

The Underwood is the result of concentrated efforts to achieve the ideal. It embodies in one machine all that is of value in a typewriter.

A WONDERFULLY efficient organization, the highest inventive genius, a capital of fourteen million dollars—all are constantly focused on this single objective—the production of one perfect writing-machine.

THE Franklin Institute, in awarding to the Underwood the Elliott-Cresson Medal for “ingenuity, skill and perfection of workmanship” say in their report —“We find in Underwoods having more than five years’ usage, no detrimental wear.”

The Underwood is sold at the price which should be paid for a machine of its quality.
