PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause in congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and he proves it by his Headache Tablets. That tablet called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coarse blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

Read the following testimonial from a man you all know:

Portland, Feb. 8, 1908
Mr. W. A. Singleton.
Dear Sir—In the winter of 1905 I was laid up with La Grippe and unable to get relief from several other patent medicines. I was convinced by several of my neighbors to try St. Regis Lumbago Cure, and I can thankfully say it was the first thing that gave me immediate relief. Since that time I have never been without it in my house, and cannot speak too highly of it, especially for children, as it will break up a cold at once. I have also found it a sure cure for lame back.

You are at liberty to use my name for reference if you wish to publish it for the benefit of others. I am yours truly,
C. A. VANKOUGHNET.

If your dealer does not keep this medicine kindly ask him to order same for you as any sized order will be filled promptly.

CRAWLED THREE MILES.

Wonderful Pluck of Injured Man on Mountainside in Wales.

After the terrible experience of spending two nights on the side of a mountain in the Snowdonian range with a broken leg, a young German doctor, named Hahn, lies in a weak condition at Pen-y-wryd Hotel.

Dr. Hahn, who hails from Berlin, left the Pen-y-wryd Hotel, Llanberis, on a recent Sunday, saying he intended to climb one of the heights in the vicinity, but he did not inform anybody as to the place he meant to reach, nor did he engage a guide. He did not return that night, and his absence did not attract a great deal of notice; but as he did not put in an appearance on the following day a search party was formed, and on Tuesday morning the missing man was found in a state of extreme exhaustion.

HUNTING GULLS' EGGS.

Englishwoman Thinks It Fun to Be Lovers Over High Cliffs.

A visitor at a seaside resort in England recently espied on the face of a cliff 400 feet high the figure of a woman. She was seated in a kind of chair arrangement suspended by ropes from above, and she carried a pointed stick to sweep her hair. She was dressed in a simple, but elegant, outfit, and she was surrounded by a number of gulls, evidently much disturbed by her presence, and every now and then one of them would swoop down upon her and strike at her savagely with wing or beak.

The young woman turned out to be a Miss Leslie, who lived in the neighborhood and thought it amusing to have herself lowered over the edge of precipitous cliffs in order that she might collect gulls' eggs for breakfast.

"She'll break her neck one of these fine days," the fishermen said, but Miss Leslie declared that there was no occasion for alarm.

"There is very little danger," she said, "provided you keep your head, look out for dislodged falling stones and see that the ropes are strong and that they are not cut by sharp edges of rocks. It is desirable to keep one's feet swinging over some lofty precipice, to peep into the cunning places in which the eggs are laid and to hear the gulls screaming around one."

When Miss Leslie has no one to help her in the egg hunting she lowers the ropes to a stake or bush and lowers herself over the cliff. She sometimes takes young birds from the nests and has found that they make interesting pets.

Switzerland Leads.

Switzerland takes the lead in the public ownership of telegraph and telephone services, having 10,548 miles of combined wires extending to all the railway stations and nearly every town and village in the country. It also has more telephones in use in proportion to the inhabitants than any other country in Europe. Great Britain has one telephone to 116 persons; Germany one to 112; France one to 301; Russia one to 2,028, and Switzerland one to 1,000. An average of three long-distance calls a day, and the yearly charge of $12.45 would not bring the total for both services for a year above $24. Low charges and profits run together as the net earnings last year were $364,000 on gross receipts amounting to $3,000,000. It is instructive to note that the United States had at the close of 1907, 3,289,000 telephones in use, or one for every twenty-two inhabitants. No less than 78,940 telephones were added during 1907, and the number nearly doubled during 1906 and 1907 over that at the end of 1905.

A Relic of the Penal Days.

These are few places in Ireland where it has been customary for many centuries to ring the curfew—the village of Tynan in County Armagh and Derry. The Derry curfew is a relic of the days when no Roman Catholic was allowed to live inside the walls of Derry, although the citizens were glad enough to have them in the daytime as laborers and customers. At sundown, however, the curfew bell was rung and every Roman Catholic who was then in town had to leave with all haste, even if it meant sleeping in the open on the bleak hills which surround the city.

Rabbits vs. Mutton in Australia.

Up to the beginning of December, says a writer in Australia, 918,000 crates of rabbits, totaling about 23,000 tons, had been received in London during 1907, and the market for mutton was never so bad as it is now. It is the fostering of the rabbit industry which dominates the pastoral industry. Between these two there can be no compromise. It is sheep or rabbits.

The man who will keep a prairie never has to make one.

ANIMALS PROMOTE CHARITY.

King Edward Devotes Turf Winnings For Benefit of Poor.

The King of Sweden recently told a story of King Edward's charitable proclivities. Just before the race for the Derby which the King's horse Diamond Jubilee carried off, His Royal Highness, as he then was, was watching the horses proceeding to starting post. Suddenly turning to the King of Sweden, who was with him, he said: "I am most specially anxious to win to-day."

"Why so?" inquired the King. "Because," was the answer, "I always give the princess whatever amount my success happens to bring me. With the stake money of the last Derby I won the princess provided 1,700 poor boys with a complete outfit—clothes, under-linen, boots and all necessities—and stamped on each article was, 'From your friend the Prince.'"

Others besides the King have devoted great sums won on the turf to charity. The Duchess of Portland some time ago presented to her husband an unlucky fall, the result of a Russian leather, heavily mottled in silver. On the mountings are engraved the names of all the races won by that extraordinary racer Donovan. In 1899 Donovan won the Derby and the St. Leger, the Newmarket, the Stakes and many other distinguished races. The total sum won by Donovan during his racing career amounted to £70,000, and the whole of this large fortune the duke gave to his wife for the purpose of providing scholarships for the widows of the duke's tenants, and a cottage hospital for the neighborhood.

Baron Hirsch was another great benefactor whose winnings went to charity. As it is known he has been on left almost the whole of his millions toward establishing colonies for Jews. But during his lifetime he spent more than £20,000 of turf winnings on charity.

All the winnings of La Fleche, amounting in all to £24,858, was devoted to various charities. Dogs have done much for charity. The record in this direction is held by Tim, the dog which was bred which belonged to Mr. Burt, a Great Western Inspector at Paddington. For more than ten years before his death Tim trotted from train to train, inviting donations to the Railway Dogs' Club, and he has received £200. The total of his collection exceeded £300. The dog always knew when royalties were about to travel. He would sit down on the edge of the carpet bag and he would receive down upon her and strike at her savagely with wing or beak.

Other animals, too, have indubitably contributed to the cause of charity. At Amersham, in Buckinghamshire, the superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school adopted a novel expedient for raising money for the Congo Mission. He distributed among his scholars a number of young rabbits. These they had to fatten at home, and when fit for market the creatures were sold, the proceeds going to the mission.

At Frieath, near Marlow, a pig raised no less than £7 for charitable purposes. It was raffled for and then given back by the winner and sold again. In Lanchester a local butcher presented a handsome rooster pig to a bazaar, on condition that a church member got up in frockcoat and silk hat, should drive it through the village. The procession caused great amusement, and a collection realized more than £3.

Heroes of the Sea.

The committee of Lloyd's have decided to bestow the silver medal of the Society of Lloyd's on Mr. John F. Welch, second officer of the steamship Bermudian, a young Canadian, only 21, and the bronze medal on each of the five men who accompanied him, as an honorary acknowledgment of their extraordinary exertions in contributing to the saving of life in the case of the American schooner Henry L. Newhall. On Feb. 2, about 400 miles from Sandy Hook, the Bermudian fell in with the Mary L. Newhall, which had lost her rudder and was in a sinking condition. A terrific sea was running, and Captain Fraser, of the Bermudian, decided that it was impossible to lower a boat. The same night Mr. Welch volunteered to try and reach the schooner, if five of the crew would also volunteer. Five black West Indian British subjects came forward. A boat was lowered with great difficulty, and an attempted rescue was made, which, however, failed, and the rescuing crew only reached their ship again after an exciting experience. The Bermudian stood by the sinking schooner all night, and at daybreak Mr. Welch repeated his attempt, succeeded in reaching the schooner, and taking off six of her crew. He and his boat's crew made a second trip, and rescued five more men, thus saving eleven lives, the entire crew of the schooner, which subsequently sank.

Old Scottish Sanctuary.

The old sanctuary of the Abbey and Palace of Holyrood House, to quote the full description, was an interesting institution. The debtor was free from arrest during the week. On entering the sanctuary he enrolled himself in a formal manner and obtained a room—that is, if he could pay for it. There was a public-house within the boundaries, and it was not uncommon to see the debtor in the inn playing dominoes and his creditors standing looking in at the window with wistful eyes. The debtor was safe, and he knew it, and the face of the creditor told the same tale. Sunday being a dies non, the debtor could leave his sanctuary and visit his family, but he had to be careful to get back to Holyrood on Sunday night. Sometimes a debtor had the temerity to leave on a week day, but he did so at his peril.

Let us show you how easy it is to shake the "Hecla" Furnace

The "Hecla" has four grate bars. Each one can be shaken separately. This means that you can shake down just the part of the fire where the ashes are, without disturbing the rest of the coals.

With "Hecla" Triangular Grate Bars, you can get rid of all the ashes—save coal—keep the fire bright and clean—and do away with sifting ashes, because no fresh coal or half-burnt clinkers come down in the ashpan.

We would be pleased to talk over the furnace question with you and show you, part by part, just why the "Hecla" Furnace is the best for you to buy. Come in any time.
