U. S. WILL NOT VIEW INCIDENT AS ACT OF WAR, BERLIN BELIEVES.

Berlin, May 10.—The Imperial German Government has directed its Ambassador in Washington to express its regret that many American lives were lost in the sinking of the Lusitania. However, official Berlin believes that the American Government will not view the destruction of the Lusitania as an act of war.

The charge is made here, both in government circles and in the press that the British Government is wholly responsible for the sinking of the Lusitania, and the loss of life the destruction of that vessel entitled.

Newspapers with an official rating pointed out that England was responsible for the loss of life by allowing passengers to sail on a British ship that was carrying ammunition for a belligerent power, contraband of war.

The opinion of the German Admiralty and the German Foreign Office is that the submarines are privileged to sink British merchant ships under the rules of war, because the Admiralty has placed guns on merchantmen, and some of them have tried to run German submarines.

BRITISH STEAMER TORPEDOED.

Blythe, England, May 10.—British steamer Wilhelby midnight to-night.

DR. PEARSON'S DEATH WILL NOT HAVE GREAT INFLUENCE MARKETWISE

(Special to Journal of Commerce.)

Toronto, Ont., May 10.—Naturally a good deal of interest attached today to the "Pearson stocks" in view of the death of Dr. Pearson.
On the Toronto Stock Exchange there were no dealings in Brazilian Traction, which were on offer at 53, the limit, and without bids. On the Standard Exchange a small lot sold at 50, a drop of 3 points, and bids later for small lots were raised to 50 1/2.

One the Toronto Exchange Barcelona was offered at 8, with 6 1/2 the best bids. A ten share lot sold Saturday at 9.

There is, of course, only a nominal market in the Pearson Mexican stocks. Locally well informed financial interests say that they cannot see the death of Dr. Pearson will have much effect market-wise. Brazilian cannot decline below its minimum, and Barcelona is down to an insignificant price, anyway.

In a wider sense, though, Dr. Pearson's death is deplored. Financial men say that his associates are quite capable of carrying on the Pearson enterprises and they point farther to the fact that as far as Brazil Traction is concerned that enterprise is practically complete, anyway.

Barcelona is, of course, in the construction stage, but its plans are complete enough and capital to finance and engineers to handle the work will both be forthcoming as needed.

The fighting in Mexico has shifted to the northern district where the principal silver producers of that republic are located, and, as a result, most of these have been shut down for an indefinite period.

Local metal dealers anticipate that this will bring about higher prices for silver, and will so introduce a favorable factor into the Cobalt situation.

Silver is ruling around 50 cents an ounce against 5 months ago of 51 1/2 about a month ago, and 48 three months ago.

Kill Several People and Damage

ALLIES' NOTABLE VICTORY

French Swept Over Two and Three Lines of Trenches and British First Army Made Gains Near Fromelles.

(Special Cable to The Journal of Commerce.)

London, May 10.—Zeppelins have again made a raid on seaside resorts in Essex. Several people are reported to have been killed at Southend, where serious property damage was done. At Leigh, near Southend, four Zeppelins are reported to have dropped between forty and fifty bombs, setting fire to several shops.

At Westcliff-on-Sea, another resort near Westend, two Zeppelins appeared and dropped many bombs, most of them of an incendiary nature. There were no fatalities there, so far as is yet known.

The aircraft which made the raid today over Westend appeared a short time before three o'clock in the morning. Several aircraft were in the raid but it was so dark and cloudy that the residents of Westend were unable to determine whether they were aeroplanes or Zeppelins, although presumably they were the same aircraft which were reported from West-cliff and Leigh.

Allies Won Notable Victory.

A notable victory for the Allies is reported in the latest French communiqué which reports great progress north of Arras and also in the direction of Loos and south of Carency. In the fighting about Carency the French advanced on a front more than four miles wide, sweeping over two lines of trenches and in some points of this sector seizing three lines.

At another point, on a half mile from the French advanced, capturing the village of La Targete and occupying half of the village of Neuville St. Vaast.

The British also have gained ground, advancing in the region of Fromelles, while a German attack between Neuport and the sea was repulsed.

Field-Marshal Sir John French reports that the German attacks east of Ypres have all been repulsed, denying the German assertions of a British defeat in that region. The British first army, under General Sir Douglas Haig, made the attack near Fromelles and gained ground to the south and east.

The Germans have made another attack near St.
Thomas, on the edge of the wooded Argonne country, but the French assert this was repulsed.

Admit Capture of Libau.

Conflicting accounts of the fighting in Western Galicia and the Carpathians continue to be received from Petrograd and Vienna, although it is plain that the Russians have suffered a most serious reverse.
Vienna asserts that the Austro-German armies have completely cleared Hungary of the Russians and have forced them back over the Carpathians.

Libau, an important Baltic port, is admitted by the Russians, has been occupied by a German force which advanced along the coast and seized the city with the support of a German squadron.

Italy is reported to be sending great forces of troops towards the Austrian frontier, and according to private messages received at Copenhagen from Berlin, has called to the colors all infantry classes from 1876. All Germans and Austrians in Italy are hurriedly fleeing from the country. Everything indicates that Italy is making the final preparations for her entry into the conflict.

VATICAN NO LONGER EXPECTS PEACE AND BOWS TO THE INEVITABLE

Rome, May 10.—Pope Benedict has abandoned all hope that war between Italy and Austria can be averted. The Vatican today transmitted to all the clergy of Europe instructions similar to those already sent to the clergy of other countries now at war. This was taken as a sign that the Vatican no longer expects peace to be preserved.

The Pope is reported to have said to Cardinal Gasparri: "All civilization seems to have come mad. Our endeavors have failed. It all rests now in the hands of God. May he pity his misguided children."

Pro-war demonstrations were renewed here today. During the morning several mass meetings adopted resolutions reaffirming Italy's right to Istria and Dalmatia.

The resolutions at each meeting closed with a pointed reference to the Lusitania's disaster and the condemnation of the German war methods.

REPORTS RUSSJANS REPULSED.

Berlin, May 10. (By wireless.)—The following official statement was issued at the War Office.
"Gen. Von Mackensen's army has reached Ryman-ow and is nearing the crossing of the important army roads at Brzozow just below the northern slope, east of the Beskid."
"The Russian front runs through the Carpathian forests toward the Uszok Pass. Eighth Russian army, under Gen. Brussilow, which has been between Uszok and Lupkow Passes, has been pressed back by the Austro-Hungarian army, which has shortened its front considerably."

FRENCH TAKE PRISONERS.

Paris, May 10.—Official statement further says:
"At L'Union farm we captured 30 prisoners. Three new German attacks were made north of Lombaertzyde. They were repulsed."
"In the region north of Arras we have maintained the important gains reported in last night's communique."
"On the rest of the front particularly in the Argonne and at Eillakerwasser an artillery duel is continuing."

AUSTRIA EXPECTS WAR WITH ITALY.

Geneva, May 10.—German Zeppelins and submarines have arrived at the Austrian naval base of Pola, according to neutral travellers arriving here. They state that Austria expects war with Italy and that her army is prepared to strike at once.

PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON.

being asked throughout the civilized world.

GERMANS MARK SUNDAY BY THREE MORE MURDERS.

Grimby, May 10.—The trawler Hellenic was blown up and sunk by a mine 55 miles east of Spurn Head in the North Sea on Sunday. Three members of crew killed.

Men in the Day's News

Lieutenant-Colonel W. Hart Mellerg, of Vancouver, who was killed in the recent fighting at Langemarck, has had most appreciative notices from papers in Canada, the United States and Great Britain. He was well known in the neighboring Republic, where he won the world's championship at Camp Perry in 1913. Canadians know him as a member of the Bisley team, and as a leader in rifle shooting. One of the cups won by Mellerg at Camp Perry was donated by Germany. In private life he was a bar-riester practising at Vancouver.

Colonel Walker Powell, formerly Adjutant-General of the Militia of Canada, whose death recently occurred, was eighty-seven years of age. He first entered the militia in 1847 and was probably the oldest officer in Canada. He was born at Waterford, Ont., in 1829, of U. E. L. stock. The late Colonel Powell took an important part in the Fenian Raids and the two Northwest Rebellions. He was largely responsible for the establishment of the Royal Military College at Kingston. During recent years he lived in Ottawa.

Major David Seath, who celebrated his sixty-eighth birthday yesterday, was born and educated in this city. For some years he was in mercantile life in Montreal, joining the Montreal Harbor Commission as secretary, in 1898. Major Seath has made a careful study of harbor management, visiting in this connection many leading ports throughout the world. As a young man he was an enthusiastic military man, joining the Victoria Rifles in 1861 and working his way up to major when he retired. He holds the long service decoration and the French Legion medal. He is an unusually competent and conscientious official.

R. L. Goldberg, one of the world's best known newspaper illustrators, was born in San Francisco thirty-one years ago. He was educated in the University of Chicago and graduated as a mining engineer. He never practised his profession, preferring to draw caricatures to drawing plans. He did illustrate for a time on a San Francisco newspaper and then came east to New York, where he got a position at fifty dollars a week. That was eight years ago; now he has a regular income of more than twenty thousand dollars a year. He lives up town, keeps regular office hours and works as steadily as if he were a fifteen dollar a week clerk.

President G. C. Creelman, head of the Ontario Agricultural College, who was forty-six years of age yesterday, was born at Collingwood, Ont., educated in that town at the Ontario Agricultural College and the University of Toronto. He has spent his life in educational work among farmers. For some years he was a professor in an American Agricultural College, but returned to Ontario in 1892, where he became Superintendent of Farmers' Institutes. Since 1904 he has been president of the Ontario Agricultural College, where he has done most efficient work.
President Creelman has written extensively on agricultural subjects and is also a well known speaker. He is a brother of Mr. A. R. Creelman, K.C., of this city.

Major-General M. F. M. Rimington, commanding the Indian Cavalry in France, is one of the world's best known cavalry commanders. He is known to rank and file as "Mike" Rimington. He has been connected for over thirty years with the British Cavalry, his first experience being with the 6th Inniskillen Dragoons. During the South African War he organized the Rimington Scouts, whose exploits received well deserved praise from the British commanders. Rimington is over six feet in height with a stern, handsome face, marred somewhat with deformities obtained in polo playing, hunting and in battles. In many respects he resembles Kitchener. His motto he gives his troops during a campaign is: "A merry heart goes all the way; a sad one tires in a mile."

Captain W. T. Turner, R.N.R., who was in command of the Lusitania, has been in the service of the Cunard Line since 1878, giving up the command of the Mauretania to take over that of the Lusitania.
He was born in 1856 and commenced his seafaring career as a deck boy in the employ of the White Star when he sailed from Liverpool to Aden around the Cape of Good Hope. Captain Turner was then a boy of thirteen, his first voyage taking eighteen months.
He then joined a sailing ship and sailed in a number of famous ships, but after some years' service with sails, turned to steam. He received his first command in the Cunard Line in 1903 and during the last few years has commanded their finest boats. Captain Turner is a member of the Executive Council of the Mercantile Marine Association. In the disaster which overtook the Lusitania, Captain Turner stayed with his ship, but was rescued after spending several hours in the water.

Official Report Being Prepared for American Government—Banks Suffered Little Having Most of Mails Going on New York.

(Exclusive Leased Wire to Journal of Commerce.)

Chicago, Ill., May 10.—In his telegram to the Herald from Washington, James Callan O'Loughlin, claiming that he is in a position to forecast the Wilson note, says:
"The note will demand full reparation in the form of a cash indemnity for every American who went down with the Lusitania, Guiflight and Falaba."
"Pledge by Germany that the present method of submarine warfare shall cease immediately." O'Loughlin claims a high authoritative German source for the statement that Germany is prepared to express regret that so many Americans were drowned, to make proper financial reparation and to propose the cessation of submarine operations on condition that the United States induce Great Britain to permit foodstuffs to reach Germany freely.
He adds that the United States cannot accept any German proposition based on a bargain with Great Britain about matters which belong exclusively to the United States and Germany, and cannot consent to prolong a futile discussion of the risks involved.

THE EXPLOSION WHICH FOLLOWED TOTALLY DISABLED THE VESSEL.

Queenstown, May 10.—A gigantic explosion of all the Lusitania's boilers that tore the vitals out of the liner, and rendered her helpless, followed the impact of the second German torpedo. This information is contained in Capt. W. G. Turner's late version of the disaster, and secured from an absolutely authoritative source.

The statement follows: "The missile struck the forward boiler room and punctured the boilers on the starboard side. The explosion which followed destroyed her boilers and cut off all the ship's power.
Captain Turner thus found it impossible to reverse the engine."

At the time she was struck the vessel was going forward almost under full steam, and making about 22 knots an hour. It was because of the motion of the ship that Captain Turner ordered the work of lowering the life-boats stopped. At 10.15 was the last lowered handle in the water while the liner was traveling about 20 miles, and was instantly stopped under the water."

LUSITANIA SURVIVERS' STATEMENT.

Queenstown, May 10.—Complete statements have been secured from most of the American survivors of the Lusitania. These were taken on an order from Secretary of State Bryan and will be sent to Washington along with the official report of Ambassador Page.

PONDERING WHAT COURSE THE UNITED STATES SHALL TAKE.

Washington, D.C., May 10.—The White House was still isolated from communication upon the Lusitania disaster today, and beyond the knowledge that President Wilson is pondering the situation in seclusion, Washington was still in doubt as to what the United States will do.

Yet doubt that the United States will do something has been entirely dispelled by those intangible impressions whereby Washington senses events, as well as by Saturday evening's White House statement that the President will act with deliberation and firmness.

U. S. BANKS SUFFERED LITTLE BY SINKING OF LUSITANIA.

Chicago, Ill., May 10.—The leading banks here, except the First National, had very little on the Lusitania, having bulk of their mails on the steamer New York.

The First National had $3,000,000 foreign exchange, mostly grain, cotton and paper, but the greater part of it was duplicated. Vice-President Arnold, of First National, says: "It was one of the lightest foreign mail, we have had recently. Our loss is trifling." Grain exporters and packers report no cancellations of purchases by importing nations.

ADDITIONAL SURVIVORS.

New York, May 10.—Additional names received by the Cunard Line this morning from Liverpool, of survivors are: 2nd class, R. J. Liemot or R. Lintot; 3rd class, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vealo. No cabin stated, Arthur Hoskins (may be Hopkins.)

TURKS CLAIM SUCCESSES.

Constantinople, May 10.—The official statement follows:
"Attacks of the enemy from Ari Burnu and Seddul Bahr under protection of his naval guns were repulsed with heavy losses. Part of the left wing of our troops penetrated positions at Ari Burnu capturing some trenches and a large quantity of war material and provisions stored there. Stores at other places were set on fire."
"The fleet of the enemy at the Dardanelles is at present inactive. Land forces of the enemy at Seddul Bahr after receiving reinforcements attempted to repeat their attack on Saturday, making assaults until midday. He was driven back to his entrenchments, losing heavily."

"In the Caucasus the situation is developing favorably for us. In the Province of Aserbaidjan we made attacks near Dilman on April 29 and May 1.
On the following day we surprised the Russians, inflicting considerable losses."

over the loss of American lives in the Lusitania disaster. He conferred with Secretary of State Bryan for 15 minutes. At the conclusion of the conference the State Department issued this statement:
"The German Ambassador called at the State Department and expressed his deep regret that the events of the war had led to the loss of so many American lives."

MR. KEEBLE REPORTED SAFE.

Mr. Wilfrid Keeble, who was a passenger on board the Lusitania, is reported safe, as is also his wife, who accompanied him.
Mr. Keeble is the manager of the London branch of A. McKim Limited and had just been to Canada on a honeymoon trip.
Mr. Keeble spent three years in Canada as manager of the Oxo Company and is very well known.

DEATH ROLL TOTALS 1,500.

So far as can be ascertained, about 700 persons escaped when the Lusitania took her fatal plunge after being struck by German torpedoes, but of these, 45 have since died from exposure or from injuries.
The death roll as estimated totals well up to 1,500.

LORD MERSEY WILL CONDUCT INQUIRY.

London, May 10.—Lord Mersey has consented to conduct the inquiry into the circumstances attending the loss of the Lusitania.
Lord Mersey conducted the investigation into the sinking of the steamers Titanic and the Empress of Ireland.

LUSITANIA CANNOT BE RAISED.

Queenstown, May 10.—Marine Superintendent Dodd of the Cunard Line, said this afternoon that the Lusitania sank in sixty fathoms of water and would never be raised.

The Importance of News
Was forcibly demonstrated by the sharp reaction of the Security Market on receipt of news that the Lusitania had been torpedoed.
Subscribers to the NEWS BULLETIN SER-VICE of The Journal of Commerce received this item nearly an hour earlier than those relying on other
