

eration for a
 thousands; and
 else, should
 st vigilance
 ich is so far
 those of its
 h the Scrip-
 to the man-
 that others
 grade, regard
 tures to be
 th the tradi-
 ich they are

appear be-ney, it will
 e advances;
 be mutually
 at object of a other, and
 of the early
 undergone.
 ught about.

T. T.

CONTENTS.

BOOK I.

OF THE FORM OF THE EARTH, ITS COMPOSITION, AND ITS STRUCTURE.

	Page.
There are three great classes of rocks—the Stratified, the Coralline, and the Crystalline. The Stra- tified are divided into Serieses and Formations, which lie in a certain order, and are generally Fossiliferous, - - - - -	5

BOOK II.

OF THE PHYSICAL REVOLUTIONS WHICH THE EARTH HAS UNDERGONE.

CHAP. I.

Proofs that it has undergone a number, - - -	16
--	----

CHAP. II.

Of the principal agents in the Revolutions of the Earth—Water, Wind, Landslips, Heat, and Compression, - - - - -	26
--	----