THESE HANDS ARE CLEAN

The city council met yesterday to consider matters relative to the Main street paving and the general methods of the board of works. The leading spirits in the council were hostile to any real attempt to investigate. They sneered at the newspapers and scouted the idea that there could be anything to investigate. They were able to dominate the council, and there will be no investigation. All that they will do will be to have another section of pavement dug up to see if it is as high as thick.

A PERTINENT QUESTION

The opening of the new offices for the New Brunswick government in London some time ago is still a fruitful source of joy for the Hazen government. The people will restrain themselves until they see some results. Presumably one of the objects aimed at is to secure immigrants for this province. In the meantime Mr. Hazen has not expressed any opinion on the subject of the depletion of population by the harvest excursions, engineered by his friends of the Canadian Pacific Railway. If New Brunswick is a good place to which people should come, it ought to be a good place to stay in. Is Mr. Hazen in favor of these excursions, as conducted in the past? Does he believe special facilities should be given men to leave the province, and no such facilities given them to come back? His views on this question would be interesting, no doubt, to many people. Hon. Dr. Landy also, might be heard with attention if his views were openly and vigorously expressed. They are cutting what in the west. If these gentlemen have anything to say, the time is opportune.

That was a happy inspiration which led the Polymorphin Club to organize last night's band concert, and the various bands deserve praise for their generous co-operation. The sum raised for the Campbellton sufferers was much larger than most people expected, and shows that there was a very generous and general response to the appeal.

GOVERNMENT NEGLIGENCE

Some eight months ago a young man in this city who was suffering from tuberculosis, and whose case was regarded by himself and others as almost hopeless, went to the sanitarium at Muskoka. He was able to do that as a result of the sale of Muskoka stamps here during the previous year, a fund being raised by local contributions to provide a bed. This young man, so far as local treatment was concerned, seemed a hopeless case. He was unable to work. Local physicians could do no more than recommend sanitarium treatment, in the hope that it might be of some benefit.

HOMELY COUNSEL

It isn't worth while to fret, dear,
To walk as behind a horse,
No matter how vexing things may be,
They easily might be worse;
And the time you spend complaining,
And groaning about the load,
Would better be given to going on,
And pressing along the road.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

A good story is told of a United States judge of the southern district of Georgia, who had before his court on one occasion a typical mountaineer on the typical Georgia charge of "illicit distilling."
"What's your name?" demanded the jurist.
"Joshua, Judge," drawled the prisoner.
"Joshua, who made the sun stand still?" smiled the judge in amusement at the laconic answer.
"No, sir; Joshua who made the moon shine," answered the quick-witted mountaineer.
And it is needless to add that the judge made the sentence as light as possible.

WHAT HAPPENS!

I speak of men—a host of men—and you and I know many such,
Whose word is nil within their homes,
Whose law does not amount to much.
They're humble, meek and silent, too;
Their better halves control them quite,
And will not let them spend a cent of
Wander with the boys at night.
But once in every little while a man like
This will break away
Evade his wife and "cut it loose" and
"Whop it up" all break 'o' day!
But, oh, the price that they must pay! It
That "Solomon, with all his wives, was not Straggled like one of these!"
—John D. Wells, Buffalo News.

DEFINITION.

Verba (eight years old)—"What does transatlantic mean, mame?"
Mother—"Across the Atlantic, of course; but you mustn't bother me!"
Verba—"Does 'bother' always mean 'across'?"
Mother—"I suppose it does. Now, if you don't stop bothering me, I'll give you a question I shall send you to bed."
Verba (after a few minutes' silence)—
"Then does transatlantic mean a cross parent?"—Ides.

QUITE TRAGIC.

Mother (reading)—"In Ireland they use peat for fuel."
Little Margie—"Did they burn him because he was wicked?"
Mother—"Burn whom, dear?"
Little Margie—"Why, Peter,"—Chicago News.

MOTHERLESS.

A vagrant, on being brought before the court, wept so bitterly as to evoke the sympathy of the worthy magistrate, who kindly inquired:
"Have you been out of work for a long time?"
"Ever since my poor mother died, your worship."
"How old were you at that time?"
"Eighteen months, your worship."

THE WEARING OF THE BLACK.

Oh, Ruston dear, an' did ye hear the news, they're tellin' now?
The movin' pickers of the fight the poles won't allow!
They say the thing's immoral an' degradin' an' disreputable!
So we can't see a second-hand fight at any price!

A Blue Rose at Last

No true horticulturist is satisfied with the colors given to blooms by nature. If a flower is normally yellow or red he desires to produce a variety which shall be green or blue or black says the London Daily News.
"Formerly the 'blue rose' the 'green carnation' and the 'black tulip' were synonyms for the impossible, but thanks to the striving of growers after unnatural tints such phrases have lost their old significance."
Alfred Smith, F. R. H. S., of Downley, High Wycombe, who is a well known rose specialist has been experimenting for three or four years with a view to the production of a blue rose. By the process of crossing different strains he has now succeeded in obtaining the most distinct blue rose yet produced and has given it the name of Lady Coventry.

WOMEN'S VOTES ARE PRIZED IN NEW ZEALAND

They Have Had the Franchise Seventeen Years—Almost As Many Women Voters as Men
The statute extending the franchise to New Zealand women was passed in 1893. Since then there have been six parliaments elected by the joint votes of the men and women of New Zealand. In all of these elections, says the North American Review, the woman of the country have taken their full share.

HIS LUCKY DAY

Bill Jones had a lucky day last week. His morning mail contained payments on two bad debts. He found a four leaf clover on his front lawn, and came across a stray horsehoe on his way to work. That evening he tasted his first slice of BUTTERNUT BREAD and just before retiring he saw a new moon over his right shoulder. The first day you taste "BUTTERNUT" will be your lucky day.
