GERMAN COURT PASSES DEATH SENTENCE ON BRITISH SOLDIER
Berlin, via London, April 28.—11.40 p. m.—The Supreme Military Court has confirmed the sentence of death imposed on December 29 on Wm. Lonsdale of Leeds, Eng., a private in the British army, for attacking a German non-commissioned officer at the military prison camp at Doberitz. The verdict of the court will be commuted. Ronald B. Hearvey, second secretary of the United States embassy, attended the session of the court.

By Henry Van Dyke, the United States minister at The Hague, and James W. Gerard, the United States Ambassador to Germany, both took an interest in the case of Lonsdale at the behest of the Lord Mayor of Leeds, who sought to have the death sentence on the soldier commuted. In February it was announced that the court had commuted the sentence to twenty years imprisonment. Later a despatch from Berlin stated that Lonsdale had obtained another appeal, and that the case would be heard before the Supreme Military Court, April 27.

WAS COVERED WITH BOILS.
Could Not Get Rid of Them Until She Used BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

When the blood becomes impure the first symptoms which manifest themselves are a breaking out of the various forms of skin trouble such as boils, pimples, abscesses, ulcers, etc., and the only treatment you can use is a course of a good blood cleansing remedy which will put the blood into a perfect condition, and thus eliminate all the different poisons from the system which cause these different eruptions to occur.

The best blood cleansing remedy on the market to-day is Burdock Blood Bitters. All we ask you is to try it and be convinced. Thousands have used it during the past forty years, and have nothing but praise for its curative powers.

Mrs. John Fitzgerald, Plantagenet, Ont., writes: "I am one woman who cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters. I was covered with boils, and could not get rid of them. I was advised by a friend to try B.B.B. which I did, and I can truthfully say that it completely cured me. I have never had a sign of a boil since."

See that our name appears on both the label and wrapper as there are many imitations placed on the market which are said to be "just as good."

CALLS WOMAN THE PROTECTOR OF THE HOME

Speaker at Women's Congress Urges Hearers to "Thunder forth a Demand" that War be Stopped.

The Hague, April 28, via London, April 29.—The Women's Peace Congress tonight heard addresses by leading representatives from several countries.

Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, of England, made four points in her address, first, that modern war affected non-combatants more than the soldiers in the field; second, that as the mothers of the human race, women are the natural custodians of human life, and should use their endeavors to prevent men from destroying it; third, that women will be called upon to repair the awful ravages of the war, and fourth, that women occupy the unique position of being able to protest against war without being called cowards.

Mme. Rosika Schwimmer, president of the Hungarian Women's Suffrage Association portrayed women, and not men, as the protectors of the home. During wars, she said, the men were sent away and nobody, except their decorated superior officers, were permitted to know their whereabouts. Mrs. Schwimmer appealed to the women to "thunder forth a demand" for stopping the war, "in such a voice that will drown the cannons roar."

The future sessions of the congress promise to disclose sharply divided sentiments among the British and German delegates. The German women, it is said, while favoring the settlement of international disputes by other means than war, will object to incorporation in the resolutions of the words "arbitration and conciliation," while the English women, who have many supporters, favor these principles.

TWO SWEDISH STEAMERS HELD UP BY GERMANS
London, April 28.—A Reuter despatch from Helmsfors says the Swedish steamers Hanna and Viking, bound from England for Sweden, with coal, has been stopped by German torpedo boats off Skanor, Sweden.

Reuter's Stockholm correspondent says the arrest by the British authorities of the Swedish motor ship Kron Princessa Margareta is the subject of much complaint by the Swedish newspapers. The steamer left Stockholm April 9 for San Francisco, and is being held by the British at Stornoway, Scotland. The Swedish newspapers express the hope that the vessel will soon be released.

ACTIONS OF GRITS BELIEVE THEIR WORDS

Feigned Opposition to Election Does Not Harmonize With Their Condt Since War Began.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, April 28.—Whether there is to be an election in the near future or not, it is perhaps as well to let the people of this country know that the opposition of the Liberals to an election ostensibly prompted by patriotic fervor does not harmonize with their conduct since last fall. The Liberal press without rebuke from the party leaders, began last October to seek to discredit the government by exploiting the difficulties of the Liberals in mobilizing equipment and transporting Canada's first contingent of 33,000 men in the quickest time possible.

When the session of parliament opened, the attitude of the Liberals in mobilizing equipment and transporting Canada's first contingent of 33,000 men in the quickest time possible. There is no mistaking the spirit and motive behind the carping, nagging criticism that appeared in opposition papers.

The same spirit is found in the Liberal literature sent out all over the country. It can hardly be considered intensely patriotic. One pamphlet purports to tell "how British interests have been jeopardized since party ends." Another asks "Which do you want, Borden taxation with graft and waste or Liberal prosperity and efficient administration?" It is such divergence between Liberal professions and practices that cause some people to ask if it would not be better for the government to consult the people on its record and ask for a new mandate.

WITHDRAW PATRONAGE FROM THE POLISH RELIEF FUND
London, April 28.—Count Alexandre Benckendorff, the Russian Ambassador to Great Britain, Countess Benckendorff and Rudyard Kipling have withdrawn their patronage from the Polish Relief Fund, which was organized by Ignace Paderewski and Miss Laurence Alma-Tadema, because of statements in an appeal through the press which they regarded as reflecting on the Russian policy and army.

Cardinal Bourne, M. Cambon, the French Ambassador, Premier Asquith, Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey, Chancellor Lloyd George, Father Vaughan, Thomas Hardy and forty other prominent officials and writers remain patrons to the fund, which has already reached $25,000.

The appeal was prepared by Miss Alma-Tadema, and says among other things: "Let us try to bring this Polish tragedy to our mind's eye. We have only to imagine Great Britain vanquished and divided between three powers, shackled, free no longer in speech or religion. She ceases to be a state, yet remains a nation, passionately devoted to the remembrance of her past, to faith in her future."

Although Count Benckendorff could not approve of the nature of this and similar appeals, he is still heartily in sympathy with the purpose of the movement to relieve the suffering of the Poles.

DESTRUCTION OF YPRES IS COMPLETE

Scarcely a House Left Standing—Canadians, Covered With Glory, Retire to Rear to Rest

London, April 29, 3.04 a. m.—"During the last thirty-six hours," says the Times correspondent in Northern France, "the Germans have attacked our lines east of the Yser Canal with redoubled violence in a last desperate attempt to gain a footing on the western bank, but they expended their force in vain. The Allies still hold firm on the western side."

"The British troops now hold a new line of trenches north and northeast of Ypres. The Canadians, worn out by four days and nights of unceasing struggle, have been relieved and retired to the rear of our line for a much needed rest. They retired covered with glory, but their ranks were sadly thinned."

"The second battle of Flanders was fought over a front of less than five miles and endured only five days, but the fighting probably has been more furious than on any other occasion since the war began."

The more critical days were Saturday and Sunday. The Germans brought up heavy artillery and howitzers to their advanced positions and threw shells and high explosives into Ypres and covered with a curtain of fire every avenue through which our reinforcements might pass.

"In this bombardment the destruction of Ypres has been completed. The famous Cloth Hall is gone and scarcely a house in the town is left standing."
