

1. The first part of the document discusses the general principles of the program and the objectives to be achieved. It also outlines the scope of the project and the areas of responsibility for each participant.

2. The second part of the document provides a detailed description of the program's structure and the specific tasks to be performed. It also includes a list of the personnel assigned to each task and their respective responsibilities.

3. The third part of the document describes the program's budget and the resources required for its implementation. It also includes a list of the equipment and materials needed for the program and the estimated costs for each item.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the program's evaluation and reporting requirements. It also includes a list of the reports to be prepared and the schedule for their submission.

5. The fifth part of the document provides a summary of the program and its key findings. It also includes a list of the conclusions drawn from the program and the recommendations for future action.