An hour or so brings us to a cluster of clearances bearing the marks of age in com parison with other farms, and we are inform ed that this portion of the road was settled by squatters at an early period. On descend ing an eminence, we come in view of a square og building, with accompanying outhouses bearing the external marks of a house of refuge for that ancient and ubiquitous individual, the "way-worn traveller," in common phrase, a tavern, where the usual Opeongo tained for a consideration. To the left, a hill meets the view, clothed with a mingled forest of pine and hardwood, up which can be faintly traced a road leading to the Wolf rapids on the Madawaska River, and the scenes of timber making. But I have no desire at this time, of toiling up that ascent. I once had an opportunity of a walk up that hill on a sweltering day in June, and the smothering memory of heat and mosquitoes, leaves uncomfortable sensations to this hour. How that shanty road wound up springy gul lys, dodged round upturned pine roots, that had been torn from their bed by king hurricane-over boulders and under half-fallen trees, and over windfalls, and past little gurgling creeks, and still the upward slope was that it is the shortest route to the height of PORK-Is rather firmer; Mess is quoted at Public Works Department in so far as res

CHURNS! CHURNS!

Labor Saved is Money Gained. ESSRS. TAYLOR & TWEEDY of Smith's Falls, have at considerable exase and trouble obtained from the inventor the Patent for the Best Churn Power ever offered to the public; it is worked by a Crank and Rotary Lever, with the greate ease, and is adapted to the use of the Old Dash Churn, which notwithstanding all the

If you wish to afford your children amusement, and at the same time make them high-ly useful, buy one of the New Churning Machines. As their power is such they may be worked by a mere child, and will make Butter in much less time than the ordinary way. Their simplicity, convenience and cleanliness elicits the praise of all. They work slow or fast, or with as short or long a stroke

In fact it only requires to be shown to be appreciated, and should be in the possession of every Butter maker at once: Farmers ! you can spare your families la bor, save your time, and thus save your money, by buying one of the cheapest and best of Churning Machines. They are different sizes, and sold on terms to suit pur-of the Dash as required. It occupies little space and may be removed at pleasure.

Saleable Produce and old iron taken in exchange, or a discount for Cash. On ex-
