So an expedition is to set out to Egypt, where, strange as it sounds, the great pyramid will be utilized by the investigators. First the weight of the pyramid will be ascertained, and then the weight of the earth estimated from its proportionate size. The swinging of pendulums will be the gauge, for the pendulum is affected by the power of pendulum is affected by the power of attraction exerted by a large or small attraction exerted by a large or small body—a mere question of arithmetic to the man of science. From the force exerted by the pyramid in pulling the swinging pendulum from its natural course the weight of the pyramid can be estimated, and that of the earth—the exact size of which is known—can then be easily calculated.

Section Four, re Sunday Labor, Discussed For Hours.

But the Section Stands Over-Premier's Insistence on Park Closing Clause of Bill Brings Forth a Phillipic From Mr. Bourassa-The Original Clause Carries-Censure of the Moncton Land Deal Voted Down.

Ottawa, June 22 .- After fifteen hours Ottawa, June 22.—After fifteen hours of hard work in committee yesterday the House decided to rest from its labors on the Lord's Day bill. The progress so far has been unsatisfactory.

Nearly all of the day was consumed in discussing section four, which, in substance, provides that any employer who requires an employe to work on Sunday must give him twenty-four consecutive hours of rest during the next six days.

next six days.

After hours of effort, the Minister of Justice asked to have this section stand over, and the committee proceeded to section five, which deals with the matter of closing parks on Sunday. The Premier's insistence upon this clause brought forth a phillipic from Mr. Bourassa. He spoke dramatically and at times he quivered with tically, and at times he quivered with Sir Wilfrid Laurier refused both amendments. He could not yield everything demanded by the Protestants of Ontario or by the Catholics of Quebec. Last year he had been acquised of being ridden by Sharetti; this year he was accused of being ridden by Shearer.

Mr. Bourassa made an impassioned reply. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was destroying the great work of his life. The keystone of our national fabric is

The keystone of our national fabric is toleration; each race, creed, and protoleration; each race, creed, and province must respect the others. The Moncton Land Deal.

Upon motion to go into supply Mr. Ames (Moatreal), offered a resolution of censure respecting the Moncton land deal, which he denounced as a glaring instance of the rake-off which followed all dealings between Matthew Lodge and Mr. Emmerson's department.

Mr. Emmerson said that at the time he purchased the land he believed that he was getting a splendid bargain. He made a sweeping denial of any corrupt action on his part.

Mr. Foster (North Toronto), opined that a nod was as good as a wink to a blind person. Mr. Lodge was a sharp fellow and Mr. Emmerson was no fool. The Minister admittedly gave the tip to Lodge that the Government was going to buy.

Mr. Fielding said that Moncton real estate was rapidly growing in value. It was to be the terminus of the G. T. P., and that fact had boomed the city.

L. Borden thought that Mr. R. L. Borden thought that Mr. Fielding was easily satisfied. He wished us to believe that Mr. Lodge by blind chance had bought lot after lot in Moneton until he controlled some 18 acres, and that by equally blind chance the Government had not only purchased the lots just acquired by Mr. Lodge; and, stranger still, had purchased neither more no less than what Lodge was prepared to sell.

Upon division Mr. Ames' motion of censure was lost—yeas, 46; nays, 89 Mr. Hourassa was not present. Mr. Verville voted with the Government.

SPEEDY CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out with pain. My doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to end my frightful sufferings.

"My mother-in-law begged me to try Cuticura. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh, and brought me the first real sleep in weeks. It was as grateful as ice to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely, and took the Resolvent for the blood. Soon the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, my hair started to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. If any one doubts this, tell them to write to me.—Mrs. Wm. Months afterward, upon returning to Brazil, the crew determined to satisfy their curiosity. Accordingly they mentioned the circumstance to their friends and were informed that at the time when the sounds were heard the bells in the cathedral of San Salvador, on the coast, had been ringing to celebrate a feast held in honor of one of the saints.

Their sound, wonderful to relate, favored by a gentle, steady breeze, had traveled a distance of upward of 100 miles over the smooth water and had been brought to a focus by the sails at the particular locality in which the sweet sounds were first heard.

This is but one of several instances of a similar kind, trustworthy authorities claiming that this same music is often heard under somewhat the same Dhatham.
