BSCRIBER.

John Boulton, Chief urt of the Island of dent of Her Majesty's are in the welfare and prosperity of this Island, we should be wanting in every principle of true patriotism, were we to remain idle spectators of the passing events of the present day.

No persons can be more convinced of the necessity of the fountain of Justice being pure and uncontaminated, free from every bias of party or politics, none would be more ready to raise their voices against the Sacred Bench of Justice being prostituted to any such purposes, than those who now address you.

It is on these grounds that we feel imperatively called on to record our indignation at the many wanton attacks that have been made on you, for a conscientious, upright and honorable discharge of the duties of your high office.

The firmness with which the Laws have been administered since you presided as Chief Judge have already had the effect of diminishing crime, and decreasing litigation throughout the Colony; and without meaning in the least to detract from the merit of the very eminent men who have preceded you in your present Office, we can truly say, that to none more than yourself can the motto that surmounts the seat of Justice in the Supreme Court, of

"Neque infecti gratia—Neque perfringi potentia —Neque adulterari pecunia."

be more justly applied.

The removal of your Lordship would, we conceive, be fraught with the greatest evil that could be inflicted on this country.

Deprived as we are in this Bay of any protection, on, save what we derive from a vigorous administration of the law, and surrounded as we are by a populace easily excited to riot and disturbance, as the few passed years have unfortunately shown, we should deeply deplore any event that would prevent your return to us, and we confidently hope that our most gracious Sovereign will be pleased to continue to intrust to your care, that sword of justice which you have wielded as a terror to evil doers, and as a protection to all classes of Her Majesty's subjects.

We cannot refrain al o from expressing our admiration at your conduct as President of Her Majesty's Council, although many of the undersigned are temporary sufferers by the non passing of the "Supply Bill," yet we are convinced, that the principles which actuated your opposition to that measure, are such as would govern a wise and patriotic legislator, and such as the interests of this Colony require.

For opposing such, and other crude acts, and for the firm administration of the laws without bending them to the will of a party, your Lordship has drawn down the violent hatred of the Members who have gone as Delegates from the House of Assembly, to lay their alleged grievances at the foot of Her Majesty's Throne, complaints against your Lordship forming a prominent part of them.
But whilst democracy has shewn itself in almost open rebellion in a neighbouring Colony, and its leaders have been held up by those persons as examples of true patriots, for the imitation of the inhabitants of this Island, we should hope their representations will have no effect prejudicial to your Lordship, whose character for honesty and integrity stands too firm to be shaken by the efforts of your enemies.

The House of Assembly, as at present constitu-ed, composed of men, for the most part possessed of little interest in the country, and less ability to legislate for it—not chosen by the unbiased voice of the electors, but forced on the country by the influence of the Catholic Priesthood; supported by mobs of non-electors, in opposition to the wishes of the wealth, intelligence, and real constituency of the Colony, cannot be expected to enjoy their confidence; neither do they possess it.

To the Council, therefore, have we looked for that salutary check upon them; which forms so admirable a part of our constitution.

We trust that your absence from this country will be but of short duration; and that you will return to resume the duties of your office with the marked approbation of our most Gracious Queen; an event which will be hailed with proud satisfaction by the whole intelligence of the Colony, but gratefully welcomed by none, more than by those who have the honor to subscribe themselves,

(From the Times, August 22.) We have much pleasure in presenting to our readers the copy of an address which has been presented by the Committee of the Society for relieving the Indigent Sick to Mrs. BOUTLON, the Patroness of that valuable Society, upon her leaving the Island, with that excellent lady's reply.

ADDRESS.

MADAM,—It is impossible that we should learn, without regret, that you are about leaving this Island, and that, consequently, the Society for the relief of the Indigent Sick, which owes you so much, as one of its earliest promoters, a constant attendant at its meetings, and liberal contributor to its funds, is shortly to be deprived of that valuable support which you have rendered it. Those who, by the suffrages of the subscribers, have been placed upon its Committee, and entrusted with the management of its affairs, and the investigation of the cases of the various applicants, cannot but feel a lively interest in the welfare of the institution, and an apprehension that it may suffer from being deprived of those advantages which it derived from your connection with it as our Patroness; while we, who have been more immediately associated with you in those labours of love which are the objects of our meetings, shall miss that zeal for the interests of our useful Society, that patient respect to our individual suggestions, that discriminating judgment, and that humane consideration for the poor in whose cause we are laboring, which have ever marked your conduct as Patroness of the Society.

Permit us, Madam, to tender to you, upon leaving this island, our sincere acknowledgments of the uniform courtesy and kindness which we have ourselves experienced at your hands, in all affairs connected with the management of the Society, and in the name of the numerous poor whom you have helped us, through this Society, to cherish in their hour of sickness, and, under God's blessing, to restore to health, permit us to offer you the tribute of heartfelt thanks, and to assure you that grateful recollections will follow you from Newfoundland wherever your future residence may be, and that the prayers of all classes will be addressed to the throne of Heaven for the health and welfare, here and hereafter, of yourself and of every member of your respected family.

Signed on behalf of the Committee, Visitors, and Officers of the Indigent Sick Society.

[Here follow the signatures of twenty ladies.] Factory Room, St. John's Newfoundland, August 21, 1838.
To Mrs. H. J. BOUTLON, Patroness of the Indigent Sick Society.

REPLY.

LADIES! FELLOW-WORKERS IN THE GOOD CAUSE!
—I am happy to meet you, once more, before I leave this Island for ever, and to have this opportunity of tendering you my best thanks for zealous co-operation with me in renewing an interesting Society as useful as it lay in our power, without which, and the blessing of the Father of the Poor, my feeble efforts would have been wholly unavailable;—and I trust that the great benefit which this Society has been to the "Indigent Sick," will still stimulate you to continue your valuable labours, and that upon it the eye of the Lord may rest in favour.

For your affectionate wishes for me and mine, I offer you my most sincere thanks, and shall not fail to supplicate "the Father of Mercies and the God of all consolation" that He may shower down his blessings upon you and yours.
