Five First- Class Buys

SAFE AND SANE is a term that is very applicable to investments in Main street... Always considering, however, that discretion is used in the making of the investment. If you buy at the market value, your profit is sure. We can deliver a double corner 130x100 at the intersection of Main street and Sixth street. The property has a first class spur line at the rear, and is a first class warehouse sit.

$23000

In comparison with the price at which other Main street corners are offered, this is below the market. Good terms can be given. We can deliver, as we have the exclusive sale. The price is to be advanced shortly if not sold. We can safely say there will be big money in this.

ANOTHER

LOCAL NEWS

The Weather.
Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta: North to Northwest winds; light snow falls, and furies, but mostly fair and decidedly cold. Sunday: Decidedly cold.

F. A. Osborne, collector of customs, Edmonton, and A. Allan, collector, Calgary, left on Friday noon for Ottawa, in connection with the customs business.

The Rev. A. G. Saunders arrived in the city yesterday from Winnipeg. Mr. Saunders is now engaged in organizing the opening of a new college at Sommerland, B.C.

Before leaving Medicine Hat for Calgary, Mr. Bennett, the new manager of the Merchants Bank, at Calgary, was presented by his many friends with a beautiful solitaire diamond scarf pin.

The lady superior begs to acknowledge with thanks the handsome sum of $56, sent by Addison & Crawford of the Wigwam for the benefit of the Holy Cross hospital; also $25 from the Winnipeg Paint & Glass Co., per J. D. McDonald.

Because McPhail, a railroad man, who got judgment against the C.P.R. was allowed to show his injured arm to the jury at the time of the trial, the court on banc ordered a new trial.

The weather delayed all trains yesterday coming into Calgary. No 96 from the east was over 15 hours late. The south train was considerably delayed, and No. 16 from the north last evening was nearly three hours late.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, Calgary, Pioneer Lodge I. O. O. F., held a very successful meeting last evening. Six new members were initiated. Considerable business was transacted and a short program was carried out. The next meeting will be held on Friday evening next in the Barber hall.

The Okotoks Review tells of the wedding on New Year's Day at Lineham of Miss Annie Parsons, daughter of S. R. Parsons of that place to S. P. Barth of Okotoks. Miss Parsons for the last two years was stenographer in the city clerk's office, Calgary. Mr. Barth is a prominent Okotoks business man.

AT SHERMAN'S TODAY

At Sherman's Lyric theatre this afternoon and evening Pollards Opera Company will bid farewell to its hundreds of Calgary friends. As this will be the last appearance in America for at least two years, their return will be greeted with enthusiasm. In less than a month these wonderful little Australians theatre singers will be on the Pacific ocean bound for their native land, where they will rest for six months before reorganizing.

As many of the children have grown so large during their long stay in America they will be replaced by smaller ones now in training for the purpose, thus the Calgary friends of the Pollards today will bid many of their juvenile friends good bye for ever. It will be a hard parting for the youngsters who have won a warm place in the heart of the Calgary public.

It is very certain that large audiences will be present for both performances of the Pollards, as their friends will not let them leave Calgary for the last time without a big demonstration. The Lady Slavey will be the afternoon offering, and it is unnecessary to say much, except that the twins will be seen in excellent roles, and Teddy MacNamara will have a fine chance, also all the little principles. Tonight grand vaudeville will be the farewell performance. It is an excellent bill for the youngsters. All the tit bits from each of the operas with many of the latest songs and comedy situations, and the prospects of farewell speeches from them, should prove a performance never to be forgotten.
