FASHIONABLE FROLICS.

PRINCE GRADE WORLD.

Brilliant Gathering in London and Others.

THE DRESSESS WORLD.

Republishes and Diptor The Queining Management of the William of Management of Management of the William of Management of the William of Management of the William of Management of Management of the William of Management of Management

Governor's Foot Guards' Band. Their Excellencies cordially acknowledged each individual presented in turn by Captain Streatfeild. The Marquis was in full court dress, with white silk knee-breeches and hose and Windsor uniform. He was supported on the right by the Premier, arrayed in his K.C.B. regumentels. Lady Lansdowne wore white lace, draped over a pink satin skirt, a court train of garnet satin, bouquets of pink roses and ferns, with necklace of diamonds. Lady Florence Streatfeild, who stood on her left, was strikingly attired in black lace over geranium red silk. Among the most elegant of so many beautiful co-tumes were those of Lady Macdonald, who was arrayed in ciel bluffrom head to foot, velvet trained gown, feather headdress, fawf slippers and gloves, wearing also the famout C. P. R. necklace of diamonds and opals; Mrs. Costigan, ruby plush en traine; Lady Tupper and Mrs. Thos. White, black satin; Mrs. Laurier, inversign the land of the strength of the support of the suppo ne colored surah; Mrs. Harry Macdonell, ite silk and lace; Miss Constance Merc-h, white gros grain (debutante); Mrs. nrieber, black satin; Mrs. Molyneaux St.

very pronounced decollete dressing. Very few ladies, compared with the number of other years, wore low necked dresses at all, and those who did had them cut most dis-creetly as a rule.

Go on the Warpath Over the Betrayal of Hattie H. gan by Ihomas Hoffman.

A Columbia, S. C., despatch says: There is great excitement at Blythewood on account of a quarrel between the families of Hogan and Hoffman. The origin of the trouble was the betrayal of Hattie Hogan by Thomas Hoffman. Miss Hogan's father, trouble was the betrayal of Hattie Hogan by Thomas Hoffman. Miss Hogan's father, at the point of a pistol, made Hoffman promise to marry the girl, but on the day of the wedding the young man was missing. Hogan searched for his daughter's betrayer for two weeks, and then returned to Blythewood to hold the other Hoffmans responsible, one of them being the Mayor of the town. Yesterday Hogan held a pistol to Mayor Hoffman's head and horsewhipped him. He then went to a mill, where another brother, Jack Hoffman, was found, and while a friend of Hogan's covered Hoffman with a Winchester rifle, the enraged father wore out a whip on him. Then the Hoffman family surrounded Hogan's house. The citizens telegraphed to, Winnsboro for aid, and a sheriff and posse was sent to Blythewood. Meantime the Judge at Winnsboro telegraphed Mayor Hoffman, not knowing that he was engaged in the riot, to preserve the peace at all seconds.

to eat?
Waiter—We have nothing but one beefsteak.

Husband—Only one beefsteak? My poor wife will have to go to bed on an empty stomach. How about that, eh?

A Live Baby by Hamper.

A Manchester despatch says: On Saturday evening, Mr. Midgeley, station-master at the Great Northern Station, Batley, received a hamper parcel by train, and on opening it found a baby alive a few weeks old, enwrapped in warm flannels and attired in long clothes, the whole surrounded by a piece of oretone. Mr. Midgeley informed the police, and the babe was sent to Dewebury workhouse.

Millionaire Landowners. The Duke of Sutherland owns 1,208,666 acres, and Lord Middleton owns 1,005,741 acres of the soil of Great Britain. Thus between them they own one-thirty-sixth of the whole land of Great Britain and

E. W. Snier, of Orlando, Fla., has an range tree in his grove on which eight different and distinct stages of growth are shown, from the first bloom to the fully matured orange. It is certainly a curious freek of nature.

Rev. John. Hall is said to have pocketed since last September fully $20,000 in marriage fees. One bridegroom gave him a cheque for $5,000 for tying the nuptial knot. Dr. Hall is worth $1,000,000; his total income is at least $100,000. His congregation is the wealthiest in New York city. The amount of $400,000,000 may be seen in his church any Sunday morning. Dr. Hall has a monopoly of all the swell weddings. Brides who desire to be in the fashion insist upon being married by the millionaire glergyman.

rrible Explosion on a California Ferry A Long Postponed Courtably Renewed, Steamer-Between Thirty and Forty Only to be Broken off.

A BROKEN RAIL Causes an Accident on the C.P.R.—Several Passengers Hurt.

A last (Sunday) night's Winniped despatch says: Passengers arriving on the C.P.R. train from the East yesterday report a miraculous escape from death near Sudbury Junction on Thursday. The passenger engine having become disabled, a freight engine was called into use, which did not have proper appliances for the attachment of the air brakes. On rounding a sharp curve the engineer saw a broken rail some three hundred yards ahead. Knowing it would be useless to attempt to stop the train at that distance, he put on a full head of steam and tried to_gross the break. This engine, baggage and mail, smoking and second-class cars got over in safety, but the first class carleft the rail, taking with it the dining car and sleeper. They dragged along a few hundred feet on the ties, when the first-class coach left the trucks and tumbled over into the snow, the dining car and sleeper. They dragged along a few hundred feet on the ties, when the first-class coach left the trucks and tumbled over into the snow, the dining car have a specific to the trucks and they concern the sale tumbled over into the snow, the dining car have to the snow, the dining car have to the snown the sleeper also tumbled over on its side. There were sixteen passengers in the first-class coach, all of whom were injured, six severely. The dining car waiters were all badly out with broken glass and emerged from the wreck with bloody faces. The occupants of the sleeper were badly shaken and bruised, two being forced through the windows. Doctors were summoned from the wreck with bloody faces. The occupants of the sleeper were badly shaken on board are: Jos. Wrigley and E. K. Beeton, prominent Hudson Bay Company officials, of Winnipers; Mr. Simpson, Montreal, and a number of people from Ontario. The train which should have arrived from the East to-day is reported twenty-four the Ea Causes an Accident on the C.P.R.—Several Fortunate Diplomat—The Government Auxious to Confer a New Honor. A Indian to Diplomat - New Honor.

A London cablegram says: Perhaps the luckiest man in the world is Lord Dufferin, who is soon to come back from India, where he has been the Viceroy of 300,000,000 people. It is not known exactly whether Lord Dufferin wanted to come back or had to, but it is certain he is to be made happy if possible. He has had the most comfortable berths in the gift of the Government, culminating in that which he has just abandoned, and for which he received £37,000 a year, including allowances. He is now to be sent as Ambassador to Rome, in order to become entitled to the pension which he would not get as Viceroy, and the Government are cudgelling their brains to find a new honor for him. He will have the Grand Cross of the Bath, only that is hardly considered big enough. He has in the riot, to preserve the peace at all nazerds. The sheriff arrived in time to arrect the Mayor before there was bloodahed.

A Considerate Husband,
Husband and wife arrive at a country hotel at a late hour of the night.
Husband (to waiter)—What have you got to eat?

ACALIFORNIA CATASTROPHE. AMUSING BREACH OF PROMISE. THE DOMINION PARLIAMENT,

MONEY FOR MOODY. The Noted Evangelist Doesn't Work for

BURIED ALLE. Grave Robbers Rifle a fomb in Time to Save Mic.

Grave Robbers Rifte a fomb in Time to Save Lifte.

A Toledo, Ohio, special says: Charles Martindale, a young man, was stricken with apoplexy five years ago and to all appearances died. He was buried, according to the statement of his family and neighbors, but last Wednesday surprised his father and mother by walking into the house. The young man says he was not dead, but knew when he was being laid out and when he was buried. He could not, however, let those about him know that he was, slive. On the night following the burial his grave was opened by medical students who took him out, dressed him up in a suit of black, took him to the office of a college professor and bolstered him up, intending to frighten the doctor and then dissect the body. The horrible situation had the effect to bring young Martindale out of his trance, as he tells it. As he was deeply in debt, and his father had refused to help him, he left the town and went west, leaving his parents to suppose him still in the grave.

A Commercial Traveller Sent to the church in a township near Sault Ste.

Marie. Some of the funds for the building were deposited in the bank. Manitoulin Expositor.

President Cleveland and party arrived at Jacksonville, Fla., yesterday evenin for a visit to the Sub-tropical Exposition.

Canadian Pacific Railway across the continuent of the Government that following such rapid construction there would be such an indux of taxpaying population as to provide entirely for the additional cost of the road without drawing on the older section of the Dominion. In 1880 the Premier prophesied antion meetings to denounce it. He expected that, following in the wake of the amicable settlement of this difficulty, there would be agreatly enlarged trade with the people of the United States. He thought it can be considered to the the people of the United States. He thought is canada could fairly be congratulated on the large degree of prosperity existing throughout the country. Our monetary institutions are on a sound basis, our manufactories are in active operation, and there was a very noticeable absence of destitution and want amongst our working classes. He congratulated five country upon the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the opening up of a large trade with China and Japan. Efforts had been made to prove that the farming interest of the country was not in a prosperous condition. He found, on comparison, that, while only 9 per cent. of the value of farm property in Ontaris was under mortgage, the figure for ten of the value of farm property in Ontaris was under mortgage, the figure for ten of the water of the control of the western states showed that there was an average of 25 per cent. encumbered by mortgage.

Mr. Joncas, speaking in French, seconded the motion. After referring to the several matters touched upon by the Speech, he announced that, as the representative of a constituency (Gaspe) deeply interested in the fishery question, he was quite satisfied with the recent treaty, and felt that the interests of the country had been properly protected.

Mr. Laurier, in replying, expressed regret that the seat of the member for West Durham (Mr. Blake) was vacant. Last session an Act was passed to create a Department of Trade and Commerce, but he vainly looked over the Treasury benches to find that Minister. He could only believe that the move was reserved for some future occasion, when, patronage would be needed of that the whole matter had been pigeon-holed and forgotten. It was also proposed last year to do away with the Ministers of Inland Revenue and Customs, but up to the present to a marquisate, and then the noble Lord will not lack titles. He will be Marquis, Earl, Viscount, Baron, Baronet, a Lord Leistenant, an F.R.S., a D.C.G., LL.D., etc.

Constian Divorce Cases.
An Ottawa despatch says: The follow or ing is the full list of the divorce cases which will come before the review of the properties of the full list of the divorce cases which will come before the review of the in and it is his opinion that the woman is neither dumb nor permalacking in intelligence, yet he is as a cas the rest to explain her presence. He thinks, however, that she is oving, and that in time she will be tell-who she is and displayed some of mystery that now surrounds her case iterago Times.

A Drunken Denkey.

A Drunken Denkey.

Iterago Times.

A Drunken D

a yearly immigration into the Canadian ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

T. B. Johnston as partners, and the busisess is still carried on under the original designation, though Sir William retired twenty years ago. In 1840 he was made a baillie, and in 1848 he was elected provost. While he held the latter office the Queen, when at Holyrood in 1851, conferred on him the honor of knighthood. Sir William was twice married, and is survived by his widow and two grand-daughters.

Mr. Prior's Strange Visitor.

1815 Furday morning, at the unseasonable hour of 3 o'clock, a young woman in an unterly nude condition called at the house of Mr. Thomas W. Prior, the business manager of the Chicago Opera Honse. She seemed to be dased, and not a word of information could be drawn from her as to whence she had come or why she was without clothing. The whole household was aroused, and the young woman was soon decently clothed by the ladies. She made no resistance to whatever was done to her, and seemed to be almost oblivious ther surroundings and even, to her own existence, save when, now and then, she burst out crying. Of course, every effort was made to sooth her, and she burst out crying. Of course, every effort was made to sooth her, and she burst out crying. Of course, every effort was made to sooth her, and she was of the condition in which it was supposed she burst out crying. Of course, every effort was made to sooth her, and she was on why she was thered the self-Mr. Prior's family physician has been allowed to take some sleep, from which it was supposed she has now been an inmate of their house for two days, she has not yet been induced to take some sleep, from which it was supposed she has now been an inmate of their house for two days, she has not yet been induced to take some sleep, from which it was supposed she has now been an inmate of their house for two days, she has not yet been induced to take some sleep, from which it was supposed she has now been an inmate of their house for two days, she has not yet been induced to take some sleep, from which it was been added in and it is his o thought of this bibulous coster?

The late Dr. Stewart, of Belleville, who was estimated to be worth about $80,000 and the balance was bequeathed one-half of his estate to his daughter, Mrs. John Bell, wife of the team ran away, scattering $18,000 in a sleigh through the streets. After an hour's search all but $2,000 was found. Great the force is a church member. Two of the force is a church member and the force is a church member. Two of the force is a church member and the force less is still carried on under the original esignation, though Sir William retired wenty years ago. In 1840 he was made a saillie, and in 1848 he was elected provost While he held the latter office the Queen, that there is some natural affinity between the characters and aspects of our skies and fields and the characters and prejudiese of the artists who paint them. Moreover, it is very strange to notice that, though the may be said, from one point of view, to have been arrogant in their practice, in so far as they were in the habit of frequently altering Nature to suit their pictures, yet we never think, on looking at these pictures, of the arrogance of the artist; we find in them no quality of "oockiness" or wilful extravagance; and in the present day, though the creed of the artist; we find in the present day, though the creed of the artist; we find in the present day, though the creed of the artist is theoretically entirely changed, and he is desirous, according to his own account, simply of painting things as they are in all humility, yet-we find, speaking as ageneral rule, that we cannot get rid of the impression, in looking at most modern pictures (and in this respect figure paintings are even worse than landscapes,) that the artist thinks himself a rather clever fellow, and has mainly directed his efforts to making us think so, too.—London Spectator.

Modern Landscape Painting.

AN ENGLISH TRAGEDY.

THE DURING FIRST THORT.

Orders, No. 2.— The will consequent the first of the control of the con SUICIDE OF THE MURDERES.

A Manchesier correspondent sends the following particulars of a sheeking criming which was committed in Bafford on Monday week, as briefly reported by cable: A family named Dortyn compiled a senal buttered and the state of the proceedings of the state of the state his wife was quite ready to dis with him, and in a letter which was discovered out flatured by the asserts that his dear wife took in a letter which was discovered out flatured by the asserts that his dear wife took in the dear wife took was a discovered in the dear wife took in the husband gave the fast dose to his wife. Then he wrote some letters, and that the husband gave the fast dose to his wife. Then he wrote some letters, and that the husband gave the fast dose to his wife. Then he wrote some letters, and that the husband gave the fast dose to his wife. Then he wrote some letters, and that the husband gave the fast dose to his wife. Then he wrote some letters, and that the husband gave the fast dose to his wife. Then he wrote some letters, and that the husband gave the fast dose to his wife. Then he wrote some letters, and that the husband gave the fast dose to his wife. Then he wrote some letters, and that the husband gave the fast dose to his wife. The he wrote work and the his was found lying on the sort on the floor he was found upstairs, and contained the wife was no small to give any clue to the harmonium which was made on Saturday by Dr. Wilson, a local physician. He common was not was a stage of the was made on Saturday by Dr. Wilson, a local physician was the was discovered. In the case of the heart of the was the was discovered. In the case of the delar that th ingar positions, too, or they could hardly have survived. There they stood for forty-eight hours, with the snow packed around them so close that they could not move a muscle. Though so near each other they almost touched, they could not even speak a word. They could just simply stand there and think. They say they were conscious for some time after the snow came down, and that they suffered tortures. They declare they never longed for anything so much in all their lives as they did for death."

The Highlanders at the Battle of Alma.

Our fine brigade of Guards was severely out up when the Highlanders drew.near, and then, as Kinglake tells us, a man in one of the regiments referming on the slope oried, in the deep and honest bitterness of his heart, "Let the Scotchmen go on; they'll do the work!" and with his three kilted battalions, Sir Colin, whose horse was shot under him, advanced to meet was shot under him, advanced to meet the state of the enemy. "Now, men, the allow shot his rank is—must lie where he shalls. No seldler must carry off wounded men. If any man does) such a thing, his name shall be stuck up'n his parish kirk. Be steady—keep silence—fire low! Now, men, the army is watching us! Make me deproud of my Highland Brigade!" So beautifully does the author of Eethen—an eye-witness of this part of the battle—describe their moreants that we can. The Highlanders at the Battle of Alms of the documents, because, he said, his brothers, who were co-beneficiaries with im, wanted to rob him. When he returned to Balford, he went to live in the small house in Garfield street which has been the scene of the tragedy. These facts, which were elicited on Saturday, leave no room to doubt the unfortunate man's state of mind. There is nothing to lead to the belief that his wife was similarly affected. In one of his letters, however, he says that his wife was quite ready to die with him, and in a letter which was discovered on Saturday he asserts that his dear wife took her dose like a lamb.

WAS THE WIFE.A-PARTY TO THE CRIME?

Not a few people think that both parents were concerned in the murder of the children, and that the husband gave the fatal dose to his wife. Then he wrote some letters, and finally poisoned himself. The bodies of the seven victims found upstairs were undressed, and were lying in bed as if asleen. They had evidently been carefully and provided the seven to be a subject to the seven victims found upstairs were undressed, and were lying in bed as if asleen. They had evidently been carefully and provided the seven to be a subject to the seven victims found upstairs were undressed, and were lying in bed as if asleen. They had evidently been carefully and provided the seven to be a subject to the seven victims found upstairs were undressed, and were lying in bed as if asleen. They had evidently been carefully and provided the seven victims found a light and they come of the seven victims found upstairs were the cameron and they come of the seven victims found upstairs were and carefully and they care now. A wail of despair floated over those gray-coated masses of Muscovite in carries were undressed, and were lying in bed as if asleen. They had evidently been carefully the care now. A wail of despair floated over those gray-coated masses of Muscovite in carries were undressed, and were lived to cache the come of the seven victims from the care of the careful provided to cache the come of t

"Take, oh! take me to Thy care."

Buch was their last song on earth—the signift cance of which is as overwhelming as the catastrophe, which followed. Less than 'I want to ask you what you may think is a very thours after their chil ish lips formed at the inno-ent invocation they were truly at the rest—in the sleep that knows no awakening.

Patrick Daley, of Meriden, Cana., 101 years old, has just made a contract with its daughter, Mrs. George Huser, to plough the garden in the apring. He is strong and hearty and can eat a big dinner of pork, corned beet and cabbage, washing it down with copious draughts of hard cider.

He Took the Bint.

"Mr. Sampson," she said with a blush, "I want to ask you what you may think is a yeary strange question: Do you know if young ft. Brown, as gentleman of correct hammed and hawed. "Well—re—hum—yes," he said, "I think he is, but oh, Miss Smith—Miss Clara—Clara—" A little later he looked down into her eyes and said: "Why did you ask me about Mr. Brown, darling?" "Because I fancied he is becoming interested in a very dear friend of mine," said the girl unblushingly.—

Epoch.