

"EVERY MAN MUST COME AND DO HIS PART," SAYS ST. JOHN MAN ABROAD

Lieut. Smith Declares Germans Must Be Beaten No Matter What the Cost—Writes to His Father That Kitchener's Army is Powerful Body of Men Eager for the Fray—His Letter to The Telegraph.

"Tell all the boys you meet that everyone must come and do his part." This is one of the striking sentences in an interesting letter sent to R. Morton Smith, of this city, by his son, Lieut. Francis Morton Smith, now with Kitchener's army in England.

Dear Dad—Thanks so much for everything you have done. It has relieved me of a great deal of anxiety and my men are deeply appreciative of the kindness of my Canadian friends.

This morning with four of my men, two of whom were engineers, I constructed something new in the line of a gas bomb, something which will, I hope, be effective in its work.

P. S.—Tell all the boys you meet that everyone must come and do his part. GLAD HE IS CANADIAN.

Lieut. Smith also wrote the following letter to The Telegraph, which explains itself: Halton Park, Tring, June 30, '15.

To the Editor of The Telegraph: Sir,—I wish to thank you personally and through your pages all the kind friends who so generously contributed to meet the wants of the men of my platoon.

Yours sincerely, F. MORTON SMITH, 2nd Lieut. York and Lancaster Regt.

GERMAN GUNNERY ON AUXILIARY POOR

Third Officer of Chignecto Prisoner 33 Days on Kron Prinz Wilhelm

Officer Gammon Describes Treatment of Prisoners on German Raider—Only Four Hits Out of Sixteen at 200 Yards.

G. H. Gammon, who was for thirty-three days a prisoner on board the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz Wilhelm, is now third officer of the K. M. S. P. liner Chignecto, which is discharging sugar at the Atlantic Sugar Refinery pier.

G. H. Gammon was third officer on the K. M. S. P. liner Potaro, which was overtaken and sunk by the Kron Prinz Wilhelm six degrees north of the Equator, on Jan. 10 last, after the crew had been allowed four hours to gather up their belongings and shift to the German vessel.

The Potaro had on board a cargo of meat, loaded at Buenos Ayres, and captured by the German auxiliary cruiser Kron Prinz Wilhelm on Jan. 10 last, after the crew had been allowed four hours to gather up their belongings and shift to the German vessel.
