Rube Walberg Star in Box and at Bat

Dirates and Giants Both in the Losing Column—Kirkwood and Smith Lower Record of Old Troon Golf Course by a One Stroke.

(Canadian Press.)
New York, June 15.—Rushing along at great speed, Philadelphia today stands upon the brink of first place in the American League, having triumphed in the opener of what is generally regarded as a crucial series. Rube Walberg was a star pitcher and a star batter yesterday, dominating Cleveland 4 to 3, and putting his team two and a half games ahead of the Indians and within two of first place. Hoy pitched fairly good ball, but lost the lead and the light batting of his team mates were too much deadweight to carry to victory. And thus the team that was seven games ahead of its nearest rivals after a strenuous road trip has returned to its own grounds and turned up its toes.

Detroit, attempting to get back in the running, took advantage of Cleveland's loss and walloped Boston 4 to 1. Harry Heilmann, the league's leading batsman, did most of the damage, getting three hits out of four opportunities, one of them a homer. Detroit had to win to keep from slipping behind St. Louis into the second division. The Pirates lost all their punch and gave Meadows space help and consequently were found wanting, while New York was dropping its second to the Reds, 6 to 5, and using up three pitchers in the process. Two Red veterans, Rixey and Roush, had the punch.

The real tightening up in the National League was done by the particular Olympians, who have been turning kindly toward the Cubs recently. Killifer's men recovered their point and creased the series with Brooklyn 9 to 6 and once again they are within striking distance of the first division. Aldridge held out until the final of the series, but the other pitchers had the performance of the day before.

Boston beat St. Louis 6 to 4, and their series stands with Brooklyn 2 to 0, and St. Louis 1 to 0.
MacDonald Smith, a Californian, equalled Kirkwood's record for the course, his card also showing a 69, but his total for the three rounds was 222, two strokes behind the Britisher.
