

All My Corns Are Gone

Every day, legions of people get rid of their corns with Blue-jay. This easy method now removes a million corns a month.

You who suffer with corns do yourselves an injustice. Blue-jay will instantly stop the pain. And in 48 hours, without any soreness, the corn comes out completely.

About half the people know this now. When a corn appears they put Blue-jay on it. Then they forget it. In a couple of days they lift out the corn and bid it goodbye forever.

You can't do that by paring corns. And you can't with ordinary treatments. You may get relief for a little while, but the corns simply stay and grow.

Try this modern, scientific way—the way now employed by physicians and hospitals. Get rid of the corn. It is just as easy, just as painless as the ineffective ways.

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break. I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. It would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. GRAB, CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

STRATHCONA'S EXPLOIT.

To many graduates of Aberdeen University, Lord Strathcona was known as "The Count." He won that title in 1906 in connection with the quatercentenary celebrations of the university. Lord Strathcona began his share of the hospitalities by giving a dinner to the poor of Aberdeen and another to the undergraduates. But it was when he proposed to invite all the graduates of Aberdeen that the largeness of his ideas came out. The university authorities were staggered. "Thousands will come," they said, and they were right. Graduates of all ages accepted, and among them was at least one who graduated in the "forties."

GAMBLING STORY FROM MONTREAL

Writs Against Well Known Men Who Are Called Welchers—A Visit and a Smash-up

(Montreal Star.) A lonely house in Weredale Park, Westmount, men with money focking thither under cloak of night, high play over the roulette wheel, thousands of dollars lost, checks given in payment, payment stopped on the checks, writs issued for debt and money advanced, and now—well, those who have been served with writs are wondering what will come out if the actions come to trial, and those who have not been served are wondering equally if they will be brought into the affair.

Three writs have been issued. The solicitor for the plaintiff—he is the same in each—admits freely that the money for the recovery of which suit has been entered was loaned over the gambling table for chips. Thus he has little hope of securing a favorable judgment. But he maintains, this is not what his client, whom he states is a gambler, wants.

"My client says that his main object is to show this crowd up as a bunch of welchers, who'll take all they can when they win, and refuse to pay when they lose," said he.

The total amount sued for is $9,075, and of this amount one young man, whose name is very well known in Toronto and in Ottawa, as well as in Montreal, is down for almost half. The men involved say that they will fight the case through. They say that in law no gambling debts can be recovered. They also allege other things which they say will come out at the trial, and which should prove very interesting.

It was in September that the first rumor of a new gambling place began to be spread about. There was more than a little rejoicing among the members of what is known as the "fast set," for ever since the gambling ring was broken up two years ago, there hasn't been a nicely-conducted place in the city that was convenient if one wished to bet a little something on the twirling wheel it was necessary to go to some altogether out of the way place. And then one could not be sure just what was doing.

But this new place was going to be different. They had the house, and were just waiting for the fittings. They expected to open up in a week or so. "Where is it? Well, keep it dark, old man. I know, of course, that I can trust you to say nothing. They're going to open up right out in Westmount."

The embryo patrons were quite willing to keep the secret. They did not want anything said. The house might never be opened if too many heard about it, or it might (horrible thought) be raided when they were there. They did not want publicity.

The place did not open, it is understood, until late in the fall, and about six weeks later, some time about Christmas, it closed. The police did not do it.

The men who had patronized the place got together one night in a well-known club, and began to talk it over. They found that no one had ever won any money so far as they could find out.

And so they went back to the house in Weredale Park once more, it is said. And what they did may be told in open court. For, so the story runs, they tore things loose in great shape; they broke what was breakable; and what couldn't be broken was damaged. It was one big night for Weredale Park.

BIBLE SOCIETY TO BUILD IN ST. JOHN

Woodstock, N. B., Feb. 4.—(Special)—The annual meeting of the New Brunswick branch of the Canadian Bible Society was held here today, in the United Baptist Church. Judge Forbes presided and Rev. Henry R. Boyer, of St. John was appointed secretary pro tem.

Plans were considered for the erection of a bible house in St. John to cost $15,000. Judge Forbes reported $8,000 from the parent society towards the project. The election of officers resulted as follows:—

Mr. Newcombe becomes pastor of the Fredericton Baptist Church.

GOT RID OF BRONCHITIS

The worst feature of bronchitis is the tendency to return year after year until the system is worn out and gives way to consumption, or other ravaging disease.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine owes much of its great popularity to the fact that it positively cures bronchitis, and this is about as severe a test as can be made of a medicine of this kind.

Mr. W. H. Walker, Calmar, Alta., writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine has done much good to myself, wife and children. My eldest girl, seven years, had bronchitis, and the doctor who attended her did not seem to do much good. We got Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine for her, and she soon got well. We always keep this medicine in the house now ready for use, and find that it soon cures coughs and colds."

In fighting diseases of the throat and lungs, half the battle is in having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine at hand to be used promptly. This is why many people prefer to buy the large family size bottle.

I. C. R. DISMISSALS.

(Moncton Transcript.) There were several dismissals in the I. C. R. services made on Saturday last at a minute's notice. These men were thrown out of employment without an hour's notice and deprived of bread and butter in midwinter.

In Moncton W. Harley Sears and Isaac Hicks, day and night janitors of the I. C. R. rest house were dismissed with only fifteen minutes notice. It is said that neither of these men has a mark against him; both perfectly clean records. Mr. Sears has been in the employ for thirteen years, and Mr. Hicks somewhat less. The pretense now is that the day and night janitors of the I. C. R. station will look after the I. C. R. rest house.

At Sackville, according to a statement made in a leading Moncton hotel on Monday by a commercial traveller of Sackville, who stood in the office of the hotel and boastfully said "The axe has fallen in Sackville," two men have been dismissed from the I. C. R. freight shed. One of them is Fred Award. The other dismissed is Warren Carter.

Mrs. E. S. Fiske gave an instructive lecture in the St. John Art Club rooms yesterday afternoon, dealing with the Uffizi gallery in Florence which she had visited during her recent trip to Italy. The lecture was illustrated by a large number of pictorial views which she had collected and each of which was explained.

Mrs. Fiske's demonstrations and criticisms were listened to by a large and appreciative audience. She had intended to give her observations on the Pitti gallery also, but this part of her lecture was postponed.
