of which, new and clever in design and management as they are, were received with marked approbation. Mr. Edwards added another to his already substantial list of successes by his impersonation of Jack Dudley. This gentleman is ever earnest and painstaking, and has deservedly become a strong favorite in St. John. There is no doubt he will be cordially welcomed whenever he appears here in the future. Mr. Carl Smith's work as Jean De Lussac, the French gambler tout was also a careful and consistent impersonation, and this gentleman surprised everyone by his intensity in the scene where he denounces the man who had betrayed him.

Miss Olive West, who was announced to play the leading lady's role, did not materialize, and while a feeling of disappointment may have been at first expressed because of this fact, yet the audience soon were pleased to note that the role was entrusted to Miss Edwards and many felt and said it was very doubtful if any better satisfaction could be given in the character than was given by Miss Edwards, who is always so ladylike and refined and whose articulation is so agreeably distinct that it is a pleasure to see and hear her. Miss Celeste too, is always pleasant and has added to her friends in this city by her work in this play.

"Hands Across the Sea" will be given nightly until Friday evening inclusive and no doubt will be witnessed by a crowded house on each occasion.
