SUGGESTION FOR CHATHAM

The City Engineer this morning, in discussing the slippery condition of the cement sidewalks, suggested that it might be a good idea to follow the example of Ottawa and Montreal in leaving half an inch of snow on the walks, and cleaning off the remainder. Pedestrians would be less likely to full on the snow-covered, concrete. If this change were made a revision of the snow by-law would be nec sary .- Toronto News.

It would, for instance, be the duty of such an inspector to attend the market, see that the bags of potatoes are the correct weight, and that butter is all weighed correctly. The same way with milk. It would be his duty to analyze the milk and see that it is not watered, and also to inspect the dairies. Then, too, if he saw a man driving down the street with a ton of coal he could force the man to weigh it, and if it did not weigh the correct amount the goods would be confiscated.
