H. R. Diehl, will conduct the services, the former of whom will preach the thanksgiving sermons.

The churches will be decorated with grains, fruits, flowers, etc., and suitable music will be furnished by the choirs.

The thank offering will be devoted to Canadian and foreign missions. It is expected that the congregations will be large and the thank offerings liberal.

All are cordially invited.

On Thursday evening last friends and neighbors of Mr. E. McGillicuddy and daughter to the number of about sixty, surprised them at their home, Main Road, to bid them farewell prior to their moving into Watford. A very pleasant time was spent in games, music and conversation until about one o'clock when the company left for their homes expressing all kinds of good wishes for the welfare and happiness of Mr. McGillicuddy and his daughter. Rev. W. M. Shore was chairman of the gathering, and Mr. Walter Wilson read the following address, and on behalf of those present presented Mr. McGillicuddy with a handsome leather rocking chair, and Miss Maggie with a Lady's Companion.

To E. McGILICUDDY, ESQ.

We, the members of St. Paul's Church, Warwick, and your friends and neighbors, bearing of your intended departure from our midst, assemble here to-night to bid you farewell.

We desire to express our good wishes for the health and happiness of Miss Maggie and yourself in your new home. Words fail to express our deep regret at the thought of your departure from our immediate neighborhood. Your home has been the centre of pleasure and hospitality for many years. You have been a constant worker and worker in St. Paul's church from its inception. And the whole community will miss your kindly friendship and genial manner. May we ask you and Miss Maggie kindly to accept these very small tokens of our sincere esteem and friendship. We pray that the Divine blessing and protection may rest upon and overshadow you, and that you may find your new home in every sense congenial and pleasant. Signed on behalf of your friends.

Watford, Sept., 1912.

Mr. McGillicuddy made a neat reply, thanking the donors for their handsome presents and good wishes and referred to some of the many pleasant incidents that had occurred and the good feeling always displayed by his neighbors during the sixty years he had resided in Warwick, and felt sure that his removal to town would not in any way weaken the old-time friendships.

BROOKE.

Jury, Strathroy; Mrs. Brandreth and daughter, Mrs. J. Brent and Mrs. Wm. Leacock, Kerwood; Mrs. Geo. H. Oke and daughter, Mr. Richard Oke and Miss Oke, Alvinston.

The Late Mrs. John Harrison.

Another one has passed peacefully away to the Great Beyond in the person of Eliza Jane Ejoy, in her 77th year, on Wednesday, Sept. 12th, 1912, after a short but severe illness. Deceased had been in poor health for about three years, but up to about two weeks had been in her usual health.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband and three daughters, two brothers, Silas Ejoy, Petrolia, and Albert Ejoy, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

She was laid away to rest in Watford cemetery on Friday, Sept. 6th, the service at the house being conducted by Rev. S. V. R. Pentland, assisted by Rev. S. P. Irwin, and Rev. H. E. Currie assisting at the burial service. Mr. Pentland spoke appropriately from the text, "Then how will thou do in the swelling of Jordan?" Jeremiah 12, part of 5th verse.

Many beautiful floral tokens testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The pall-bearers were Jas. Dempsey, F. Atchison, Geo. Lucas, J. Scott, Wm. Miller and D. McDonald.

JOHN WHITE

DO YOU CARE FOR YOUR HAIR?

Of course you do—every man and woman does. That's why no one likes to lose his hair.

One of the greatest enemies of the hair is dandruff. It indicates a diseased scalp. And a diseased scalp can't nourish the hair properly. When the hair fails to get proper nourishment it dies and falls out. It's perfectly simple when you understand it.

And still people say "I can't see why my hair comes out."

Dandruff—a sluggish circulation of the blood through the scalp—impaired vitality of the hair follicles—and the hair dies.

Nyal's Hair Restorer gets at the root of the trouble, by overcoming the dandruff. After a few applications, according to the explicit directions accompanying each bottle, the dandruff is seen to be very much diminished in quantity and continued use banishes it entirely.

At the same time the use of Nyal's Hair Restorer stimulates the scalp and promotes the vitality of the roots of the hair, causing a more healthy growth.

We do not claim that this will restore hair in case of complete baldness, but it will keep you from losing what hair you have.

Besides that, it's a delightful toilet article, and very agreeable for daily use in dressing the hair. It does not become sticky, neither does it make the hair harsh and dry. On the contrary by regulating the natural flow of oil from the scalp it keeps the hair soft and glossy.

It's made from a good old formula—so good that after years of use the people prefer it to any other sort of hair tonic.

Sells for 75c a big bottle.
