McFarland Very Much
New York, Dec. 22.—James, known best as "One-Eyed" Connelly, was found wandering about Flatbush, L. I., yesterday, trying to persuade himself that he was working. The police gathered him in, and sent him to the Kings County Hospital in a straight jacket, insane and raving.
The surgeons are still unable to determine whether his delusion will be permanent or results simply from alcoholic indulgences.
It will be some days at all events before he will reappear on Broadway.

How They Work it in New York.
Overstanding the fact that Government of New York state, has given out that he will not sign a bill to regulate boxing contests, the eastern professors, through their friends in the legislature, are going to make a strong effort at a measure through that will return to the sport, according to despatches from the east. The provisions of the bill include a clause that bars heavyweight pugilists, and that no pugilist will be allowed to do battle. The bill is to be limited to 12 rounds, and a purse is to be over $10,000. The act of the bill express the opinion it will be successful, despite the fact Governor Odell is not in favor of it.
