

A Great Factor In The Development of The West

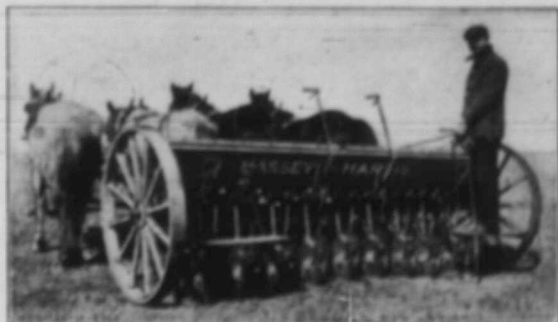

THE DEVELOPMENT of our Great Canadian West, to a great extent, is due to the use of modern farm implements.

These have made it possible for a comparatively few people to cultivate a great area of this extensive country, and produce grain in such quantities as to be now looked on as the mainstay of the British Empire in supplying food in these days of near famine.

The Choice of the Best Farmers Throughout the Country

"Great-West" Plows

Have proved their worth on thousands of farms in Western Canada and have come to be recognized as the very highest type of horse-drawn Plows on the market today, not only in the work they do, but in convenience of operation and durability as well.

You have a choice of Bottoms to suit different conditions, shapes which are the result of over 70 years of building quality farm implements.

Massey-Harris New No. 11 Drill

Seed sown by a Massey-Harris New No. 11 Drill is distributed uniformly and sown at a uniform depth in a properly-shaped furrow, thus giving each plant a chance to develop and mature under the most favorable conditions. Convenient and powerful levers give easy control of the Drill.

Single Discs, Double Discs, Shoes or Hoes are interchangeable on the same frame.

Made in Five Sizes: 14, 16, 20, 22, or 24 Funs.

Massey-Harris Binder

EASY ON THE DRIVER

EASY ON THE HORSES

Famous the world over for reliability under the most difficult conditions. It is pre-eminently a binder for all conditions of crop—heavy crop, down and tangled grain being easily handled by the Massey-Harris.

The Massey-Harris makes neat, compact, square-butted sheaves of any desired size. The Band is in the middle with long or short grain, and every knot is securely tied.

The most convenient and lightest-running Binder on the market today.
