The Transvaal was on Thursday last proclaimed a part of the British Empire, proclamation being attended with impressive ceremonies. The Royal Standard was hoisted in the main square of Pretoria, the Grenadiers presented arms, muffled bands played the national anthem. Sir Alfred Milner read the proclamation, and 6,200 troops, representing Great Britain and her colonies, marched past.

Hans Botha recently cut off a train with a reconnoitering party of the High-Bridge between Heidelberg and Greylingstaaf, in the Transvaal Colony, tearing up the rails in front and behind the train. In the fight which followed, two capsules and 8 men were wounded and all were captured. It is reported that former Premier Steyn and the members of the executive council are at Boursbuis, north of Bethlehem, and that he has declared Boursbuis to be the "capital of the Orange Free State. Mr. Steyn has ordered Kriker, a member of the late Volksraad, to be tried on the charge of high treason.

The Boers numbering 300, recently made an attack on the garrison at Jacobabad. The defenders consisted of a detachment of Cape Town Highlanders, who repulsed the attack, with a loss to themselves of 1 killed and 22 wounded. A despatch received at the war office from Lord Roberts, dated Pretoria, Friday, Oct. 26, referring to the fighting of General Dewet's forces October 25, says: "The British losses were heavier than at first reported. An additional officer and twelve men were killed and three officers and 25 men were wounded. The Boers left twenty-two dead and nineteen wounded on the field, and twenty-six Boers were made prisoners. Three Boers who held up their hands in token of surrender and their fire on the British were court-martialled, convicted and sentenced to death. I have confirmed the sentence." The despatch also refers to minor affairs in which the troops of General Kitchener and General Methuen were engaged and to a serious incident on the Orange River Colony, where fifty cavalrymen were annihilated and captured by the Boers, only seven of the party escaping.

Another despatch from Lord Roberts says: "Barton attacked the ubiquitous Dewet near Frederickstad. The Boers were scattered in all directions." Lord Roberts' telegram on the 26th that General Knox successfully engaged Dewet on the 27th. During the Boer retreat, Knox captured Dewet's Beisburg Drift. The Boers lost considerably and left two waggons and three guns. Another ammunition wagon was blown up by a shell. The British had no casualties. Latest despatches say that Dewet with a following of 3,000 Boers is reported in the northern part of the Orange River Colony. Gen. Paigel has taken 65 prisoners, including two field cornets.

Information for Electors.

The Qualification of Voters and How to Vote.

In the electoral districts of this Province the voting takes place by ballot. There is no registration of voters here.

Every male British subject of the age of 21 years and upwards who has for six months previous to the 9th day of October, A. D. 1900, been in possession either as owner, tenant or occupant of a house or piece of land of the yearly value of six dollars shall be entitled to vote.

IN ADDITION TO ABOVE.

In country districts every male British subject of the age of 21 years, who being liable to perform Statute Labor, has performed such Statute Labor or paid his commutation money for the year 1900, shall be entitled to vote, provided he has resided for twelve months in the electoral division.

IN THE CITY OF CHARLOTTETOWN.

If a person cannot qualify as a tenant or owner, he may vote on his poll tax.

If He has resided for twelve months previous to the 9th day of October, A. D. 1900, either east or west of Great George Street, and has paid his poll tax, or 75 cents of it, for the year 1899, OR HE CAN VOTE ON HIS POLL TAX RECEIPT FOR THE PRESENT YEAR, 1900. This tax may be paid at any time before the election, but not on election day.

Every resident voter must vote in the polling district where he is living on election day.

We warn poll tax electors to be prepared with their poll tax receipts before they go into the polling booths. If you do not produce them your votes will not be taken, and you cannot again enter the booth, tenants and owners do not require receipts.

No person who has voted at the election shall in any legal proceeding be required to state for whom he voted.—See Sec. 97 of the Elections Act.

The election law of the Dominion provides for perfect secrecy of the ballot, except in the case of a scrutiny before two judges of the Supreme Court. Before a scrutiny can be held, the person desiring one must deposit in Court one thousand dollars as security that he will be successful. No ballot can be examined until it has been proved that the voter has no vote, and no vote under any circumstances can be examined unless it has been marked objected to before the vote was given. No vote can be marked objected after the voter has received his ballot.

The ballots after being counted are sealed by the Returning Officer, who without opening the packets or breaking the seals, transmits them to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery and whilst in the custody of the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery no person is allowed to inspect them.

Besides the polling-officers and the agents of the candidates, only one elector may enter the polling booth at a time; he MUST mark his ballot in secret, he MUST hand his ballot folded to the polling officer, who MUST place it in the box without opening, and there is a penalty for displaying the ballot in any way that would afford a clue as to how the elector is voting.

Following is a sample of a ballot to be used at this election. Electors should in every case make their mark after the Conservative Candidate's name.
