"William Grant Stairs, Stanley's right hand man, was born in Halifax, in 1863, so that he is in the neighborhood of 26 years old. The young explorer is the son of the late John Stairs, of that city. Mr. John F. Stairs, ex.M. P., is his uncle. Young Stairs received a first-class education in his native city, and in September, 1878, joined the Royal Military College at Kingston. He graduated in June, 1882, with honors and soon afterwards went to Now Zealand, where he had secured a good position as an engineer on the construction of one of the railways. He worked in the Now Zealand bush for three years and at the counts.

The Gleaner, Gredericton) tells us that the cotton business connected with the growth of springs, is represent in Boston on business connected with their celebrated waters. He is expected to return this week.
