"Carson Huntley is a prisoner in Mexico. His fiance is fearfully worried about him and appeals to Yorke, who tells her on what a dangerous mission her lover was sent, by way of cheering her up. On receiving a letter from a Carson, Yorke and the brave girl start off to Mexico with a scheme for the liberation of the captive. The scenes are laid in Mexico and much is made of the brutal treatment of the prisoner by Mexican jailors. Yorke and Carson both do a "make-up change" that is lee excellent. This series can be dependated upon for interesting pictures and good acting.

The classes the first day are: 2.19 tot, 2.21 pace; second day, free for all trot and pace, 2.35 trot and pace.

"WASTED MONEY"

The potential value of a dollar spent for home made goods far exceeds the 100 cents that you receive in merchandise and service. Indirectly you receive benefits that are priceless.

In buying home made goods you not only get better merchandise for less money, you not only contribute to the greater prosperity of your efty, but you get added dividends in the form of better living conditions, better improvements, better schools, better streets, etc.—ani a prosperous city almost invariably means a prosperous individual.

If the money that is sent away for merchandise inferior to that made here, could be kept here, the manufacturing concerns already in existence could increase their capacity many times, many new concerns would start up, employment would be furnished to thousands of men whose purchasing power would be greatly increased by reason of earning good wages. It's a good business proposition, Mr. Citizen, for you're discriminate—to confine your purchases whenever possible to those that bear the "Made at Home" label.
