

To the students of the United States, many of whom resort to Paris, for the object of there completing their education, the passing of a Session or two in Montreal offers the inducement of having the opportunity of studying the French language concurrently with their Profession. To these it is quite possible that both the Sessions and entire Curriculum may appear long—the Session it is true is by one month longer than the longest of their own, but by so much it is thought to be the more complete; the rapidity of production not being so much considered as the regularity and proficiency of the stages and attainments of Graduates. Distributed over a period of four years, the studies can scarcely be felt as requiring the extraordinary application which, were they compressed into a narrower period, would unduly task the intellect, overburden the memory, and render almost nugatory the very best means of instruction.

The tickets of this University are received by the British Colleges, and by those of the United States, whose tickets under similar regulations, are likewise received by McGill College.

Boarding may be had for eight to sixteen dollars per month.
