

I GIVE MY ELECTRIC BELT FREE

Until You
Are Cured.

Take my Electric Belt for what it will do for you. Wear it while you sleep at night or while you are resting after your work. You will find it a vitalizer, a tonic to your nerves, a rejuvenator of waning vitality. Use it for any ailment which drugs have failed to cure, and you will never cease praising it.

I claim that I can cure weak men; that I can pump new life into worn-out bodies; that I can cure your pains and aches, limber up your joints, and make you feel as frisky and vigorous as you ever did in your life. That's claiming a good deal, but I have got a good remedy, and know it well enough to take all the risk if you will pay me when you are cured.

No man can lose on this. If the cure is worth the price, you don't have to pay for it until you get it. When you are ready to say you are a big, husky and frisky specimen of vigorous manhood; that you haven't got an ache or pain in your whole body, and that you feel better than you ever did in your life, I get paid. If you can't say it after using my belt for three months, then give me back my old belt and I won't ask a cent. All I ask is security while you use it.

A short time ago I took a case that I couldn't cure, and I didn't see why, as I had cured hundreds like it. Anyway, my patient returned the Belt and said I hadn't done him any good. He said he thought I had treated him honestly and wanted to pay me the cost of the Belt because it couldn't be used again. I refused and told him that I had made a contract to cure him or get nothing, and I wouldn't take a dollar I hadn't earned.

Dr. McLaughlin:

Dear Sir,—I wore your Belt for a few days, and must say I could not have believed what it would do. I haven't any cold now, no backache, headache, no pain in my legs, nor tired feeling. I have not felt the same for months, and when I got up this morning I thought I was in another world. I must say that Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt is the best thing that I have ever known, and can't help telling my friends what it has already done for me. Yours very truly, Bissell Norton, Box 54, Aurora, Ont.

"I have used your Belt for three months. I am now free of Rheumatism. It has done its work well. I am satisfied it is the only cure for that disease."—J. H. SAGER, Okotoks, Alta.
"I have been cured of back trouble, Varicocele and Vital Weakness, thanks to your Electric Belt."—T. J. SWENNEY, care of Seamen's Institute, St. John, N.B.

"All drains have ceased, my back is improved and my nerves are stronger. Your Belt has done what you said it would."—DAVID SHIELDS, Cranbrook, Ont.

MR. JEROME SCANLON, Ancaster, Ont., writes: "I have been wearing your Belt a month, and I am very much improved in health. I have gained over 7 lbs. in weight. Those pains have never returned since wearing the Belt. I have developed quite a bit in muscle and strength. I do not desire to urinate so often, and I have had only one headache since. My bowels keep regular. Wishing you every success in your grand undertaking."

I have cured thousands of men who have squandered the savings of years in useless doctoring. My belt is easy to use; put it on when you go to bed; you feel the glowing heat from it (no sting or burn, as in old style belts), and you feel the nerves tingle with the new life flowing into them. You get up in the morning feeling like a two-year-old.

Wherever you are, I think I can give you the name of a man in your town that I have cured. Just send me your address and let me try. This is my twenty-fourth year in the business of pumping new vim into worn-out humanity, and I've got cures in nearly every town on the map.

If you will come and see me I'll explain it to you. If you can't call, let me send you my book, full of the things a man finds inspiring to strength and courage. Free if you send this ad.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

SALE OF UNSOUND HORSE.

A sells a horse to B for a certain sum of money. B pays cash for horse. Horse has a kidney stone, but at time of sale B never asked A if the horse was that way, and A didn't tell him.

1. Can B return the horse and collect his money?

2. Is it against the law to sell such a horse without telling the purchaser?
Ontario. J. S.

Ans.—1. No.

2. Generally speaking, no.

FEEDING COWS.

1. What is the best to feed new-milch cows, with bran, $1 per cwt.; middlings, $1.20; shorts, $1.20; whole oats, 40c. per bushel, to be fed with hay?

2. Would it pay me to feed meal to two cows that are not coming in, that I am milking once a day, and on hay alone, they only giving 5 lbs. of milk each day?

3. Is it advisable to begin to feed meal to a cow before she comes in, and is it better wet or dry?
W. H. B.

Ans.—1. The kind of hay—clover or timothy—should be specified, for there is a wide difference in the composition of the two. Assuming it is mixed hay, we would suggest meal ration of 4 lbs. bran, 2 lbs. middlings, 1 lb. shorts, 2 lbs. oats; the oats crushed or soaked. If good oil cake can be got for $30 to $35 a ton, would advise using 1 to 1½ lbs. of it per cow per day in lieu of 2 or 3 lbs. of the meal mixture. Cottonseed meal would also be excellent, and pea meal is a first-rate milk-producing food.

2. Presumably these cows are intended for the butcher. It certainly will pay to feed them 5 or 6 lbs. meal per day; part of it will come back in the milk, and the balance will go on their backs, making them ready to dispose of just that much sooner.

3. The best dairymen build up their cows by feeding a light meal ration of 2 to 4 lbs. per day while dry, thus having them in good heart for a season's work. We used to be afraid of milk fever, if the cows were in good condition at calving, but partial milking the first four days after calving and the air treatment in any case of the ailment has disarmed this fear. We would not feed any meal, but a little bran, though, for a week or so before the cow comes in. Feed it dry to save trouble.

STALLS—MANGERS—VENTILATION—SILO RINGS.

1. Is three feet wide enough for an average-sized cow to stand in?

2. Which is preferable, single or double stalls?

3. Is a concrete manger advisable, all things considered?

4. In a small stable (ten or twelve cows) would the ten windows, with a trapdoor in ceiling, provide enough ventilation?

5. Would you give the address of some who have silo-rings, and build silos, or let their rings?
A. W. W.

Ans.—1 and 2. A cow may be kept in a three-foot stall, but not with comfort. We would make the stall not less than 3½ feet wide, preferably 4 feet. Double stalls may be made 7 feet wide, but we are inclined to favor single stalls for dairy cows.

3. No; a concrete floor for the manger may do all right, but it is cheaper and better to make the rest of wood. On the whole, we rather prefer a plank bottom also, for cattle are not overly fond of licking out a cement manger, consequently it tends to become sour.

4. The chances are the cubic space of air per cow will not be much greater with a small than with a large stable, and the need for ventilation is nearly as great. Sufficient change of air may be secured by means of windows and trapdoor, but this is liable to cause drafts and extremes of temperature, while at times the ventilation is liable to be ignored altogether. We strongly recommend a modification of the ventilation system installed in D. & M. MacVicar's barn, described in "The Farmer's Advocate" of February 15th.

5. We receive numerous enquiries for these rings. Those having them to sell or lease could do a fine business by advertising in our columns.
