BATH BREEZES

Dominion Day, the 57th anniversary of the birth of the Dominion of Canada, was quietly observed. No ball games or other amusements were held, so most of those who could, spent the day at fishing or other out-of-town excursions.

C. E. L. Jarvis of the insurance brokerage firm of C. E. L. Jarvis & Sons, St. John, passed through town by motor on Saturday enroute to Edmundston.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Gordon, Church street, on Monday, June 24, a son.

Mr. McCluskey, C. N. R. station agent at Jumper, was a Sunday visitor in town. Mr. Higgins also of Jumper accompanied him.

Dr. Dunham, dentist, and G. W. Montgomery, lawyer, have opened offices in the Simms building, Lower Main Street.

Charles F. Gallagher of the firm of C. F. Gallagher & Co., who was in Boston in connection with a law suit between the Porter-Hatfield-Gallagher Co., Ltd., and the United Fruit Co., which is being fought in the Boston courts, arrived home last week.

On Monday of this week a very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. John the Evangelist church, when Geneva, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Doudy became the bride of Charles F. Gallagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gallagher. The bride was attended by Miss Kathleen Gallagher and the groom was supported by Mr. Daniel McKinnon. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents at Moose Mountain where a sumptuous repast was served. In the evening a dance was held at the home of the groom's parents in Jolysville.

C. S. Lortie spent several days of last week in Boston, returning home on Wednesday.

Miss Maine Gallagher who was visiting relatives in Washburn, Me., has returned home.

Misses Genevieve and Patricia Bohan accompanied by Chipman Tompkins, motored to Hamilton on Dominion Day.

E. K. Daggett, who for the past year has been principal of the Bath school, left on Tuesday for his home in Albany, P. E. I. motoring as far as Fredericton with Dr. T. Rankin Smith. Several from here left on Tuesday for Florenceville to write the Provincial Normal Entrance examinations.

J. H. Chaff, Woodstock, was in town on Tuesday.

Peter Brennan, Edward McSheffery and Patrick Craine formed a fishing party to the Miramichi on Tuesday. Cut worms are reported to be destroying the grain fields in this and other sections of the county. In some sections fields which were sown with oats have had to be reploughed and buckwheat sown instead.

Watson: "Did your watch stop when it dropped on the floor?"
Jotson: "Of course it did. Did you think it would go through it?"

IN LIGHTER VEIN

The doctor's little girl had sung for her mother's guests.

"How well you sing," said one. "I suppose you'll be a soprano when you grow up?"

"No," said the little girl. "I'm going to be a great big bella donna."

"From fifteen to twenty my boys all knew a sight more'n I did," said the old farmer; "at twenty-five they knew as much as their dad; at thirty they'd ask my advice now an' again; but now the eldest of them's forty and they do be thinking that the old man knows a thing or two worth knowin'."

"I suppose, Henry," said the old gentleman to his new son-in-law, "that you are aware the cheque for $50,000 I put among your wedding presents was merely for effect."

"Oh, yes," responded the cheerful Henry. "And the effect was excellent. The bank cashed it this morning without a word."

"Walter, I would so love that brace let."

"I can't afford to buy it for you, dear."

"If you could you would, wouldn't you, darling?"

"No, sweetheart."

"Oh, why?"

"It isn't good enough for you, dear."

"Oh, you darling!"

A Southern Negro minister who was given to the use of big words and complicated discourse was waited upon by the church committee and told that his style of preaching was not all that could be desired.

"Don't I ravish and spuffly?" inquired the minister.

"Yes, yo' done argify and spuffly," responded a member of the committee, "but yo' don't show wherein."

The well-known music-hall magnate, Mr. Charles Gulliver, is fond of telling the story of a conversation he overheard one day during a rehearsal at one of his theatres.

"The members of the orchestra were having a discussion on speed."

"I'm the fastest man in the world," said the drummer, who had been quietly listening to the arguments of the others.

"How do you make that out?" they inquired.

"Time flies doesn't it?" he said.

"So they say," came the reply.

"Well," went on the drummer, "I beat time."

The teacher in a public school was trying to demonstrate a simple experiment in the generation of steam.

"What have I in my hand?" she asked.

"A tin can," came the answer.

"Very true, is the can an animate or inanimate object?"

"Inanimate."

"Exactly. Now, can any little boy or girl tell me how, with this can, it is possible to generate a surprising amount of speed and power almost beyond control?"

One little boy raised his head.
"You may answer, Carter?"
"Tie it to a dog's tail."

At the little church the negro minister announced that a certain brother had retired to rest the night before without locking the door of his chicken house and on rising in the morning had found that all his fowls had disappeared.

"I don't want to be personal," he added, "but I had my suspicions as to who stole dem chickens. If the man who took dem will not put any money in the box when it is passed round I shall know if dose suspicions are right or not."

Everyone present contributed.
"Now, brethren," announced the minister, "I don't want your dinner spoilt by wonderin' where dat brudder lives who don't lock his chickens up at night. Dat brudder don't exist, mah friends; he was a parable for the purpose of finance."

A city young woman went out to teach a country school. The class in arithmetic was before her. She said: "Now, children, if there are ten sheep on one side of a wall and one jumps over, how many sheep will be left?"

Then up piped a little tow-headed daughter of a farmer:

"No sheep, teacher; no sheep."

"Oh! oh!" cried the city young woman, reproachfully. If there were ten sheep on one side of the wall and one sheep jumped over, nine sheep would be left. Don't you see that?"

"No! no! no!" persisted the child. "If one sheep jumped over all the others would jump after. My father keeps sheep."

Then, seeing the puzzled look in the teacher's face, the little tow-head explained apologetically: "You know mathematics, but I know sheep."

Affable Visitor—"Well, and do you do a good deed every day, Tommy?"

Tommy—"Yes, sir. Yesterday I visited my aunt and she was glad."

Today I came back home again, and she was glad again!"

The young couple had just moved into a new house, and they stood surveying the situation.

"I wish," said she, "that this carpet was velvet."

"And I," responded the hubby, "wish it was down."

A continental immigrant, who had just been married, asked the parson what was the fee.

"Well," was the reply, "there is no fixed fee; pay what you think it is worth."

Whereupon the bridegroom handed him a quarter.

The parson took it, glanced at the bridegroom, and handed back ten cents change.

A clergyman had occasion to preach to the inmates of an insane hospital. During his sermon he noticed that one of the patients paid the closest attention, his eyes riveted upon the preacher's face, his body bent eagerly forward. Such interest was most flattering. After the service, the speaker noticed that the man spoke to the superintendent, so as soon as possible the preacher inquired:

"Didn't that man speak to you about my sermon?"

"Yes."

"Would you mind telling me what he said?"

The superintendent tried to side-step, but the preacher insisted.

"Well," he said at last, "what the man said was, 'Just think, he's out and I'm in.'"

Beauty Flies For Speckled Beauties

above pretty girl, one of a party of five, has just come in from a flying trip to a nearby lake and is justly proud of her string of speckled beauties.

St. Jovite in the mountains of Northern Quebec is famous as a summer and winter resort. Winter time they use a wingless aeroplane for ski toying, but in summer they put the wings and a body on and use it for fishing and swimming. Behind almost every mountain of the Laurentians there is a lake or two—so the plane comes in handy for jumping over the hills to chase the sporting bass and trout to their lairs. The
