of the Mediterranean adjoining the country of Galilee.

On the further side of the lake of Galilee, in the heathen portion of Palestine, there were desert districts of considerable extent, well suited to the keeping of swine, and they were herded together there in great numbers. Jesus sometimes visited these wilds, attracted, doubtless, by the knowledge of the opportunity of every kind weights. It would appear from the Gospel narrative, the Saviour, and the Him, inspired the more than with grateful peasants mourning a herd of swine the advent of a prodigious scene described by them with nameless they fled, beseeching their coasts ».

The Raising of Jairus' daughter

Saint Mark — Chap. 5

ET venit quidam de archisynagogis nomine Jairus, et videns eum procidit ad pedes ejus,

23. Et deprecabatur eum multum, dicens : Quoniam filia mea in extremis est, veni, impone manum super eam, ut salva sit et vivat.

24. Et abiit cum illo, et sequebatur eum turba multa, et comprimebant eum.

AND behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet,

23. And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death : I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live.

24. And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him.
