On one of his visits the doctor said he found his patient in a highly excitable state, despite the fact that his temperature was only 99 degrees. He feared Thaw might harm himself. Thaw did not respond to treatment, even opiates failing, and Dr. Wells said he decided that he will be the decided that the visit. Thaw might harm himself. Inaw did not respond to treatment, even opiates failing, and Dr. Wells said he decided to send the young man to the Devonshire Nursing Association's hospital. On another visit he found Thaw dancing about the room like a madman. He reported his case at the hospital as a cute mania. "Mr. Thaw at the hospital had a per-

"Mr. Thaw at the hospital had a perfectly enormous room," continued Dr. Wells, "but he complained that he did not have room to breathe. He also complained of the terrific heat, and demanded that twenty tons of ice be placed in his room. He did not like the nurse assigned to him, and wanted me to employ a whole staff of nurses so he might find one he liked. When he was in bed the patient's eyes glared into vacancy. The acute attack at the hospital continued six days. He had no fever at any time. His talk was largely incoherent. There was no evidence of alcoholism."

"During your entire attendance on Mr. Thaw in 1899, doctor, what conclusion did you reach?" asked Mr. Littleton.

On cross-examination by District Attorney Jerome, Dr. Wells said that the time he treated Thaw in 1899 he had made no particular study of mental diseases, and had but little experience eases, and had but little experience along that line.

Miss Lillian MacBride, of London, a professional nurse as she described hereelf, followed Dr. Wells. She was called in to attend Thaw as nurse in his rooms in London in July, 1899. Thaw was very restless and excited and his talk was incoherent.

"What was the appearance of his face?" asked Mr. Littleton. "Oh. very wild, indeed," replied the witness. Although he had no temper, Thaw complained of the frightful heat. There vas no evidence of alcoholism.

The third of the foreign witnesses to be called was Dr. Frederick J. Burton-Brown. of London, formerly of the India medical service, and for a time practicing psysician in Rome. Dr. Burton-Brown constantly referred to himself as a "medical man" rather than a doctor. It was in March, 1902, that the witness was called to attend Thaw in Rome. He diagnosed the case os one of simple or mild mania.

Dr. Smith-Ely Jointe, of Columbian University, was sworn, and it was agreed that the question should be read to him and Drs. Charles G. Wagner, of Binghampton, N. Y., and Britton D. Evaus, of Morris Plains, N. J., at the same

THROWN FROM RIG.

Alfred Hardimann, Pioneer Hotel, was taken to the City Hospital on Saturday suffering with sundry cuts and bruises about his face and body sustained in a fall from his wagon. The horse he was driving ran away on Barton street, and he and another man who was with him were thrown from the rig. Hardimann was most seriously injured.

A GOOD MEETING.

The attendance surpassed expectation.

T. S. Morris presided, and H. A. Martin led the congregational singing. Two selections were rendered by the Y. M. C.

A. Quartette, and Gilbert Hutton gave a sacred cornet solo.

Rev. F. W. Hollinrake gave an address entitled "Solwing Wild Oats," il-lustrated with stereopticon views. First appeared a young man bidding bood-bye to his aged father and mother at the appeared a young man bidding bood-bye to his aged father and mother at the cottage gate, and promising to heed their loving and pious injunctions. Next appeared the same youth, beset with temptation to intoxication, gambling, etc., and weakly yielding. Through successive scenes he reappeared, falling into lower and grosser forms of evil-doing, till at last came the startling denouement—"pay day." In this scene was depicted the devil examining the pages of a large volume, and finding the various culprits cowering before him. On the wall was the Scripture text, "The wages of sin is death."

As each scene was thrown on the screen, the lecturer gave an eloquent description of the phase of real life which it typified, coupled with the most forcible comment and warning. At the close he appealed for signatures to the pledge of total abstinence, and quite a number of names were secured.

SAY HE IS BETTER.

To-day is the time for Sgt.-Major Prentice to resume his duties after his sick leave, but he had not showed up this afternoon. Chief Smith denies that the major had sent in his resignation and said he expected that he would be back at work some time to-day, as he was greatly improved since he left for his special vacation.

FIRST SEVERE CASE OF THE OUTBREAK.

From the head of Ferguson avenue to Wentworth street. Engineer Barrow was inclined to favor an automatic system at the head of Wentworth street, but it is pointed out that there would be danger of this freezing or causing other trouble. The latest plan is to pump the water from the high level station along the mountain top to Wentworth street. It would mean a larger initiative expenditure, but it is only a question of time when it will have to be done. The city could then charge rates on the lots passed by the main. It is thought that it would result in a lot of new buildings going up.

The City Council's programme to-night contains little to provoke discussion. A lively time was promised over the Board of Works' recommendation that t be authorized to engage an independent negree to engage an independent engineer to prepare specifications and do other work in connection with the power scheme, but Chairman Sweeney and some of the members of that committee got together at noon and decided to amend their report by advising that a committee be appointed consisting of two members each from the Board of Works, Fire and Water Savers, the chairman of Finance Water, Sewers, the chairman of Finance and the Mayor. The resolution will also ask that authority be granted to engage an engineer to draw up specifications only.

Sunday Night Series Resamed In Association Hall.

The temperance mass meetings hither to held in Bennett's Theatre were resumed last evening in Association Hall.

The attendance surpassed expectation. T. S. Morris presided, and H. A. Martin led the congregational singing. Two selections were rendered by the Y. M. C. An effort will be made at the City

A ratepayer called the Mayor up at noon to-day protested against the way work was being delayed on the Home for incurables. He said that only one man and his son were being employed on the plastering work, which was being done so slowly that it kept the carpenters back. This indignant ratepayer thought that in these hard times carpenters and plasters who are walking the street were entitled to work on this civic job. The Mayor called up Stewart & Wittom, the architects, who promised to investigate.

Mayor Stewart says he will stand by the plan prepared by City Clerk Kent for the division of the city into four wards. He thinks it is the fairest divisions viewed from a non-political view no matter what any one may say. Fireman Cole, of the Central Station, who has been connected with the fire department since 1890, has handed his resignation to Chief TenEyck.

resignation to Chief TenFyck.

The street railway has a gang of men at work cleaning up the ruins of the car sheds at Locke and Herkimer street, destroyed by fire recently, and property owners in that district are afraid that the company intends building there again. A petition is being circulated, urging the company not to build car sheeks on the site, and is being largely signed. Members of the congregation of St. Joseph's Church were instrumental in starting the petition, although property owners in the district are equally interested and say their property would increase in value fifty per cent. with the car sheds out of there. It is doubtful if the company would go to the expense of building there again as the intention is to erect large car sheds in the east end of the city and do away with the Locke street, Sanford avenue and Stuart street car barns. This would increase the cost of operating expenses to some extent, but would facilitate the handling of the cars.

Chairman Sweeney says the men em-sheds are burning up a lot of old wood that would help to keep a lot of poor people in the city warm. He intends asking Colonel Gibson to permit poor people to cart this wood away.

Instead of dividing the city into four wards the Tory aldermen will support a move to make the number eight, making an additional ward in part of No. 7, and reducing the number of aldermen to two from each ward. They figure that by this move they would be sure of four aldermen from what is now No. 7 ward.

Moore & Davis have notified the city that if Gilkinson street is continued through the property owned by the Harvey estate as proposed the owners will look for compensation.

Lt. Col. Logie, on behalf of the Ninety-First Highlanders, has applied to the city for the usual grant of $250.

The Sewers Committee met Robert Hobson, of the Hamilton Steel and Iron Company, on Saturday at noon to discuss the proposition to sell the company part of the strip of land, adjoining its property, purchased for the new annex sewer site. Another session was held at noon to-day. Mr. Hobson said his company equild not entertain the city's request that it fill in Lottridge's inlet, because it sold all the slag to Doolittle & Wilcox. The committee decided to award the tender for filling in the inlet at 37½ cents a yard.

The city will take no action in the request to have Slater street opened through. Ald, McLaren and Allan waited on Donald Smith, a property owner, who holds the key to the situation, and he refused to give any of his land. Secretary Brennan pointed out that there was a two-foot reserve there, so that, although two streets would be within two feet of each other there would be two feet of each other there would be practically a blind street. The committee will take no action

THE WEATHER.

FORECASTS.-Fair and very cold today and to-night. Tuesday, turning milder again, with light local snow falls. A severe storm, which passed over the lake region yesterday, is now centre near Montreal, and another disturbance near Montreal, and another disturbance of minor importance covers the western provinces. Heavy snow has fallen over Ontario and Quebee, and light snow falls have occurred in the western provinces. The cold wave now spreading into On-tario and Quebec promises to be of short

JOHN T'S OPINION.

Medicine Hat's Publicity Officer Talk About Power.

John T. Hall, Publicity Commis ioner of Medicine Hat, and formerly Assessment Commissioner of Hamilton, who is here trying to induce Eastern capitalists to help build up the western town, offered to bet Mayor Stewart a silk hat to-day that the Hydro Power Commission would never supply Hamilton with power at the figures it has quoted. He says it will fall on the cost of distribution, as estimated. The cheapest power Hamilton could get, he says, is natural gas at 25 cents a thousand feet, if it were sure of the supply. This would figure out, he explains, at about $12 per horse power.
