Up to and including Saturday last Steinitz had beaten Capt. Mackenzie three out of their series of six games of chees and one had been drawn. The fourth game took 7 hours and 65 moves to play.

Four rinks of the Toronto Curling club got a beating at Brampton yesterday by the local club, the winners of the Ontario tankard. Brampton has won a round dozen of curling matches this year and as not suffered defeat once.

William Shay, of New Hamburg, N. Y., has sold for $1,000 to an English purchaser his fast Texan pony, 13½ hands, that has paced a half in 1.11. Handicap races for trotters and pacers are much the fashion in England at present.

The famous stallion Santa Claus has been under treatment at a veterinary stable located at Twenty-fourth street and Rhdge avenue, New York. He is said to be about cured of his trouble, and will be jogged on the road the last of March.

Among the latest accessions to the English turf is Among the latest accessions to the English turf is the Count de San Antonio, who purchased several yearlings at Mr. Waring's and other sales last season in the name of Signor Serrano, which are now in training by young John Dawson at Queensberry cot-tage, Newmarket. The horse Commodore Vanderbilt is owned by Andy Murphy, an Omaha blacksmith. He was bought of General Singleton, at Quincy, Ill., nine years ago by the Messrs Murphy, of Omaha, and has not been out of Nebraska since. A correspondent says he is as mean as ever. The most remarkable feature in the betting on en the English Derby is the steady and persistent moving forward of Beau Brummel to the position of first favorite. According to the last quotations he ruled firm at 10 to 1, a great deal of money having gone on for him. Fulmon is likewise substantially backed and has crowded Macheath down to third values. place.
In the western states the past two weeks will be long remembered as a period of bitter cold weather, the thermometer during that time often indicating a temperature of 20 to 40 degrees below zero in Wisconsin, Minesota, Iowa and throughout the Northwest. This intense cold weather has resulted in the destruction of large numbers of quait, and on the bleak prairies whole packs of pinnated grouse have ikewise been frozen. The sons of Imp. Leamington now doing stud dutes are: Enquirer, at Belle Meade; Longfellow, at Natura; Sensation, at Bowling Brook; Eolus, at Eliersite; Powhatan, at Woodburn; Hyder All, at the Meadows; Reform, at Erdenheim: Lyttleton, a Montgomery Square, Pa.; Onondaga, at McGrathiana; Lelaps, at Dixlana; Aristides, at the Harkins Farm, Ind.; Iroquois, at Bancocae, when he returns from England, and Ferncliffe, at Magnolla, Ky. Sir Samuel Martin, the late ex-baron of the English court of exchequer, was an enthusiastic lover of race horses and the turf. The library in his chambers overlooking the fountain in the middle temple consisted of law books, the bible and the Racing Calender was something extraordinary, although he never made a bet, and when he first began to take an interest in the subject of the turf he had never seen a race. race.

Jem Mace's son was drowned in the Thames Dec.

The letter announcing the accident was sent to Australia and followed Mace to New York. The little fellow was the ex-champion's youngest son, was named Benjamin Frankiin and was born near Newark, N.J., in 1870. Mace has two other sons and two daughters. One of the sons is a clergy-man. Mace sent a cable message to his daughter Hannah asking if the body had been found. He will not sall for Europe at present.

A meeting of the committee of the Montreal chess association was held on Saturday to decide upon a point that arose in connection with the recent chess tourney in Montreal. In the last game between Dr. Howe and Mr. Ascher it resulted in a draw. On the opening of a new game Mr. Ascher claimed the enforcement of the time limit—15 moves to the hour—a rule of the-Canadian chess association. Dr. Howe objected to the enforcement of the rule, and in consequence refused to play.

Ivo Bligh's English eleven tran-cends anything done in England by the Australians. The match concluded on Jan. 22nd leaves no room for doubting the supremacy of the English eleven both with bat and ball. They secred 294 in their first innings, and Murdoch's eleven being sent back for scores of 114 and 183, the Englishmen won by one in-ings and 27 runs. This more than wives out the rankling memories of the defeats of All England and Gentlemen of England, It was said last season that Murdoch's team had destroyed the supremacy of English cricker, and carried away the ashes to Australia. Ivo Bligh and his famous team have not only rescued those asher, but have kindled from them a brighter glow than. English cricket has hitherto known. Our countrymen now in Australia have not lost a single match, but with the enormous improvement in Australian cricket it is too much to expect that they will, like George Patr's famous eleven, return without a single lost match in their book.

Rullivan thus delivers himself on old-time sparring: "They may say what they please about old-time boxers and the science they had or have (and these very old-timers now among us take the greatest pains to tell newspaper men how great they once were), but they are not what they claim to be. Coburn told a reporter at Auburn, N.Y., when a ked how I compared with boxers of fifteen years a co, that I could not come up to them in science, but was powerfully strong and muscular. For him elf, he said he 'had lost none of his old-time science and cleveness.' I know what I am talking about when I say that I soo Coburn is a fair example of the sci ntific boxers of his earlier carer, they must have been a very poor lot, for a worse or less scientific sparrer than Coburn himself it would be hard to find; in 'act, he is very bad. When I asked him about the Auburn interview he denied having said a word to the reporter, but I knew bester, and after that I showed him just what modern science was. I have made up my mind that he is not good enough forme to box with even in hall exhibitions, and I don't think I am doing justice to myself in traveling through the country with him as an equal partner in the exhibition sheness."

An undoubted baseball boom prevails in the in the exhibition business."

An undoubted baseball boom prevails in the United States. Never before has there been such an early demand for supplies. Nearly twice the number of baseballs have gone from the manufacturers so far than had been disposed of at this time last year. Bats and other goods are being turned out and sold in proportionate quantities. But few people outside of professional baseball players have an idea of the amount of baseball goods used in a year, even when there is no such boom as prevails at present. It is estimated that nearly an equal number of bats were sold. To manufacture these bats nearly 30,000 cords of wood must have been employed. Michigan manufactures more baseballs and the sold of the second of the bats nearly 30,000 cords of word must have been employed. Michigan manufactures more baselall hats than any other state, for in Michigan the best wood is found. Bats used by professional clube are wood is found. Bats used by professional clube are wood, strong and exastic as it is, must be of the best quality and perfectly seasoned in order to stand the strains put upon it by baseball players of to-day. The majority of bats made, however, are intended for amateur players, and are manufactured from American willow. Recently orders for baseball supplies have been received from European countries, Australia and even Japan.

The training put upon the professional clubes are strained and the professional clubes are the great sources of most diseases for which great sour

Sullivan is on the talk again. Instead of geing to New York straight, he smales off to Boston and gets Joe Coburn-to go to Mase and S'ade aud propose a "grand united boxing combination." Mace declines on the ground of a previous engagement. Sullivan then opens out and says: "I am prepared to fight slade at any time in any state where we can have it done without the interference of the authorities, from one week to three months from the date of signing-articles, for from $5000 to $20 000 a side, and would much rather fight for the latter sum. I don't want any six months about it, as Slade's backer proposes. If he means business, five weeks it enough for any man to train and get himse find fine trim." Mace says: 'In matches for the championship, and have always had from four to six mouths in which to graph the battle is seldom arranged to take place in less than six months form four to six mouths in which to represe myself. Slade has been only a short time in America, and it would be unfair to sak him to fight in the time specified by Sullivan. If he had his own way he would 6 hit now, but his breker and myself will not consent to his arranging a match unless he has reasonable time to prepare himself. Slade, in my opinion, is able to fight any man fring, as dhe will fight. "I'wan any time six nonths after signing a ticles." For the championship, a publist is allowed six months as a hunit, at the end of which, if ch langed, he must r. H. quish the claim or fight."

Stade's people evidently mean business, if the following statement made by one of his backers has any significance. He says: "If Sullivan and his friends think I am not aware of the responsibility incurred by putting up money and naming a place for a fight, they are mistaken; and as Slade, Mace, Mr. Fox and mysel have already suffered enough annoyance at the hands of the New York police, I do not propose running any more risks, but I will meet Sullivan's representative at any place in Jersey he may selectly prepared to put un $2500 deposit on account of a stake of $5000 a side for a fight between Sullivan and Slade within six months. Mr. Sullivan says he would like to fight for $20,000 a side. I think myself $10,000 is a nice little sum, but I will accemmodate him with a side bet to sny amount."

While thus through The World commending the efforts and success so far of the workingmen of West Toronto, I trust that similar action will be taken to have other workingmen, together with practical farmers, nominated, and that they shall have actual seats in our local legislature.

With a view to ventilate a much-needed reformation in the weighing of wheat and other farm produce at railway wheat buying depots throughout "this Canada of ours," I beg to suggest that the electors, farmers and others of the province will consider the propriety of helping themselves by requesting their respective candidates to piedge themselves for or against something like the following:

That in the event of securing their election, they will avail themselves of opportunities of using their influence, and in securing the influence and support of members of the liegislature and dominion houses, to adopt a system of public weighing, by sworn weighers, in the interests of sellers or buyers of wheat, pork and other farm produce at all buying depots or railway stations where there are or may become two, three, four, five or more buyers.

That the adoption of the above proposed system of weighing can be made easily practicable, and prove a great saving to farmers and others, is respectfully submitted.

The feeling indicated is daily becoming stronger in Canada, and ideas tending toward annexation are now freely expressed where a few years since it would have been unsafe to approach the subject. F. A young gentleman was undergoing an examination at the college of surgeons when the questions put were of a very searoning character. After answering a number of queries, he was asked what he would prescribe to throw a pratient into a prefuse perspiration. "Why," exclaimed the youthful Galen, "I would send him here to be examined; and if that did not give him a sweat I do not know what would."

GRATEFUL-COMFORTING

"By a thorough knowledge of the natura' laws which govern the operations of digestion and jutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Occoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselver well fortified with pure blood and a properly nour ished frame."—O'civ' Service Gazette.
