A concert under the auspices of St. Francis (R.C.) church, will be held in College Hall, next Thursday evening. Among the performers will be: Mrs. B. W. Wallace and Mr. J. A. Thomson, violinists; Miss M. Kathleen Magee, reader; Mr. B. W. Wallace, vocalist; and others. A high-class entertainment is assured, and we hope that it may be generously patronized.

Nobliest line of Neck Ties, all the newest styles in Tom Thumb, Yachts, Bows, Four-in-Hand, at Borden's.

The parlor concert held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Woodman, of this town, last Wednesday evening, was a decided success—both financially and artistically. The entertainers were: Mr. J. A. Macdonald, who played the violin and the whistle to perfection; Miss Macdonald, who both read and sang in a very pleasing manner; Miss Lise Forbes, who has a very sweet voice; and Mrs. Havelock Vaughan, who has a highly cultured soprano voice, of great power and sweetness. Mr. Macdonald also entertained the company by performing some feats of magic, and hypnotic suggestion. All present were thoroughly well pleased with the entertainment.

LOOK!—For Sale or to Let, House and stable in Wolfville, good garden 1/2 acre, 20 apple trees, 30 plum, pear and cherry trees, gooseberry and raspberry bushes. Picked 400 boxes strawberries this year.

Lower Horton Sunday school, W. O. Trenholm, Supt., held their annual picnic at Blue Beach on Wednesday last. There was a large attendance of old and young—some twenty-five teams, single and double, and some on wheels. The day was perfect, the beach as clean as a floor, and passing within half were two steamers and several schooners, and across the river two large ships at anchor. With an opera glass the opposite shore of Cheverie, with churches and houses and the rich coloring of fields and trees could be brought close to the eye, and North's shipyard, at Hanseport, and other points of interest made quite near. The tide was in and bathing on the clean beach pleasant, and altogether it was a delightful day for all. Blue Beach is on Horton Bluff, a short bit east of the Light House. The drive on the Bluff road is very pretty and there are stalls for horses and shade trees, and everything to make a picnic a success.

Lost.—On Saturday, 2 Keys tied together with a piece of ribbon. The finder will kindly leave at this office.
