

THE HAMILTON TIMES

FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 1908.

HON. MR. GRAHAM IS SOUND.

The Government is moving to carry out its policy of extending the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission to telegraphs and telephones, and yesterday Hon. Mr. Graham, Minister of Railways, moved the second reading of the bill. The occasion was seized upon by Mr. Lennox, M. P., who is a fanatic in the advocacy of public ownership and operation, to air his hobby, and to question Hon. Mr. Graham on the subject. That gentleman gave him but little encouragement. Canada's experience with Government ownership of railways was not such as to encourage observant statesmen to extend it. The Government was strongly impressed with the idea that private ownership, with public control, would secure to the people a good service at fair rates, and that was the end to be desired.

It is gratifying to find at the head of the railway department a man who has not been inculcated with the socialist virus, who has not fallen into the idolatry of public officials, and who has used his powers of observation with the good effect indicated by Hon. Mr. Graham's words. The less we have of officialdom in the business operations of the people, the better it will be for the country, and the more effectively will economy be served. If Government will undertake the proper discharge of its own functions—the duty of governing, enforcing the just laws made for the benefit of all the people, and providing for the arbitration of all differences arising between them—the people of Canada may be trusted to do the business which naturally falls to them as individuals and associations, with greater economy and efficiency than Government, even at its purest and best, can hope to do, and without the manifold evils and stunting influences of Socialism.

STARVING DEMAND.

We hear a good deal in Canada from the organs of the Cotton Combine about dulness in the trade, and attempts are made to convince the Canadian people that they should become reconciled to lower wages for the cotton workers, and higher tariff which means higher prices for the consumers. But similar complaints are heard from the home of King Cotton. In the south, the cotton manufacturers are pursuing a policy calculated to produce artificial scarcity of goods and lower wages for the operatives. The trade is thoroughly organized; it knows what it wants, and it does not purpose to allow the interests of the consumers or of the cotton mill hands to stand in the way of obtaining it. A great meeting of State cotton manufacturers was held at Charlotte, N. C., the other day, when it was decided to continue the policy of curtailment until Sept. 1 at least. The cotton mill men's policy was expressed by the president as being a determination "to let demand get good and hungry before feeding it." In view of the apparent adoption of a similar policy in Canada, the appointment of W. L. MacKenzie King to inquire into the conditions of the cotton mill industry in Canada, is fully justified. The interests of the consumers and operatives deserve some consideration.

ELECTRICITY BY ELECTRICIANS.

The meeting of the Canadian Electrical Association in Toronto has been productive of some very informing discussions. Papers read during the meeting dealt with some phases of electrical supply in Switzerland, especially electrical development by the city of Geneva. Electrical science has made great progress in the republic, and the information given in these papers was very interesting. It will be a surprise to many of those Canadians who are accustomed to expect from municipal operation or management extraordinarily low figures for small users of power to learn that in Geneva, where small users are the rule, the price for 1 horse-power is $64 a year. In some other places it is $29 a year for 100 horse-power on an 11-hour basis. There is not, in these figures, any reason to expect the extravagant reductions to small consumers which some people affect to look for from the Hydro-Electric scheme.

Yesterday Mr. James Bicknell discussed "Electrical Franchises," dealing with the question of control of the streets and highways. He very naturally took issue with that heresy common to so many narrow minds in municipal life and expressed in their assumption that the municipalities "own" the highways. Mr. Bicknell pointed out that the streets and highways are, as a recent High Court judgment declares, "the King's highways," the property of the nation, and they are not under the absolute control either of the municipality or of the Province which organizes it, and delegates it authority. He declares that the Dominion Parliament has the right to confer upon any properly incorporated electrical company certain rights over the streets and highways of any municipality in Canada. By this means, any effort on the part of a municipal council or a local legislature to hold up unjustly or improperly a railway, telegraph, telephone, power or other undertaking which may be for the advantage of the country at large, can be effectually checkmated. Hitherto, the exercise of the powers of the Dominion in this connection has been infrequent, but the assumptions of Toronto, for instance, in regard to such matters, when the Radial Railway Bill was under discussion, and the growing arrogance of certain municipal "statesmen," show that the power is one that exists for the benefit of the country.

Mr. Bicknell has given some study to the Hydro-Electric scheme, and the burdens which it will impose upon the municipalities entering it. After considering the obligations which the Hydro contract would place upon them, Mr. Bicknell concluded:

"If these provisions are carried out in good faith by the municipalities it is possible that no municipality will be able to afford to supply light, heat or power at as low a rate as an electrical company efficiently and economically managed."

It is greatly to be regretted that the discussions of the practical men of the Electrical Association could not have been heard by every alderman in Hamilton—indeed by every municipal ownership fanatic in the country. We doubt not that even His Worship Mayor Stewart might have learned something to his enlightenment.

ATTACK ON DR. SHEARER.

The Hamilton Herald charges Rev. Dr. Shearer with acting the part of a "politician" at the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. It alleges that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was alarmed about the Pringle exploitation of alleged Yukon immorality in official life, and "wrote to Dr. Shearer suggesting that it would be best to have the matter dealt with as quietly as possible so that public opinion might not be aroused." Then it proceeds to intimate that Rev. Dr. Shearer steered the Assembly by the Pringle charges by a resolution complimenting him and Dr. Grant, his fellow missionary, and expressing satisfaction at the improved Yukon conditions. And it thus impeaches Rev. Dr. Shearer's honesty as a moral teacher:

The moral reform agent of the Presbyterian Church may not be a present-day Elijah like Rev. Dr. Pringle, the heroic missionary who has the courage to denounce not only sin but the sinners in high places. But in worldly wisdom and subtle diplomacy the missionary from the Yukon is as a child to a giant in comparison with the smooth, enigmatic Dr. Shearer.

The Herald's insinuation is a vile one, and is made on sheer assumption and without a scintilla of evidence. And it is not the first time that it has flung coarse insults at that gentleman, and, as it does now, reflected upon the Church of which he is an officer.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The G. T. P. is to do a share of the grain transportation this year between Saskatoon and Winnipeg. The work of "enlarging the spout" is progressing rapidly.

The report of Dr. Millman, Supreme Physician of the I. O. F., states that 17.58 per cent. of the deaths in the order are due to tuberculosis. That is a reminder of the prevalence of the great white plague. And the proportion is not excessive, as statistics go.

The power monopoly organ has not yet corrected the false statement with which it introduced that power contract—that the Cataract Company stipulated for a yearly peak load, while the Hydro offer called for a monthly peak load system of measurement. Why, think you?

The Toronto Mail and Empire chuckles gleefully over the fact that Whitney's false statement of the situation as to that bond guarantee prevented MacKay from offering opposition. But Whitney's deceit in that matter is hardly an accomplishment of which decent men or journals would feel like boasting.

In the choice of Taft for Presidential candidate on the first ballot the Republican convention has met the expectations of the politically wise. Perhaps the greatest surprise of the vote was the poor showing made by Hughes, Cannon and Knox. Fairbanks was never in the running according to the prophets, but from Hughes a better showing than a vote of 63 was looked for.

The Sarnia Canadian (Tory) chorlines over the dismissal of the suit of the Florence Mining Co. against the Government, and affects to view it as a refutation of the charge of "claim jumping" against Whitney. Yet, Mr. Justice Riddell expressed himself that under the law the commandment "Thou shalt not steal" could not be enforced against the Ontario Government. Is the Canadian really proud of a legal victory so won?

Some people got an idea from the statements of the Ontario Ministers and the wording of the Power Act that the Hydro-Electric scheme was controlled by the Commission under the statutes. That seems to be erroneous. We gather now, from the Toronto Telegram, that the entire scheme and its future is managed from that paper's sanctum, and that it will deal hardly with this city if it does not be duly submissive.

The shrinkage in United States foreign trade continues, indicating the prevalence of business depression. The imports for May were $84,231,443, compared with $126,512,106 in May last year. The value of the exports for May was $113,307,223, compared with $134,759,508 in the same month last year. Such figures, taken in connection with the home-ward rush of steerage passengers to Europe, indicate to a prevailing degree, depression from which we in Canada are comparatively exempt.

Now arises George E. Foster to try to condemn the Government for taking its action, so widely asked for and so generally commended as wise and timely, in helping the banks, in the period of financial stringency, to move the crops! George is not only a "squaller," but his attenuated soul is steeped in gall and bitterness, and mental strabismus makes it impossible for him to see good in anything that comes from the Government. How he must hate the sunlight, the birds and the flowers in a land that enjoys Liberal rule!

In his article on municipal ownership Mr. Edward Harris pointed out the advantages of the German over the Canadian system of municipal government. Preaching from the same text, the Boston Transcript admits the superiority of the Burgomaster over the American Mayor; and in many cities on this continent there is a disposition to try some other system than that in vogue at present.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

Get after him, Mayor Stewart! Make him admit that there are exceptions—at least one exception—to prove the rule. The idea of unfavorably comparing you with any German burgomaster! Such an insult is not to be tamely endured.

Foster emitted a wall yesterday over the mention in some Liberal campaign literature of the land scandals and his connection with the Foresters' funds. How thin-skinned he is! Liberals need no better campaign literature, as far as he is concerned, than the sworn admissions of George E. Foster and the other witnesses examined on the subjects mentioned. Yet while he squeals this way, Tory literature slanders Mr. Jackson, of Selkirk, by circulating broadcast a false statement (since withdrawn) made by Mr. Foster himself in Parliament! And what else has he been doing most of the session but slandering opponents from behind the protection of Parliamentary privilege?

Notwithstanding the fact that it was admitted in the House the other day by the partisans of the Manitoba voters' lists that they were not prepared by the judges, the chief Tory organ reiterates the falsehood that they are. Its cunning deceit is displayed in its allegation that "the Manitoba lists are made up by the judges." In no place is it so stated by the Manitoba statute. On the contrary, the registration clerks, named by the Government, do this work of compiling, and all that is left for the judge (and it is not even required that it be a judge, merely an appointee of the Government), is to hear disputed cases. It is even left in the power of these partisan registration clerks to say whether personal registration shall be required, or not.

The junior local Tory organ, in its eagerness to serve the machine, credits the Civil Service Bill introduced the other day to Borden's Halifax platform. It says:

The Laurier Government could not afford to allow the Opposition to enjoy the great advantage of going to the country as the promoter of this great reform, with the party in power tied up to the discredited and obsolete patronage system. So the Government has deposed Mr. Borden of his advantage and forestalled him by appropriating his civil service reform policy.

Our contemporary has all the rashness of the zealot. If it had taken time to look back a little further it might not have made its absurd claim. Moreover, it would have found historical evidence that Tory promises of civil service reform, even to introducing a bill in the House, was no indication that the party would concede it in law.

Limbs Below the Knees Were Raw—Feet Too Swollen to Get Shoes On—Sleep Completely Broken by Intense Itching and Burning—Well in Two Days and Says That

CUTICURA IS AMONG HIS HOUSEHOLD GODS

"God bless the man who first compounded Cuticura. Some two months ago I had a burning, itching, and raw skin on my limbs below my knees. They came to look like raw beefsteak, all red, and no one knew how they were cured. One morning I remembered that I had a bit of Cuticura and tried it. From the moment it touched me the itching was gone and I have not felt a bit of it since. The swelling went down and in two days I had my shoes on and was about as usual. I only wish I had used the Cuticura Remedies in the first of my troubles. They would have saved me two or three weeks of intense suffering. During that time I did not sleep an hour at a time, but was up applying such remedies as I had. Henceforth the Cuticura Remedies will be among my household gods, rest assured. George B. Farley, 60 South State St., Concord, N. H., May 14, 1907."

SENTENCED TO DEATH

Hill Goes to Electric Chair Week of July 26th.

Little Valley, June 19.—Murder in the first degree and sentence of death at Auburn Prison, the week commencing July 26th, was the verdict and sentence in the Percy Hill murder case, which terminated to-night. The jury was charged by Justice Pond and retired at 4.25, returning just one hour later.

The clerk asked the jury if they had agreed on a verdict and they reported "Yes," all eyes turned toward the prisoner. Except for a slight flushing of the face there was not the least sign of anxiety or excitement, and when the foreman answered "Guilty as charged," Hill never stirred, apparently utterly indifferent. Justice Pond at once asked the prisoner to come forward for sentence. As he stood before the bar his face paled slightly, but he answered the questions regarding his birth and habits, in a perfectly steady voice and replied to the judge that he had nothing to say as to why sentence should not be pronounced.

As Judge Pond sentenced him to death, Hill never moved a muscle, and was by far the coolest man in the court room. As sentence was pronounced, Mrs. Hancock, mother of the murdered girl, sobbed aloud, and was taken from the court room. Sheriff Ames will take Hill to Auburn Friday morning.
