Aerial Game Laws.
Modern inventions begot new manners and new laws to govern the changed customs. The man who nets snipe whistles seems about to be outclassed by the airplane operator who gathers in wild birds by means of a net. So, apparently, think the sportsmen in one locality of Canada. As a consequence, an association of them are sponsoring a request to the Government to prohibit the flights of airplanes over marsh lands, and the use of flying machines in pursuit, shooting, or netting of wild fowl. When warned of anything approaching, these birds do not seek cover, but rise immediately into the air and obviously become open at once to the ingenious contrivances of airplane pilots. Rapid-firing guns, and nettings attached beneath the body of the machines, would seem to be easy means of possible extermination of the birds, and this it is sought to avoid.

Prairie Dogs.
The little ground squirrels, or prairie dogs, of the western plains have their homes 12 or 15 feet underground, with corridors and rooms. In some of these chambers the squirrels' family lives, and in others food and various materials are stored.

Shorthorns Took First.
In the block test at the last fat stock show, held at Buenos Aires by the Rural Society of Argentina, animals of the Shorthorn breed were first and third in a class of 13, while second and third places were taken by an Angus cross and a pure-bred Angus respectively.

Doctors in Holland are experimenting with radium water as a medicinal beverage.
