

Petroleum Man, Woman and Hog Found in a Cave in Palau County.

Southern Ky., February 14.—A sensation has been created in the curiosity-loving circles of this place over the discovery of a petrified hog and man in a cave near this place.

The cave is about one mile from the railroad. The mouth of the cave has the appearance of an ordinary sink-hole, and the man who has the landhold to investigate this underground world must accommodate himself to a considerable shower of water and mud.

AROUND THE WORLD.

The gas explosion in the Tottenham Court Road, London, some months ago, cost the company £200,000, or $100,000, in damages.

A gravestone in a Woonsocket cemetery bears, besides the ordinary inscription, the words: "This stone is not paid for," cut in by the irate maker.

—Von Dulow, the pianist, has become director of the orchestra of the Duke of Wellington, and is giving Sunday concerts, illustrative of Beethoven.

The bullet which was shot into Billy Carter, of Chicago, Illinois, did not hurt him much, but he would ignore it, and he turned to bed.

An English authority says that reform in much of the machinery of the world is ten as respects safety, speed and punctuality.

Some Springfield boys formed a secret society for the removal of metal knobs from their doors. All the ornamental brass knobs were mislaid from the courts house and found in a junkyard.

—An Italian offered to bet a German in St. Louis $10 that the latter could not drink a quart of beer in one sitting.

—Stock depressions in Oregon are becoming so annoying to herdsmen that a movement is on foot for mutual protection. It is thought that a stock association should be organized for the arrest and conviction of any person stealing or altering brands.

—A lady who aims at being the best dressed woman in the city is reported to have had a dress of white embroidered velvet, covered with crystal trimming and pearl fringe.

JACOB'S COURTSHIP.

—"I have made up my mind, Jacob," said the head waiter, "I am going to marry the girl."

"I don't think of any change in her for a long while. She was very busy—there were always sundry orders coming in, and sundry dresses of the customers hanging by the pegs around the room, and she always received me with a smile of welcome."
