London, June 19, 1883.—All eyes are now turned towards Monaghan, where everything seems to promise a victory for the party of Irish Self-Government. Mr. Healy, M. The action of the convention has caused dismay in the Whig ranks, as it is clear that Ulster is rallying to the National

The present condition of Ireland is deplorable. The "yeoman terror" is in full swing. Secret investigations are in progress in the King's County, Kerry, Mayo, and Galway. ### BISHOP JAMOT IN HASTINGS.

On Saturday, his Lordship Bishop Jamot On Saturday, his Lordship Bishop Jamot visited Hastings to administer the sacrament of Confirmation. A large number of people from the village and surrounding country met his Lordship at the station, and escorted him to St. Mary's church. Here his Lordship was presented with the following address, which was read by Mr. J. Coughlin.

To His Lordship Rt. Rev. John Francis Jamot, Bishop of Peterborough.

May it please your Lordship:—

Jamot, Bishop of Peterborough.

May it please your Lordship:—
We, the Catholics of the parish of Hastings, approach your Lordship on this festive occasion with feelings of great joy and happiness. It brings us joy indeed, to see once more amongst us the head of the church in this diocese; and our feelings are those of unalloyed happiness, as we bid a glad welcome to the distinguished Prelate whom God's providence has appointed our ecclesiastical chief and who governs with ever kindly, yet masterly hand, the episcopal affairs of Central Ontario.

Permit us to still further assure your Lordship, that our joy is enhanced and our sentiments of welcome deepened with, if possible, a still warmer glow, as we reflect on the pious object of your visit, and your paternal solicitude for our wel-

Your purpose in visiting us, namely, to administer the sacrament of confirmation to our children, is one dear to every Catholic heart. Small indeed would be his claim to the possession of a Catholic conscience, and smothered must be the feelings in the heart of his rube. in the breast of him who can view with cool indifference the efforts every day put forth, for the education of our Catho-lie youth.

And in this respect we are happy to say, that we have done something in the past towards furthering this noble end. Our school, though modest in proportions and unassuming in management, is, under the fostering care and ever watchful eye of our zealous and devoted pastor, Rev.
Father Quirk, doing a great work. Many amongst us remember that thirty years ago there was neither Catholic church nor school in Hastings. Since then behold the change! To-day a neat and well-conducted school is playing a noble part in diffusing the principles of good, sound, Catholic education in our midst; and to-Cathonic education in our mass, and to day, also, we extend a hearty welcome to your Lordship in one of the most beauti-ful and substantial church edifices in your extensive diocese.

In this connection we feel it incumbent upon us to give public expression to our feelings of filial affection for our esteemed pastor, who, for many years, has labored so zealously and so indefatigably with the single aim of our spiritual advancement and success. To him more than to any other (under God) belongs the credit of our present happy and prosperous condi-

His labors have been unceasing, and next to the church, the schools and education of the youth have ever occu-pied a prominent place among his most anxious thoughts.

We rejoice then, to-day, to see your Lordship here amongs tus, to re-affirm, as it were, those principles of Catholic education imparted to our children, and to stamp them with the divine approval in stamp them with the divine approval in the sacred rite of Confirmation.

And here we wish also to tender to your Lordship personally, and to the high office you so worthily fill, our deepest esteem, submission, and respect. Your Lordship's personal worth is not unknown to us. We are aware of the great and disare aware of the great and disto us. We are aware of the great and dis-tinguished service you have rendered for long years to the cause of holy faith and civilization in Northern Canada. Your Lordship's career as an evangelist in the Lordship's career as an evangelist in the wilds of our country, and which your generous humility would fain obscure, will yet, we fondly believe, form matter for history, which, when written, will place the revered name of Right Rev. Dr. Jamot among those which occupy a bright niche in the temple of missionary fame.

In conclusion, and before asking the blessing of your Lordship on ourselves and our families, we beg to make known our profound respect and veneration for our profound respect and veneration for the Holy See, -for the saintly occupant of the chair of Peter, whose devotion and sufferings in the cause of truth and justice have shed lustre on the papacy, and, it may be said, with a pardonable pride, may be said, with a pardonable pride, have often served to brighten the eye, and quicken the pulse of every true Catholic. Signed on behalf of the congregation of

St. Mary's church, Hastings, Timothy Coughlin, Ex-mayor, John Collins, J. P., Philip Kennedy.

His Lordship replied at some length, thanking the people for the kindly manner in which they received him. Loyalty and devotion to their pastors, said he, have ever been characteristic of Catholics. The pastors love and respect the people, and the people nobly reciprocate those feel-ings. In conclusion, his Lordship said he was most happy on this occasion, with joy in his heart and a blessing on his lips for

His Lordship visited the separate school on Monday, when the following address was presented to him by the pupils:

To the Rt. Rev. Francis J. Jamot, Bishop of Peterboro:

May it please your Lordship:—We had not hoped until very lately that on the occasion of your Lordship's episcopal visit

we regret nowever that our accommoda-tion is not more appropriate, for we could wish to afford your Lordship a more fitting reception. But candor and a sincere in-tention are of more worth than any outward display, and we now cherish the hope that with the blessing of God we may be ere long better situated.

The kind notice your Lordship has taken of us will act as an incentive to further efforts in the acquisition of knowledge and thus we have to vouchsafe us your blessing before departing, and we shall be forever grateful. Signed on behalf of the scho Annie Brennan, Annie Tracy, Lillie

ST. CATHARINES SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

J. F. White, Esq., separate school in-pector, paid his annual visit to the separ-tte schools of St. Catharines recently. The separate schools of St. Catharines have always been ranked high, owing doubtless to the energy and vigilance of the Rev. Dean Mulligan, and those entrusted with their management, but at no period of the existence of the schools have hey been in a more flourishing and satisfactory condition than at present. The inspector, we are assured, found much to praise, little to censure. The schools praise, little to censure. The schools are taught by fifteen teachers, three Christian Brothers and twelve Sisters of the community of St. Joseph. There are upon the rolls about 487 names, with an average attendance of 365, apportioned among the different schools as follows: Christian Brothers' school, on roll 73, average attendance 67; select school, on roll 77, average attendance 70; boys' school in convent, on roll 76, average attendance 66; St. Bridget's school, on roll 121, average attendance 90; St. Mary's school, on roll 87, average attendance 5; St. Joseph's school, on roll 51, average attendance 27.

The subjects on which the pupils were examined embraced reading, arithmetic, dictation, geography, grammar, English literature, history, mental arithmetic, geometry and French. While the results on the whole were eminently satisfactory, there were several subjects. factory, there were several subjects in which a marked excellence was shown. The French translation was exceedingly The French translation was exceedingly well rendered, and the English reading fluent, with good expression and correct pronunciation. The answering in arithmetic showed that the princip'es were well understood, the explanation of the work, when asked, being given lucidly and instantaneously. The proficiency in English grammar and literature was especially grammar and literature was especially commended by the inspector. He declared, to the extreme gratification of the teacher, that, taking into account the youth of the pupils, it was one of the best classes he had ever examined on such subjects. English composition, too, was quite satisfactory. Some choice specimens of map drawing, needlework and fancy, were exhibited and met with much fancy, were exhibited and met with much praise. The personal neatness and deportment of the pupils elicited approbation; and their well cultivated voices varied the proceedings by rendering several beautiful selections of music.

An invaluable result of the inspector's visit this very was the insuguration of a visit this year was the inauguration of a high class in connection with the separate school system. Thirty-eight candidates presented themselves for examination, which was a written one and occupied two days. The subjects on which they were examined for admission into this class were English, arithmetic, geography, grammar and dictation. The sults will not be known before the end of this month, as the papers have not all been examined; but from a partial examination the inspector anticipates that a large percentage will pass. This examination displayed the admirable and thorough teaching of the sisters, and on the part of the pupils a most intelligent grasp of the subjects taught them. At the com-mencement of the next term the successful competitors in this examination will constitute the first high class, which must prove very beneficial to the schools, establishing a rivalry among them, and afford-ing a stimulus and a goal for fresh activity and application.

Mr. White's position is no sinecure He is a gentleman well qualified for his responsible duties, and thoroughly conversant with the various subjects on which he questions. His examination is clear, he questions. His examination is clear, intelligent and to the point. The material interests of the schools do not, we are pleased to hear, escape him, for he devotes special attention to ventilation, seating, school apparatus, maps, text books, etc. Under his inspections the separate schools of the province are certain to improve in usefulness.

next week. ST. MARY'S ACADEMY, WINDSOR.

The annual commencement of St. Mary's Academy, Windsor, took place on Wednesday evening, the 20th inst., at St. Alphonsus Hall. The Hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and lighted by nearly one hundred tiny lamps arranged in emblematic designs. At 7 o'clock a grand overture, "La Dame Blanche"—sixteen hands, four pianos, was played, during which time Monsignor Bruyere, L'Abbe Casgrain, Very Rev. Dean Wagner, Father Scanlan and about fifteed the neighboring clergymen from troit, Sandwich, Maidstone, Belle Detroit, River, Paincourt, etc., took their seats, whilst a large invited audience of ladies and gentlemen from Detroit and Windsor filled the Hall. The overture was followed by a vocal chorus, a French essay, "L'Aurore" by Miss Lizzie Jacquemain and an instrumental piece, Duo Concertant. Then came the conferring of

ant. Then came the conferring of gold medals, Miss Jacquemain of Detroit winning the gold medal for Christian Doctrine, presented by his Lordship Bishop Walsh, as well as the gold medal presented by L'Abbe Casgrain for success in the French language. Each of the four graduates, Miss Nina Stuck of Hubberdstown, Mich., Miss Rachel Emard, St. Hubert, Quebec, Miss Clara Lemay, Amherstburg, and Miss Nana Williams, Windsor, received a gold medal. Miss Louisa Montreuil, Windsor, and Miss Annie Doolin, St. John's, Mich., each received a gold medal for proficiency in music, and a certificate for the same from the Professor. Miss Lizzie Hale of Lyons, Mich., received the gold medal for numerously responded to. First grand numerously responded to. First grand the Professor. Miss Lizzie Hale of Lyons, Mich., received the gold medal for Domestic Economy, presented by Very Rev. Dean Wagner. An Operetta, "The crown of virtue," followed, then an essay by Miss Stuck, "Virtues emblemed in flowers," then a duet,—a French dialogue, "La nouvelle eleve." Miss Lemay chose for the subject of her essay "Influence of the Gospel on civilization," Miss William's "Nature's harmony." Miss Wontreull and Miss Dooling each gave a musical solo from Mendellssohn Bartholdy. A cal solo from Mendellssohn Bartholdy. A vocal duet "Quis est Homo" was rendered by Miss Madden and Miss Eastman, whilst the brilliant Miss Jacquemain assisted by three other young ladies, gave a German dialogue with good effect. Then came "The march of the Videttes" twenty-four hands, four pianos. After the distribu-tion of silver medals, ribbons of honor and premiums, Miss Rachel Emard delivered the Valedictory. The entertainment closed by a short address from Father Ferguson, who in his bright extemporary way thanked the clergy and the audience for their presence, eulogized the talent, lady-like deportment, and success of "the rose-bud garden of girls," whom he called upon to ever cherish with grateful love their Alma Mater, dear St. Mary's, as well as Mother Superior and the good Sisters of Jesus and Mary who so nobly labored

The first Catholic church in Philadelphia, Pa., was built in 1729. A handful of Irish Catholics, brought over by a Miss McCawley, worshipped in it. In 1883 there is a magnificent cathedral, besides forty-four churches, fifty-three chapals, two colleges twelve convents. chapels, two colleges, twelve convents, twenty-two academies, thirty-six parochial schools, and fourteen hospitals and asylums. In the whole Archdiocese there are 253 priests and a Catholic population of 300,000.

The church choir gave its best selections in its best style, under the leader-ship of P. Ouellette, Esq., a member of the Branch. Nearly eyery member except those residing at a distance from town, or away on business, turned out, and together with those from Windsor and one member of the Chatham Branch, formula lang like of members and one and one member of the Chatham branch, formed a long file of members and occupied considerable space in the church.

This turnout has caused the objects and principles of the C. M. B. A. to be temperance, mainly through the efforts of Bishop Ireland, and for this it deserves great credit. That its efforts have been successful is mainly due to the fact that the Irish, who form the bulk of the communicants, are among the most thrifty and respectable citizens of the State."

Pope's congratulations to the Czar on his coronation, should so time his arrival in Moscow as to avoid the necessity of being present in the city during the time of the religious ceremonial. The Papal Nuncio could not, of course, take part in the religious services of the Schismatic Church, and therefore it was more courteous and more charitable to delay his arrival in Moscow until the evening of the day of the coronation.
