

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER. XI.

Preparations for invading Canada—General Wilkinson takes command—Rendezvous of the American forces—General Wilkinson descends the St. Lawrence—Battle of Chrystler's field—Hampton's inability to co-operate—Failure of the Expedition—Cruise of Commodore Chauncey—The Burning of Newark—British retaliation. Page 196

CHAPTER XII.

Meeting of Congress and violence of party spirit—Measures for carrying on the war—Unfriendly deportment of the New England states—The subject of retaliation—A committee of Congress inquires into the manner in which the war has been carried on by the enemy—The war gaining ground in the United States. Page 214

CHAPTER XIII.

The Southern war—Massacre of Fort Mims—Expedition of general Jackson, and general Cocke—Battle of Talladega—Indians surprised by general Cocke—Expedition of general Floyd—Critical situation of general Jackson—Defeat of the Indians—The Creeks totally defeated at the Horse-shoe-bend—General Jackson terminates the Creek war and dictates a peace. Page 224

CHAPTER XIV.

General Wilkinson retires to Plattsburgh—Gen. Brown marches to the Niagara frontier—Affair at La Colle—Exertions of commodore McDonough to create a naval force—Contest for superiority on Lake Ontario—Attack of Oswego—Death of colonel Forsythe—Colonel Campbell's expedition—Gallant defence of captain Holmes—Several reflections on the state of our affairs—Commodore Fardy invades the northern sea-coast—Takes possession of Eastport and Castine—Gallant defence of Stonington—The John Adams destroyed. Page 235

CHAPTER XV.

Naval incidents—The Plantagenet 74, declines a contest with Commodore Rodgers—Captain Stewart chases a British frigate of equal force—Cruise of Commodore Porter—Typee war—The Essex captured by the Phæbe