dence was gone through on both sides. The evidence went to show that the was indisposed by the same.
Inspector Dearness stated that teachers were especially enjoined not to strike pupils on the head.

Miss Smith said that she felt it her duty to punish the boy, as he would not read the question. She had spent about an hour with him, and did not think he had been unreasonably punished. In order to demonstrate the tap she had given Alway, Miss Smith held up the ruler and proposed to gently rap Mr. Frank Love's polished dome, but that gentleman stepped back and said it was not necessary. The case is still in progress.

THE ASSEMBLY

Discusses the Matter of Schools in the Northwest.

Montreal June 18 .- Although the general assembly got through much routine business yesterday morning it was not far enough advanced to reach an adjournment.

The most important questions which came before the court were the forward movement and the schools of the Northwest. In regard to the former a proposition was made that it would be well for the assembly to start a fund for the purpose of advancing the schemes of the church on the commencement of the next century, somewhat after the proposition of the Methodists. It was thought that a half, or even a whole million, might be collected for the purpose. The matter was left in the hands of a committee to deal with and report at the next assembly. In regard to the forward movement, Rev. Dr. Warden thought it would be a good plain to raise half a million or office of Mayor Harrison, Chicago, is. ment. They might endow a chair in each of their theological colleges; they might give $100,000 to the aged and infirm ministers' and the widows' and orphans' funds, remove the debt on the Ottawa Ladies' College, and place in the hands of the home and foreign mission committees money, so that they would not have to go to the banks in anticipation of the grants made by the assembly. He moved that a small committee be appointed to correspond with the convener of every standing committee of the general assembly with the view to preparing and per-fecting a scheme to raise half a million or a million dollars to forward scheme in connection with the church at the beginning of the century; to report to the next general as-embly. The motion carried.

In the matter of Northwest schools, The motion carried. it was thought that the church might pay more attention to the subject, including the schools of Manitoba and British Columbia in that connection. The sending of so many Protestant girls to Catholic convents was severely criticised, and the opinion was expressed that they would not be likely to make very good Protestants. The matter was left in the hands of a special committee to make a report at the next assembly if possible.

Spanish Papers Publish a Manifesto Favoring Peace-Why the Queen Regent Desired to Abdicate.

New York, June 18. - The Evening World, under a Washington date, says that at the cabinet meeting vesterday it was decided that the invasion proper of Cuba and proposed attack on Havana shall not occur until fall. The paper claims to have obtained this information from a high source, coupled with the assertion that the president and Secretary Alger were loth to consent Causes a Law Suit-Lady School to this long delay, but having been convinced that the exposure to disease would be very great if the campaign should be conducted in the rainy season, they withdrew their objections. > The Queen Regent. REASONS WHY SHE WISHED TO

ABDICATE. rk. June 18 - A the Herald from Madrid says: News concerning the abdication of the Queen Regent of Spain, which was given by the Temps without details, has been very half-heartedly denied in the Madrid press. The queen regent, much depressed by the sad situation of the country, and the Spanish people's lack of sympathy for her, made up her mind a fortnight ago to renounce her rights and title as regent in favor of the Infanta Isabella, ster of the late King Alfonso XIII. This princess being Spanish in heart and mind, is much beloved throughout the kingdom. The queen regent thought by yielding the regency to her she would disarm the adversaries of the existing regime and rally all the sympathies around the little king. She even formed the resolution of quitting Spain for a time, after her abdication, with her two daughters, leaving the young sovereign to reign and the new regent. She summoned Premier Sagasta and eloquently laid her plan before him. A ministerial council was held, after which all the members visited the queen regent to beg of her to give up the scheme for the present. They told her that under the present circumstances abdication would seem like flight, and would be very badly construed by the Medicine Co., Limited:

Premier Sagasta was so persuasive that he received the following reply from the queen regent: "I admit you are right, sir, but I do not altogether give up my plan. I only postpone it.' SPANISH TROOPS WITH THE

GEN. MILES' PECULIAR POSITION. Pills, thank God. Six boxes cured me

New York, June 18.-The World has the following from Washington: Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commanding the army, is here, with his official status undetermined and practically bereft of his authority. Although questions of great moment are pending, Gen. Miles has not been consulted by the president. He does not know whether he will resume his former position or be sent to some new assignment. He is ignorant as to the plans of the president and Secretary Alger. It is the opinion in army circles that Gen. Miles will either be superseded or permitted to retain nominal direction of the army.

Gen. H. C. Corbin is the army official to whom the president looks for advice. He is called into consultation in all matters of importance. Within a few days he will, it is said, be named by the president for the rank of major-

Gen. Miles now occupies a position similar to that filled by George B. Mc-Clellan at the beginning of the civil war. He is waiting for ideal conditions. The prosecution of the Cuban war will necessitate the adaptation of the army

Madrid, June 18.-There is considerable comment here today over a long conference which has just taken place between the British ambassador to Spain, Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, and the Spanish minister for war. Gen Correa. The newspapers of this city today publish the text of a manifesto from the inhabitants of Catalonia in favor of peace between Spain and the says Gomez was wounded in the left arm by a Mauser bullet. The wound healed quickly, however, in spite of the general's advanced age, and when the captain left headquarters the old chief was able to work with his arm as well as before he was hit. Gomez says Capt. Conte is now especially desirous of receiving arms and food. It is understood that a definite plan for the co-operation of the troops under Gomez with the United States, when the time for such co-operation arrives, has been arranged between the general and the war department at Washington. Meantime Gomez will keep his forces scattered.
