ARE WE TO BE CALLED CUBS?

A sensible American opinion of Canada—A well-kept secret—The Copyright section of the Copyright Act.

(Edith, N. Y., Times)

The people of Canada will speak and speak directly as to whether they desire to become a part and parcel of the United States or remain as they are.

There are two ways of looking at a question, respected gentlemen!

This is not a question entirely of ours or theirs. Apart from an inherited loyalty the Canadians are not much bothered with the crown banners.

The young Canada may sing God save the Queen with vigor, but he fairly boils over when he hears the Maple Leaf for ever.

On both sides of the line those who are not in the van, he'll prefer to stand still.

And please honor him for it! Were he to do otherwise he would be a traitor, a scoundrel and a fool ostracized upon the name of man!

There is not one true American but who would sell the rights of his country to the highest bidder.

It is not the man who is not wanted as an American citizen, anyhow!

No, let the Canadians rise up and smile with the smile of a just wrath.

Let them apply the maple banner to the neck of the man who would sell the rights of his country to the highest bidder.
