Mr. Robinson apepared a few minutes later and t he had fired the shots he could not have covered the distance. Mr. Robinson had no gun with him.

Miles Hunter, who was with Mr. Rob ason on the trip, mentioned by previous witness, said that they had no guns. On a hunting trip about Sept. 24 he used up all the cartridges he had and had to get a new supply. He had cartridge cases exactly similar to the one put in evidence.

Joseph Smith swore that on this hunting trip Mr. Robinson threw a cartridge case on the shore of the lake. Witness believed the case in evidence was exactly the same as had been thrown away and afterward picked up by Braithwaite: This was about Sept. 24. Mr. Robinson had shot a moose and five partridges. Witness also reiterated that this was Mr. Robinson's only hunting trip.

Cross-examined by Mr. Gregory, witness said he was positive Robinson threw the cartridge case on the shore. Witness felt sure Robinson had done no other shooting than of the one

Cross-examined by Mr. Gregory witness said Mr. and Mrs. Robinson were around the camp in the afternoon, and he swore they could not be away an hour without his knowing it.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Mrs. Arthur Robinson was the first itness called. She told of their arrival at the camp on June 29, 1908. Witnes declared she never were a white guernsey or jersey in the woods. One of her lady friends wore one once in 1903, but was forbidden to wear it again as it was said to frighten moose. In August, 1908, Mr. Robinson was burnt in an explosion of gasoline and was confined to the camp until early in September. He then came to Fredericton and went to Montreal, returning after the season opened. Before his accident he went fishing to Pole Stream on three occasions. THE PLAINTIFF'S CASE. Mr. Gregory, for the plaintiff, argued that the province owed a great deal to Mr. Braithwaite for his past work in bringing sportsmen to this province. He is now practically made a defendant in this case. He felt that the game laws had been violated and he had brought all the evidence he could to bring these violations to light and the violators to justice, Several guides said such treatment as Braithwaite has received in this. He would not press charges against Mr. Robinson as he admitted there was no evidence against him. His evidence and that of others showed this conclusively. Mr. Braitnwaite did not wish to push the charges. Yet he brought evidence to show that moose had been killed and shots had been fired out of season and Mr. Braithwaite was justified, and it was his duty to bring charges as he did. There was no malice, he declared.
