The English Countles Scient a Majority-Bucching nationalist Aictor, in Mest Echnic Sections True to Glade nevne-More Parmellites Returned.

LONDON, July 8 .- The last hope of the Gladstonians—the vote in the counties—has failed. The English counties are going Unionist. The counties of Somerset, Warwick, Hereford, Derby, Benbigh and Shropshire, in which counties the agricultural vote thad returned Conservatives. Scotland constitutes of the state of the stat had returned Conservatives. Scotland con-tinues Gladatonian. Namerous county pools have not yet been taken, but is impossible to reveree the detect of the Government. The Unionists are confident of an ultimate strength of 370 against 300. The Conservastrength of 370 against 300. The Conserva-tives are certain that with a compact phalaux of 300 members, Lord Salisbury will form a parely Conservative ministry. Mr. McCart-ney, Conservative, has been elected in South Antrim, the nomination of the Nationalist candidate having been declared informal. The Tories have gained the north and south divisions of West Ham and the Accrington and Southport divisions of Lancashirs. Every noll shows increased Tory votes. The net poll shows increased Tory votes. The net Unionist gain at 1 a.m. is twenty-nine. Mr. Crawford who was connected with the Dilke case, has been re-elected in Northeasts anarkahire. Sir J. E. Reed, Gladatonian, has been elected in Strond, Gloncestershire, by 300 majority, after a great fight with Mr. Brand, one of the majors anirits of the Unionists. one of the moving spirits of the Unionists.

The latest totals are 240 Tories, 47 Unionists, 119 Liberals and 55 Parnellites. The result of the elections up to now and the present position of parties is therefore:

over Gladstonians and Parnellites.... 66 CONSERVATIVE GAINS IN THE COUNTIES. The returns from the English counties show large gains for the Conservatives, who are wining some of the county division by sweeping majorities. Such is the case in North Cambridgeshire, North Shropshire, West Somersetshire and Northeast and Southwest Warwickshire, in all of which the Tories have won the seats held by Liberals striking life size portrait of Pope Leo XIII. in the last house. The Tories have also taken Carnarvon from the Liberals. James Ranwhere His Holiness gave sittings—privileges kin, Conservative, won the Leominster divi-sion of Herefordshire by a majority of nearly 2,000. He was defeated by T. Duckham, Liberal, in the same district last election by a majority of 121. The Leominster returns were the first published from the county elections to day, and the result caused profound excitement among the Tories all over England. S. Waddy, Q.C., Gladstonian, extried the Brigg division of Lincolnshire by a majority of over 2,000 less than that ob-tained by the Liberal candidate at the last election. The news, published alongside of the great Tory victory in Leominster, put the Liberals in a gloom.

Thomas Sexton (Parnellite) who sat in the last house for South Sligo, went up into Belfast again this campaign to contest the west division against Ald. J. Haslett, Conservative, who defeated Mr. Sexton in the same district last election by a vote of 2,778 against 3,743, a Conservative majority of 35. Mr. Sexton has now won the district and scored the greatest Parnellite victory of the campaign so far, defeating Haslett by a vote of 3,882 to 3,729, a majority of 153.

E. S. W. DaCobain (Conservative) has been re-elected to Parliament from the east divi-sion of Belfast by a vote of 5,068 against 1,289 obtained by his Parnellite opponent, Mr. McCalmont. At the last election the poll atood: DeCobain (Conservative), 3,033; Corry (Conservative), 2,990; and Murray (Liberal), 837. Wrg. Johnston (Conservative) is re-elected for the southern division of Beliast by a vote of 4,542 against 657 obtained by Mr. McErlean, Parnellite. Johnston had a majority last year of 2,620, and this time has one of 3,885.

DUBLIN, July 7.—Bank of Ireland stock full to 267. Crowds paraded the street; until a last the hour, headed by bands of music and carr, ving torches and American and Irish flags. Enthusiastic cheers were given for Parnell and Home Rule. Mr. Sexton was seranade, 1 at his hotel. Lalmohun Gkose, who was defeated at Deptford, will contest Ossory, Que. o's county, as a Parnellite. Among the Parnellite candidates returned unopposed to-d. w were: Lawrence Connolly, for South Longfo. vd; P. J. Power, for East Waterford; T. L. Carew, north division of Kildare; A. Blaine, south division of Ar-magh; Hanlon, for East Cayan; P. A. magn; Hanlon, for Cast Cavan; F. A. Chance, for South Kilk enny; Mr. Mahony, for North Meath; J. D. Sheahan, for East Kerry, and E. Leamy, for Northeast Cork. Sir T. Ezmonde, Bart, Parnellite, was relected for the south division of Dublin County by a vote of 5 000 acres at 3 254 for county by a vote of 5,022, again at 3,254 for Mr. Pim, his opponent. In November last Esmonde polled 5,114, and Hamilton (Conservative) 3,736, a Nationalist majority of 1,378, which is now increased to 1,768.

London, July 8.—Returns received up .*o six o'clock this evening show a total Conservative and Unionist vote of 942,437 and a Gladstonian vote of 887,728. Of the sixtytwo London seats only eleven have been secured by Gladstonians. The Government newspapers admit that the voice of the majority of the masses is the same as that of the classes. The totals at this heur (midnight) are Conservatives and Unionists 302; Glad-stonians 195. The Conservatives, in order to obtain a working majority independent of the Liberal-Unionists, must parry 82 of the remaining 173 seats, and it is considered im. probable that they will succeed in doing so. The Gladstonians rely upon the collapse of the Conservative Union to coalition when Lord Salishury takes Lord Salisbury takes office, and they are cer tain that the Conservatives cannot dominate the House of Commons unless the Unionists co-or rerate with them. It is reported in covernment circles that Mr. Gladstone is undaunted, and is determined to wage a cease-less battle in Parliament. Political leaders of every party anticipate a period of unprecedented Parliamentary conflict.

LONDON, July 8.—The following Parnellite candidates have been returned unopposed: J. G. Biggar, for West Cavan, J. O'Cornor, South Kerry; E. Shiels, South Mesth; L. P. Hayden, South Leitrim. J. F. X. O'Brien (Parneliite) has been re-elected to Parliament in the South division of Mayo without opposition. All were opposed last year except Shiels. Among the other candidates re-turned to-day are Justin_McCarthy (Parnellite) North Longford ; James Tuite (Parnel lite) North Westmeath; R. J. P. Cerey (Tory) middle Armagb, by 4,160 against 2.522 for Mr. Gardner (Parnellite); Arthur O'Connor (Parnellite) East Donegal, by a reduced majority in a diminished vote; John J. POPE LEO'S NEW PORTRAIT.

I called at the artist's studio in South Kensington to see the picture, which will shortly be exhibited in the States. The Pope has often been painted, but never, I believe, in so natural and unaffected a pose as the one chosen by Mr. Thaddeus. His Holiness is shown seated in his study preparing one of the admirable Latin encyclicals which have won him the reputation of one of the greatest classical scholars of his time. He is clad in white. He sits in his favorite armobair, pen in hand. sits in his favorite armchair, pen in hand, with his head bent slightly forward as though listening to some literary inspiration. His delicate, intellectual features are stamped with thought. One hand droops languidly beside him over the right knee. The artist has skilfully disposed the red drapery. Round capability of Lishmen to maintain their selfthe Pontiff's neck hangs a golden chain, torminated with a cross.

SKILFUL DELINEATION. A white skull cap crowns the wrinkled, careworn, lofty forehead. The eyes are full of life and thought. The mouth, fly far the most conspicuous feature of Leo XIII.'s face, has a more pleasing and restful expression than it usually wears. Perhaps, too, a more literal painter would have shown the lines and wrinkles more, even though by so doing he might have detrected from the calm hapsylerics as IN AID OF IRELAND. have detracted from the calm benevolence so characteristic of the Pontiff. The artist shows his illustrious model at his best. In many ways this portrait is the most satisfactory yet painted.

A MURDER AND SUICIDE.

TERRIBLE TRACEDY AT BELLEVILLE, CAUSED

BY A TRIFLING QUARREL. BELLEVILLE, July 8 .- A shocking tragedy, the result of a trifling quarrel, occurred here to-day. John Pentland, an old pensioner. and Wm. Mack, grocer, occupied separate apartments in the same building, Pentland some time ago claimed a portion of the garden plot attached to the house, but his claim was denied. The dissension increased, and in the Police court this morning Pentland charged Mack with having assaulted him, but the charge was dismissed. Pentland, on leaving the court, swore he would have vergeance, but no heed was paid to his threats. About 1.30 p.m., as Mr. and Mrs. Mack were seated in the shop, Pentland approached, and, presenting a revolver at Mrs. Mack, fired at her. She acreamed and started to run across the road. Peutland pursued her, and placing the pistol's muzzle close to her back, fired a second shot at her as she fled. The ball struck her between the shoulder blades, and passing entirely through her body, came out at the left breast directly above the heart. The ascassin then returned to the shop, and fired three shots at Mack, to the shop, and pred view shore at Mack, but fortunately without effect. In trying to escape Mack fell, and Pentland, thinking he had completed his work, cooly walked to his end of the house, entered a room and locked the door. In the meantime the police had been summoned and Mrs. Mank was attended to. Her wound is fatal. The police called upon Pentland to surrender, but he refused, saying he would not be taken alive. While the officers were consulting as to the best method of effecting capture of the murderer, a shot was heard in his 193m. They then broke open the door and found him stretched on a bed dying from a wound in his breast. Ho died in a few minutes without uttering a

As things stand now, it tooks as though the new parliament will be much like the old. The Liberals will not have a decisive majority, nor the Conservatives, even with the support of the Liberal and Radical Unionists, who have made a common cause with them. What them will happen? I suppose Lord Salisbury will be installed in office and be supported by Hartington's friends and mem error Birmingh m. What then will be the duty of the Radicals? To render it possible for anyone else than Gladstone to carry on a government. This they can easily do by strict alliance with the Irish. Should the Tories obtain the upper hand and attempt to Tories obtain the upper hand and attempt to pass a coercion act, the Radicats and Irish should fight on until they are suspended. This will bring things to a crisis. Probably at first the Tories and their allies will say "Good riddance," but they will soon find that it will be practically impossible for the house to legislate with one-third of its members excluded, having declared

PARLIAMENTARY FUND-AUTUSION TO CANADIAN AFFAHRA. OTTAWA, July 5 .- On Sunday last N. Mc-Caul, one of the collectors for the Irish Parliamentary Fund, drove out to River parish, in the township of Organde, a short distance above Manotick. Before Mess he requested feer. Father McGoey, parish priest, to announce the taking up of subscriptions in aid of eaid fund. After High Mass his Reverence read a list of names of persons who had subscribed to the Irish Famine fund two weeks ago, to the amount of eighty-six dollars. His Reverence then said, you are called upon again to-day to subteribe for another fund, which I know is a great strain on your financial sources so soon, but it is for a very laudable, under-taking. The Grand Old Man, Mr. Gladstone, after being defeated on the second reading of the Irish Home Rule bill, has decided to appeal to the British people to see if they will decide in favor of peace, prosperity and contentment for the nation, or coercion, dynami'e, bayonets and buckshot, as this was all the Tories intended to give the people of Ireland. This is the reason you are called upon to subscribe on this occasion to avert that dreadful calamity. The reverend gentleman said we have a government at Ottawa, the most corrupt in the world; they were elected to make just laws for the people and for the welfare of the whole people. But in his opinion they were only making I was to fill their own pockets. Curran, Coatigan & Co., he said, to use a vulgar phrase, were a raiding crew. The Irish Chisens of Montreal Pay Their Addresses to Architekop Fabre.

On July 7th a large number of Link Catho-on assembled at the Bishop's Palsoe for the purpose of presenting a congratulatry address to Bishop Fabre on the occasion of his elevation to the Archbishopric The deputation was com to the Archishopric The department was conposed of the leading parishioners of the five Irish parishes. The whole party met in the reception room of the palace, and the following address was presented to His Grace by the Rev.
Fathers Dowd, of St. Patrick's; McCarthy, of St. Antheny's; Lonergan, of St. Mary's; Catulle, of St. Ann's, and Salmon, of St. Gabriels:

THE ADDRESS. To the Most Rev. E. C. FABRE, Archbishop of

Montreal: MAY IT PLEASE YOUR GRACE,—Forming a po tion of your favored flock, the English-speaking Catholics of Montreal, through their deputies and their pastors, are happy to take part in the universal joy that animates all part in the universal joy that animates all parts in the parts of the p your spiritual children on the occasion of the elevation of Your Grace to the Archiepiscopal dignity.

dignities of the Catholic Church are bestowed as the recompense of single minded humility, and are the reward of having borne the yok-of labor in the cause of God during prolonged years. Humility, charity and self-sacrifice, are the only titles to her sacred digni ies recognized by the Church. They who seek the honors of the Church are rejected and cast off as unworthy. She herself seeks out her faithful Ministers, who, in the midst of the plaudits of the world, know h w to sink deep into the self-abasement of humility, and what charity knows abasement of humility, and wh sicharity knows no other happiness than to spend itself in the service of God and in the salvation of souls.

Your Grace will permit us to express our con-Your Grace will permit us to express our conviction openly. In selecting you for the Archie-piscopal dignity our Holy Father was moved, not by the commercial greatness of your episcopal city, nor by the large Cathalic population of the diocese of Montreal, nor by the number and importance of its charitable and educational institutions: no, the decision of His and importance of its charitable and educations; institutions; no, the decision of His Holiness rested on yet higher and more solid grounds. You were chosen for this sacred elevation because you always gave to your flock the precious example of an humble and faithful submission to the com-mands, and even to the desirer, of the supreme authority of Rome; we can be ir testimony to the good fruits produced by this precious ex-ample. Again, you were elevated because of your love for your large flock; a love that nour-ished in you that hunger and think for the sal-vation of souls, that knew no fatigue, and that devoted charity could overcome.

Here is the secret of your elevation, and allow us to confess it; the knowledge of this secret enhances the love and veneration we owe to your Grace, and at the same t ma fills us with consolation and edification. We are consoled to know that the Holy See, which favors only true merit, has conferred so high a dignity on our first paster, and that we have the happiness of being entrusted to his sure and loving so icitude. Edification is added to our consolation. Rome is the apprene gu de of o r archbishop in al things. His example is, therefore, for us a new light, so that we are safe so long as we accept with docility his guidance and his in-struction. Venerated Archb shop, if the prayers of your Irish children with pastors and people are heard by God, your days in the enjoyment of your new dignity will be long and happy. We will continue to ask for your health and strength to support your fruitful labors, and that on the part of your flock your zealous and enlightened instructions may be received with docility and obsdience; and that your tender solicitud may receive the only return worthy of it in the constant gratitude of your devoted people. The humble and devoted children of Your Grace.

THE BEPLY. The address was read by the Rev. Father Dowd, and in reply His Grace the new arch br shop said:-

father. Wi'h all my heart do I thank you, and with a gratitude do I accept your good wishes and your prayers.

I feel that more than ever I need the help from on high to bear the burden of that respon-sibility which the Holy See has just laid upon me. This assistance, of which I am in want, you will doubtless obtain it from God, who will not fail to hearken to your fervent supplications, and to you I will owe much of the success which I may obtain in my new position; cause all comes from God, and God will gr. me with open and liberal hand the grac a I need, only if I know how to solicit them, and you will join with me that my petition may be better received by the Almighty. I thank you for your prayers. Thave always considered the English speaking population as a chosen portion of my lock. Their fai has known to me; so is their gener-osity, of which new precise are forthcoming each day, and I cannot but admire those two great virtues, which shape to resulendent y and which are one of the distinctive traits in those whom I

God, who rewards the racrifices made for his gory, has not failed and does not fail each day to prove that he acknowledges the efforts you make, either in the erection of new temples, the adornment of those already existing, or in the founding of charitable institutions calculated to founding of charitable institutions calculated to meet the wants of the disinherited of this world. Your congregations are flurishing, a few additional efforts and the Eeglish speaking population will have an enviable position in the Metropolitan Church of Montreal.

I bless you with all my heart, and I desire that those who are here present may convey to their families and their friends the gratitude which I feet for the grantous goutterns non-

CANADA'S CARDINAL

EXTENSIVE PREPARATIONS FOR CARDINAL TASCHEREAU'S FRTR.

The Departure of the Papul Ablegate With the Baretta-The Proposed Concert, Hinminations and Firework Display.,

QUEBEC, July 8 -Active preparations are under way for the ceremonies which are to attend the installation of the first Canadian Cardinal. Mgr. O'Brien, the Papal Ablegata charged with the baretta destined for Mgr. Taschereau, is to sail from Liverpool to day by the Allan Royal mail SS. Polyncaian, and may therefore be expected to arrive hereabout the 17th or 18th inst There will probably be a civic reception in his honor, and it is not unlikely that he will be presented with a firmal address of welcome on linding by His Worship the Mayor. During his stay in Quebec, the Ablegate will be a guest at the palace of the Cardinal. The baretta which ln oar Holy Church dignities are not intended to gratify the cravings of empty vanity, nor to be the tood of human ambition. The sacred dignities of the Catholic Church are bestowed pointed caps worn by many priests indoors, at the recommense of single minded humility, of the Cardinal, which is never ornferred but by the Pope in purson, when His Holiness places it with his own hands upon the head of the newly-made Carlinsi in a private consistory. This hat is never worn but once. Cardinal Taschereau will go to Rome in the fall of the year to receive the red hat at the hands of the Sovereign Pontiff. At the death of His Emineace it will be placed upon his orffin and thereafter will be suspended from the Basili.a immediately over the high altar. The exact details of the coremony attending the ent' ronation of Sis Eminence will not be known until the arrival of the Papal Ablegate. The outline of the official programme is, however, already pret'y well determined upon. On the 21-t inst.
there will be a gigantic musical feet val in the Skating Rink, which will be attended by Cardinal Taschereau, by Mgr. O'Brieu, Papal Ablegate, and by the Count Gazzoli, Garde Noble of His Holiness. Signor Liberati, the cornet at, Miss Emily Winant, and other distinguished artists, have been engaged for the occasion. The principal musical organizations of Quebec and Montreal will lend their assistance, and the services of nine-pounder guns will also be brought into requisition. An oration, appropriate to the occasion, will be pronounced by Judge Routhier. After the Mass, the documents brought from Rome by Mgr. O'Brien will be read. These will include the credentials of Mgr. O'Brien himself, and also a letter appointing the pre-late who is to place the baretta upon the head of the new cardinal. It is understood that the honor is reserved for Mgr. Lynch, Arch. bishop of Toronto. At the close of the impressive service, a full orchestra, with organ a companiment, will perform a grand Pontia companiment, will perform a grant Ponti-cil march, composed expressly for the occa-sion by Mr. G. Gagnen, organist of the Basilica. The tody guard of His Eminence will be composed of the Pontifical Zouaves of Quebec and Montreal The usual princels with a city Montreal. The usual princely gifts will be made by Cardinal Taschereau to the Papal delegate and Garde Noble. The purse to be presented to Mgr. O'Brien will probably be one of $2,000, while Count Gazzoli will doubtless be saked to accept not less than $1,000. Custom also demands that the delegate and Bishops, with other officials, shall be entertained at a banquet by the new Cardinal. This will be given in the course of the afternoon at the Academy of Music, where covers will be laid for 500 guests. In the evening there will be a grand general illumination of the city, which will GENTLEMEN,—I am deeply touched by this step which you take to day. GRATEFUL---OUMFORTING. EPPS'S COCOA.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocca, Mr. Epps has provided our broakfast tables with a delicately flavored between which may save us many heavy doctor's hills it is by the judicious use of such articles of dict that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hendreds of subtle maladles are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shart by keeping ourselves well fortfied with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Girl Service Gazette.
