arrived in the city Sunday morning, ne city. No actor delineating Irish naracter has become so popular as Mr. Murphy. Whenever he is announced to ap pear, he is greeted with a genuine Irish welcome, one that makes him feel at home. In Toronto he has many friends, and his engagement at the Toronto Opera House this week will no doubt be as successful as that of last year, when he appeared for the first time in this city at popular prices. His two favorite dramas, "The Kerry Gow" and "Shaun Rhue," will continue great drawing cards as long as the veteran actor lives. His success in both is due to the fact that he portrays irish character as it is true to life. Mr. Murphy has always taken the greatest interest in his company, and the manner in which his productions are staged. Nothing is lacking in detail, the smallest accessory being carefully looked after. "Shaun Rhue" will be presented on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights, and Tuesday and Thursday matinees, and "Kerry Gow" on Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee.

At Shea's Theatre To-Day.

A careful examination of the bill which announces that the "Behman Show." which opens for a week's engagement at Shea's Theatre to-day, will cause anyone familiar with the standing of high-class vandeville performers to come to the conclusion that there is no organization on the road that can excel this company, and few that can compare with it, in fact, the average speculative manager would hesitate before attempting to carry such an expensive company around the country; but Mr. Behman decided that any show bearing his name will be composed of the very best that money can procure and confidently offers the following list, as a personnel for their second tour: The company is headed by the four Cohans, unquestionably the leading entertainers in their line. They will appear in their screaming act entitled "Money to Burn," which was written by George M. Cohan, the brilliant young author, composer and comedian; Yorke and Adams, "Just Two Plain Jews;" John Kernell, the Irish councillor: Falke and Semon, musical comedians; Olympia Quartet, as the colored cadets; Ethel Levey, singer and comediene: Ramza and Arno, and their funny Blondin donkey; Caswell and Arnold, the acrobatic girl and her grotesque partner, and as a special feature. At Shea's Theatre To-Day. grotesque partner, and as a special feature, Zeno, Carl and Zeno, on the clevated horizontal bars, conclude the list of this notable company.

The Three Musketeers.

"The Three Musketeers," which will be given an elaborate production at the Princess this week by the Valentine Company, is a play-that combines all the elements of a great popular success. It has a charming love interest, splendid comedy, some highly dramatic situations and the story deals with that picturesque perfod in French history that has furnished the groundwork of so many capital plays, and stories. The chivalrous D'Artagnan 's one of the most engaging characters in the romantic drama, and, with Jack Webster to portray the part, patrons of the Princess may expect an ideal performance. Miss Maynard has played the part of Lady de Winter a number of times, and is credited with an unusually excellent performance. The beauty of "The Three Musketeers" is that it has so many powerful characters. There will be a chance for all of the members of the Valentine Company to distinguish themselves. The scenic production that has been prepared is particularly handsome, and the costuming the most elaborate that could be secured. The sale for this week at the Princess is the largest since the opening of the season, and a prosperous run seems assured for Dumas' fascinating play. The Three Musketeers

The Red Cross Arch. The Red Cross Arch.

Owing to the delay in the journey of the Idaho, the patriotic festival for the Red Cross Arch will be held on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 2 and 3, subject to the approval of the president of the General Red Cross (Society. The festival chorus of 400 voices under the direction of Mr. F. H. Torrington, the Toronto Permanent Orchestra, prominent soloists, such as Harold Jarvis and Miss Beverley Robinson, producing a descriptive program of a thoroly patriotic and inspiring character will make the event impressive. The khaki-clad sons of Canada will be present to receive the city's thanks and gifts. Subscribers to the list, which is now at Massey Hall, can secure first choice of seats. The prices are popular, 50 and 25 cents.
