A keen discussion took place this morning in which a large number of ministers and laymen took part. Rev. R. N. Powell, seconded by V. Odlum, Nelson, introduced the subject by a lengthy resolution, expressing the conviction that Christian people should take more definite interest in public affairs and especially in selecting and electing good men, irrespective of party, as candidates o for parliament party, as candidates for parameter and municipal offices. Methodists were urged to attend the primaries and po-litical meetings and to canvass for men of principle and to give them unmistakable moral support when elected as an offset to the pressure often One Person Killed and a Score brought from other than righteous
